NEWTON Y. MERMEN WIN

Defeat Providence and Boston This Week by Decisive Scores

Providence came to Newton last Friday and swam the local Y swimmers a very interesting meet. Newton won, 38 to 30. The feature race of the evening was between Lawton of Providence, who holds a national record in the 100 yards, and Millard of Newton, who previously held a record in the same event. Millard took the lead and was never headed, winning by several feet. Brown of Newton also lowered Lawton's colors in the 20-yard dash.

Summary of events as follows:
Relay—Won by Providence, Lease, Saunders, Glavin, Lawton. Time, 1:28.3.

20 yards—Won by Brown of Newton; second, Lawton of Providence; third, Lease of Providence. Time, 9.4.

40 yards—Won by Lawton of Providence; second, Brown of Newton; third, Noonan of Newton. Time, 20-2.5.

40-yard back stroke—Won by Jaquith of Newton; second, Noonan of Newton; third, Lease of Providence. Time, 27-2.5.

100 yards—Won by Millard of Newton; Lawton of Providence, second; third, Noonan of Newton. Time, 1-23.5.

200 yards—Won by Millard of Newton; second, Barnes of Newton; third, Saunders of Providence. Time, 2-52.

Plunge for Providence, won by Oatman of Providence, national Y champion; second, Weston of Providence; third, Wallace of Newton. All went 60 feet, but Oatman made best time.

Fancy diving—Won by Gedney of Newton; second, Glavin of Providence; third, Vuilleumier of Newton.

Wednesday night the Boston swimming team was entertained by the Newton swimmers, the local mermen winning, 42 to 35. This was the most interesting meet of the season, both teams alternating in taking the lead, with Newton finally pulling away.

The dashes were all very close at the finish, with Boston taking first place in four swimming events, and first in the plunge. Millard and Noonan won easily in the 100 yards. The 220-yard swim was a nip and tuck affair from start to finish between Greene, an old Tech swimmer, of Boston, and Rubin of Newton, holder of a N. E. record in that event. The latter finished with a good sprint, winning first place.

Cedney of Newton won the fancy dive contest by a wide margin. The relay was a thriller, Newton winning by a few scant feet. To date, the local swimmers have competed in nine meets and have yet to taste defeat.

Not only has the team won all dual meets, but also won the Two State Y.

championship contest at Worcester in January, thereby winning the Two State title.

Arrangements are pending for meets with other strong teams to be announced later.

Following is the summary of events:
100-yard relay—Won by Newton; Noonan, Bangs, Brown, Millard. Time, 1-30.

20-yard dash—Won by Lagar of Boston; second, Brown of Newton; third, Carnie of Boston. Time, 9-4.

40-yard dash—Won by Algar of Boston; second, Noonan of Newton; third, Brown of Newton. Time, 21-1.5.

40-yard Breast—Won by Bob Muir of Boston; second, Millard of Newton; third, Jaquith of Newton. Time, 27 seconds.

40-yard back stroke—Won by Ed Muir of Boston; second, Jaquith of Newton; third, Noonan of Newton. Time, 26 seconds.

100 yard swim—Won by Millard of Newton; second, Noonan of Newton; third, Barnes of Newton. Time, 1:05.

220-yard swim—Won by Rubin of Newton; second, Greene of Boston; third, Moore of Boston. Time, 2:45-2.5.

Fancy diving—Won by Gedney of Newton; second, Levis of Boston; third, Greene of Boston.

Plunge for distance—Won by Brodney of Boston; second, Jaquith of Newton; third, Wallace of Newton.

Next Wednesday night the Newton Y will enter two relay teams in the open meet in the Brookline tank.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. BOYS' DEPARTMENT NOTES

On Sunday afternoon, at the Y. M. C. A., Edward Eagan, former captain of Yale boxing team, champion lightweight of the A. E. F., gave a very inspirational talk to over 100 boys. He emphasized the value of clean living, and brought out clearly that it paid to stick to school, that an education was priceless and a big asset in later years. The boys gave Mr. Eagan a great hand at the conclusion of his talk. The Y. M. C. A. Boys' Orchestra furnished the music. Mr. Wm. R. Ferry had charge of the singing, and Mr. H. W. Bascom, General Secretary, acted as chairman of the meeting.

On Saturday morning one of the Boys' Bible classes of the Immanuel Baptist Church gave a moving picture exhibition at the Y. M. C. A. to raise their quota towards buying a new piano for the Sunday School.

Rev. Charles W. Brashares was the speaker at the Hi-Y Club meeting on Thursday evening.

LEGION IS GRATEFUL

To the Editor of the Graphic:

On behalf of the Newton Post, No. 48, American Legion, I desire to thank the good people of Newton who so generously contributed to our Daisy Drive, which enabled us to raise over four hundred dollars for the benefit of disabled and destitute service men and their families.

In these days of business depression, three years after the war, some people forget that today men who served faithfully in the army and navy, are now fighting hard to regain their health and position in life. The people who told them that they would never be forgotten must remember, because these service men believed them, and we must not break faith.

The Newton Post is committed to assist these men all that they can. In order to do this we must have a welfare fund much larger than the one we have, so should any of the Newton people feel that they can spare any money to go toward this fund, it will be gratefully appreciated and acknowledged.

We who have been through the war know what it means, and we have dedicated our lives and energies to relieve the sufferings of those who are less fortunate. Surely those to whom the war now seems a bad dream, and who were not touched personally, can stand with us in our efforts.

Newton Post, No. 48, American Legion, is grateful.

HENRY D. CORMERAIS, Commander.

WEST NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

Dr. Archibald T. Davidson, director of Harvard Glee Club, and Mr. Thomas W. Surette, well known musical educator, visited the West Centre branch at the Peirce School, West Newton, and the South Centre branch at the Hyde School, Newton Highlands, February 18th.

Special orchestra, ensemble, piano, violin and voice work was shown, as well as the regular teaching activities inspected.

The West Newton Music School invites all who are interested to a recital to be given by the pupils of the North branch at Stearns School Auditorium, Nonantum, on the evening of March 7th, at 7.45 P. M.

WEST NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

The West Newton Music School is preparing for a concert to be given in Players' Hall on March 24th by the Harvard Glee Club for the benefit of the school.

CHURCH NOTICE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, Players' Hall, Washington Street, West Newton. Sunday service, 10:45 A. M. Subject of lesson—sermon: "Man." Sunday School, 10:45 A. M. Testimonial meeting Wednesday 8 P. M.

NORUMBEGA S. S. INSTITUTE

The second in the series of Sub-District Teacher-Training Institutes, conducted by the Norumbega District Sunday School Association, will take place on Saturday, March 4, from 2:30 to 9 P. M., in the Methodist Church at the Newton Upper Falls. All Sunday School teachers from Newton Highlands, Waban, Upper Falls and Needham are invited and urged to attend. The Needham church teachers are included, though not technically members of the Norumbega District, because so much interest has been shown by Needham people in the Norumbega District activities and Community School.

In the afternoon, there will be two sections at the institute, one for Beginners, Primary and Junior Department teachers, with Mrs. Harry W. Pitts, of Newton, on the subject "How and When to tell stories"; and one for the Intermediate and Senior Department teachers on "Methods for the Young People's Division of the Sunday School." The latter institute will be under the general leadership of Mr. Lawton, the new General Secretary of the Massachusetts State Sunday School Association. Mr. Lawton came to this state about two weeks ago, to take up his new duties. He has recently made a special study and investigation of young people's work in the local church. Miss Lullona Barker, Executive Secretary of the Norumbega District, and Miss Margaret Ripley of Watertown, will assist Mr. Lawton in this conference on young people's methods.

The evening session will be somewhat differently divided. The teachers in the Beginners', of Kindergarten, Department will meet for a conference from 7 to 9 P. M., with Mrs. E. L. Colman of Newton Highlands. The Primary Department teachers will hear about "Expressional Activities" from Miss Frieda A. Rathburn of Newton Centre. The Junior department teachers will meet with Mrs. Frank P. Davidson of Auburndale, to discuss "Class lessons, Notebooks, and Handwork for Juniors." The Intermediate and Senior Departments, together forming what is called the Young People's Division, will again have the opportunity to discuss methods for their classes under the leadership of Mr. Lawton.

Mr. J. E. Tully of the Upper Falls will preside at the Assembly period which opens the Conference at 2:30 P. M. Mr. Appleton P. Williams will preside at the Assembly from 5 to 6 P. M., at which time Miss Lullona Barker will give a talk on "A Birdseye View of the Church School," and Mr. R. O. Walter will lead a discussion on "How to Secure Home Study."

The supper at 6 o'clock will be a basket lunch supper, each person to bring his own. Coffee or cocoa will be served by the local committee.

This institute and others at strategic points in the District are being run for the purpose of reaching especially those teachers who do not attend the Community School at Newtonville.

CHIEF MITCHELL RETIRES

Chief of Police Frederick M. Mitchell retired from office on Tuesday after a service of over 31 years in the Newton Police Department. Mr. Mitchell was appointed to the force April 7, 1890, and became chief in 1904 under the administration of Mayor Weed. He will receive half pay for the remainder of his life.

Mayor Childs, in anticipation of Chief Mitchell's retirement announced on Saturday the promotion of Lieut. Bernard F. Burke to the position of Captain of Police, at a salary of $2500. The office of captain has been vacant since several years ago. Capt. Burke has been a member of the department for 33 years, having been appointed Dec. 16, 1889. He became a sergeant Oct. 30, 1903, and a lieutenant April 26, 1917.

The promotion was also announced on Tuesday of Sergeant Michael T. Hughes to the office of lieutenant, in place of Burke, promoted. Lieut. Hughes became a member of the force Jan. 1, 1906, and was made a sergeant in May, 1917. In place of Sergeant Hughes, the Mayor also announces the promotion of Patrolman Bernard A. Meehan, who has been a member of the department since 1913.

BOYNTON LODGE, I. O. O. F. L.

Boynton Lodge celebrated their 32nd anniversary on Tuesday, Feb. 28th, in Denison Hall, Newtonville. They began at noon by having a lunch at which Mrs. Mary Newstead was presented with a beautiful china dish in appreciation of her work done for the sewing circle.

The regular business meeting was held in the afternoon. At six P. M., a large number sat down to a sumptuous banquet at which one of the charter members of the lodge, Mrs. May E. Clark, formerly of West Newton was toastmistress.

There were many witty toasts given to members and responded to in a most fitting manner which caused no little merriment. This was followed by an entertainment—a play, "The Six Kleptomaniacs," which was cleverly put on. Those in the cast were Lou Sennot, Mary Newstead, Phoebe Little, Edith O'Brien, Leona Woodward, Florence Thompson, Eva Smith, Edith Kellogg, Marguerite Reed, Ruth Stoddard. This was followed with vocal solos by Miss Kinsman and whistling solos by Mrs. Burgess of Watertown. After the entertainment dancing was enjoyed and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

GIRL SCOUTS MID-WINTER RALLY

Golden Eaglet and Medal of Merit Awarded Miss Mary Marshall

The Newton Girl Scouts held their mid-winter Rally on Saturday Feb. 25 in the Gymnasium of the Newton High School. About 250 Scouts attended the Rally, all of them taking some active part in it, and there was an audience of about 400 guests.

Promptly at 2:30 First Call was played on the Bugles and the girls lined up outside of the gymnasium ready to enter when Assembly was played three minutes later. The Troops made a fine showing as they entered and marched around the Hall, led by a part of the Bugle and Drum Corps. After the Troops had lined up at either end of the hall, the colors were played, the pledge of allegiance to the Flag given, the Star Spangled Banner sung and the Girl Scout Promise and Laws repeated. Then the Captains gave their reports and the Troop competitions began.

The competition drill was the first event. Each Troop had a picked Patrol in this drill. The girls marched splendidly and were repeatedly applauded as they executed some order particularly well. Troop 4, the Waban Troop, won first place in this event and Troop 5, West Newton, was second.

The next event was a Table Setting Relay Race. This was rather of a novel feature and proved most interesting as well as exciting. Each Troop had a Relay team lined up at one end of the Hall while at the other end small circles were drawn with chalk on the floor to represent dollies. Beside these circles the articles to be used in setting a table were placed and when the whistle was blown the relay race began, each girl placing one article in the circle as her turn came. These places were set according to the rules given in the Girl Scout hand book and when the race was over 8 very perfectly set places were seen. Troop 7, Upper Falls, won this event, and Troop 5 again won second place.

The other three competitive events were a Knot Relay race won by Troop 8, Auburndale, with Troop 3, Newton Centre, coming in second, the Semaphore Relay race, Troop 8 again winning and Troop 2, the Newton Troop second, and the Obstacle race, which was won by Troop 6, the Nonantum Troop, and Troop 7 second.

The judges for these events were Miss Dorothy Dean, Director of the Metropolitan Division Girl Scouts, Miss Gladys Commander, Field Captain and also an English Girl Guide, Mrs. Charles Stevens, Director of the Cambridge Girl Scouts and Miss Marion Clapp, Captain.

Besides these competitions, two of the troops gave short exhibitions. Troop 5 gave a fencing drill with short practice contest in which Katherine Leatherbee came out the winner. Troop 2 erected a lean-to. This lean-to was built of pine branches and bows and when it was finished it was a most perfect little camp. Each girl had her own particular part of it to do and the whole thing was completed in nine minutes. A small camp fire added to the scene and the Troop all gathered around it and sang the Girl Scout "Goodnight Song." It was a most interesting as well as a beautifully done demonstration and was a very appropriate event which came immediately after an announcement made by the Chairman of the Camp Committee. Mrs. Loring Marshall had the pleasure of telling the Girls that they have been presented with a very beautiful piece of land for a Camp, on Nonesuch pond in Weston. The kind friend who has given them this land is also going to give them a Camp House. The Newton Girl Scouts have been looking forward to a time when they hoped they might have a camp of their own and this announcement was met with cheers and wild applause.

The most important event of the afternoon was the presentation of the Medal of Merit and the Golden Eaglet to Mary Marshall of Troop 2. The Golden Eaglet is the highest award a Girl Scout may win and as such is very carefully guarded and only comparatively few girls ever obtain it. Before a girl may have it she must be a First Class Scout, have the Medal of Merit and have earned 21 Merit Badges. Before this presentation was made, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, First Deputy Commissioner for the Newton Girl Scouts introduced Mrs. James J. Storow, of Boston, who is the first Vice-President of the National Council Girl Scouts. Mrs. Storow said a few words about the Golden Eaglet, what it stands for and how it is won, and then Troop 2 marched forward and Captain Redfield presented Scout Mary Marshall to Mrs. Frank Day, Commissioner of the Newton Girl Scouts, as a candidate for the Medal of Merit and the Gold Eaglet. She in turn presented her to Miss Ruth Stevens, Massachusetts Director Girl Scouts, who awarded her the Medal of Merit and to Mrs. Storow, who pinned the Golden Eaglet on her uniform. As Scout Marshall went back to her place and Troop 2 marched back to its position, cheer after cheer was given and the place rang with Scout Marshall's name.

The Merit Badges won by Scout Mary Marshall are: Athlete, Child Nurse, Citizen, Cook, Dancer, Dressmaker, Economist, First Aid, Health Guardian, Health Winner, Home Maker, Home Nurse, Hostess, Laundry, Bird Hunter, Needlewoman, Music, Flower Finder, Scribe, Pathfinder, Pioneer, Milliner, Swimmer, 23 of them, and representing a large variety of subjects. A Merit Badge is not awarded until a Scout has passed

LENTEN SERMONS

A series of five Lenten sermons on the Bible is announced to be given in the Unitarian Church of Newton Centre by the minister, Rev. George Lawrence Parker. The first one will be given on Sunday, March 5, and the topics until Palm Sunday are as follows: March 5, "The Origin and Nature of the Bible." March 12, "The Revelation and Inspiration of the Bible." March 19, "The Bible and Its Influence on English Literature." March 26, "The Bible in English and American History." April 2, "The Bible in the Life of Today." The aim of these sermons, given in the brief space allotted to sermons, will be not to exhaust the topics, but to suggest why and how the thoughtful people of today may find stimulus and help in the use of this greatest of all libraries.
The sermons will seek to be more than mere periods of the study-class type, and each one will close with an appeal based on the Christian devotional point of view. The modern scholarship which has made the Bible a more wonderful book than ever before should be a great aid to devout spiritual living. The winter Bible class, which has been helpful to a fortnightly meetings until early April, but will confine itself to different ground than that covered by the Sunday morning sermons in Lent.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—Wit and humor will flow copiously for two weeks at the Hollis Street Theatre, Boston, beginning Monday, March 6, on which date Charles Dillingham will present the famous Irish Players from the Abbey Theatre, Dublin, in Lennox Robinson's widely applauded comedy, "The White-headed Boy." The company, headed by Maire O'Neill, Arthur Sinclair, and Sydney Morgan, is the same engaged in the original production at the Abbey, December 13, 1916, and the same which delighted large audiences for many weeks in New York. The story of the play has to do with the sacrifices of a large family of brothers and sisters that their mother's white-headed boy (Irish for favorite son) may be exalted to superior social condition. His failure to appreciate or profit by these sacrifices begets revolt which results in a sequence of complications which keep the audience in a high state of merriment from the initial rise of the curtain until its final fall. No finer vehicle for the reintroduction of the Irish Players could have been selected, and there is no part so small that it is not in the hands of an artist.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The work of the General Court sloved up considerably this week, although the number of hearings increased. It is evident that with maintenance of the committees fail to find time to take action on matters previously heard. The great fault of legislative committees, that of beginning hearings many minutes late, and lack of attendance of members of the committees, still continues. Judiciary, one of the most influential committees, with a membership of 15, heard a most important matter this week with but five members present.

Mr. Armand C. Bang of Newton has heard this week on his bill for compulsory insurance for all automobiles under conditions similar to the present Workmen's Compensation act. Mr.
Bang explained his bill in detail, and it was opposed by insurance and automobile interests. Mr. Bang has worked out a clever plan to cover this most needed legislation, and his bill is well worth careful consideration.
Dr. Charles Painter of Newton was heard this week on his bill to stiffen up the requirements for the practice of medicine in this Commonwealth. His bill requires four years of High School, four years of medical school, two years of liberal arts, and one year as hospital interne. This bill is favored by the Newton Hospital staff.

Last Week

This week has been rather quiet on Beacon Hill, the holiday cutting into the work to some extent.

The principal interest centered around the hearings given on the maternity benefit bill, including the important problem of accepting the provisions of the Sheppard-Towner bill for federal aid for this class of social welfare work. The hearings attracted a large audience, filling the auditorium, and many being women.
It was noted that, contrary to the usual attitude, this audience seemed distinctly hostile to the whole matter, particularly to the acceptance of the Sheppard-Towner act. The writer, as a member of the Social Welfare Committee in 1920, made a study of the maternity benefit problem, and was instrumental in drafting for that committee a bill which looked to some form of prenatal assistance.
The present form of the matter is,
however, an entirely different problem, and there would seem to be no question but what Massachusetts would open a Pandora box of trouble if it accepted federal aid and the incidental supervision for this class of work. We are informed that ten states, including Massachusetts, pay something like 73 per cent. of the income tax and would receive back something like 24 per cent. of the appropriations for this work. It is high time a stop was made to the tendency to turn to the federal government for action in many matters which might just as well be left to the states and to municipalities.

Next week Tuesday a hearing will be given on the bill of Mr. A. C. Bang relating to the requirement of compulsory liability insurance on all automobiles.
This has been a troublesome question for some time; everyone admits that something should be done, but everyone has some objections to whatever method is proposed. Mr.
Bang seems to have the right idea and the right bill to handle the matter.

The House Committee on Ways and Means had a deserved compliment paid them this week, when they reported the annual budget, amounting to over $44,500,000, and which was passed by the House with but one change, the addition of an item of $10,000 for improvement of Bunker Hill monument. The committee received the Governor's figures by about $200,000. The writer suggested to the committee the advisability of saving about $70,000 by reducing the pay of the representatives from $1,500 to $1,200 a session, but the committee believed a saving could be better made by holding biennial sessions rather than by reducing the salary. As a matter of fact, there would be no objection on the part of the taxpayers to doing both.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—It is generally conceded in and out of theatrical circles that George Arliss in "The Green Goddess" now playing at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, is easily the leading attraction of the season.
This applies not only to box office receipts but public favor. The fifth week of the engagement broke the records of the four preceding, amply demonstrating the potent charm which the Oriental play of adventure is exercising over local theatregoers.

Judging by present appearances Mr.
Arliss could remain in Boston indefinitely but the plans for the London appearance in the Fall must be carried out and the star who has played steadily in the Archer production for fifteen months, winter and summer, must take a brief vacation before settling for the English metropolises.

Local critics in their reviews and re-reviews of the William Archer play have unanimously agreed that Mr.
Arliss's impersonation of the cunning Raja of Rukh is far and away the most skillful of his impersonations, not even excepting his celebrated Disraeli.

SHUBERT THEATRE—Only the coming six days (beginning Monday, March 6) remain of the engagement of McIntyre and Heath in the musical comedy "Red Pepper" at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, and, as it has been found impossible to extend the run of "Red Pepper" any longer the company will end its wonderfully successful stay in Boston next Saturday night, March 11. The two comedians regret very much the previous bookings prevent them from playing any other New England city outside of Boston for the entire company and production will go directly from here to Washington, and then play the principal cities to the Pacific Coast,
"Red Pepper" is in two acts and seven scenes with the action laid at Havana, Arizona, and Georgia. The Messrs.
Shubert have given "Red Pepper" an elaborate scenic production while the costuming is up to the usual standard set by these astute producers.

THE TELEPHONE REPORT

In the annual report of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company for 1921, President M. B. Jones (a resident of Newton Centre), for the directors, reports that the year 1921 was marked by extreme activity in the construction of plant for the furnishing of service by the company and a construction program larger by several million dollars than had ever before attempted on the part of the company was carried out, gross new construction for the year amounting to $15,111,900.

The company is undertaking to meet the demand for service as rapidly as possible, and has made provision for a construction program in 1922 that will involve an expenditure exceeding $20,000,000. That program is as large as the company can hope to carry to a successful conclusion.

The number of new telephone stations installed during the year was 154,086, and the net gain of the company in stations was 50,027. The company would have installed a larger number of stations than it did had it not been for the severe storm in November, which seriously curtailed ordinary installation operation during the entire month of December, and caused a loss of about $1,500,000, which will be paid for out of depreciation reserves of the company.

The book value of the plant is $123,- 393,125.07. The operating revenues during the year were $36,702,496.99, the operating expenses were $27,320,- 287.89, and the net addition to surplus was $522,524.17. The total number of company-owned, connecting and miscellaneous stations on December 31, 1921, was 941,358; the number of miles of wire was 2,104,603; the number of central offices was 478, and the employees numbered 18,746.

tends a cordial invitation to all citizens who are interested in the closer federation of social and civic activities of this city.

HULL—MARSHALL

The wedding of Miss Hortense Carver Marshall, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Marshall, of Win-demere road, Auburndale, and Mr.
Edward Seabrook Hull, of Washington, D. C., and Charleston, S. C., took place Monday afternoon at the Second Church in West Newton, which was decorated with palms, lilies, azaleas and smilax for the occasion.

The ceremony, which took place at 4 o'clock, was performed by Rev. William Eaton of Cambridge, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore white satin with rose pink lace trimming, and a veil of tulle while her bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Norma Marshall, was maid of honor, and was gown in flame color, with sapphire beads. The bridesmaids, the Misses Marion Lynch of Philadelphia and Charleston, S. C.; Eleanor Bissell of West Newton, and Norma Prentice of Brookline, wore georgette crepe gowns in rainbow colors, and carried bouquets of sweet peas. The bridal party also included a group of flower girls, Helen and Lois Hall, Thelma and Ruth Robins and Barbara Heath.

The best man was Mr. T. R. Nelson of Staunton, Va., and the guests were seated by these ushers, Messrs.
Thomas Marshall of Auburndale, and Rodman Kilham and Franklyn Dowling of Allston.

A largely attended reception followed at the Brae Burn Country Club, Mr. and Mrs. Hull being assisted in receiving their many friends by Mr.
and Mrs. P. H. Whalley and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Marshall.

The groom is a graduate of Andover and the bride attended the Ely School at Greenwich, Conn., and Chevy Chase, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull will make their future home in Washington, D. C.

RED CROSS DEMONSTRATION

Do you know that every swimmer can learn to carry another person in the water, that you can quickly learn to revive an apparently drowned person, and that your local Red Cross can teach you how and is anxious to have the chance? Wherever there is water there is need for this knowledge.

Come to the Newton Y.M.C.A. swimming pool Thursday evening, March 9th, at 8 P. M., to see the Red Cross demonstration of Life Saving methods.

WILBUR THEATRE—Never before in the history of Boston theatricals has any play aroused as much discussion, or elicited as much praise from the theatregoers as Franz Molnar's fantastic comedy of life, "Lilium," now in its fifth week at the Shubert-Wilbur Theatre, Boston.

Presented by an excellent cast including Joseph Schildkraut and Eva LeGallienne, "Lilium" has broken all records for attendance at the Wilbur and gives every evidence of playing to capacity audiences during the few remaining weeks of its local engagement.

"Lilium" is not a class play. It is not a deep, sombre study for heavy thinkers; but just a gripping, charming dramatic story, abounding with comedy moments that draw hearty laughs from the auditor. There is never a serious moment that does not find its comedy relief.

During the current engagement the night curtains are announced for 8 P. M., and the matinees Wednesday and Saturday at 2:10 P. M.

TREMONT THEATRE—The dramatic season at the Tremont Theatre will be renewed Monday evening, March 6th, when David Belasco presents Lionel Atwill in "The Grand Duke," a Parisian comedy by Sacha Guitry. This engagement is positively limited to two weeks. A new Belasco attraction is perforce of great interest to Boston theatregoers, and this interest is heightened by the good reports proceeding from the presentation of this production through its long and highly successful run in New York from whence it comes intact directly to this city.

In Paris where the play was presented with the playwright-actor, Guitry, in the cast, it was generally hailed as one of his most delightful contributions to theatrical literature.
In the translating, Achmed Abdullah,
the noted American man of letters, has happily preserved the spirit of the original, a fact much commended by New York reviewers.

ANNUAL MEETING CHANNING RELIGIOUS SOCIETY

The annual meeting of Channing Religious Society followed on Tuesday evening a delicious supper served by a committee of which Mrs. Ralph C.
Henry was chairman. Mr. Philip Nichols was chosen moderator. Mr. Nichols gave a brief summary of the work of the Standing committee of the church during the past year and presented a very optimistic outlook for the future of the society. A report from Channing Alliance was given by Mrs. Edward M. Moore, the secretary.
Mr. Ralph W. Angier reported on conditions in the Sunday School. Rev.
Chester A. Drummond reviewed his three-months' service and outlined his vision for the future.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Standing committee, Dr. Edward Melhus, Frank H.
Burt, Ralph W. Angier, Stephen W.
Holmes, Mrs. Sidney Peterson; clerk, Herbert Stebbins; treasurer and collector, Robert D. Holt.

The Boys' Club of the Church of the Messiah gave an entertainment in the Parish Hall last Tuesday evening. The entertainer was Mr. F. H. Cartwright, magician, who did many clever tricks, and was enjoyed by all. A social hour followed the entertainment.

The Civics committee of the Auburndale Women's Club are holding a whist party this afternoon, the proceeds of which will be used to buy prizes to be given to the scholars who give the best essays on "Civics in School, on Street and in the Home." Light refreshments will be served.
The "Study Club" met at the home of Mrs. A. Livingston, 1754 Washington street. Solos were enjoyed by Mrs. Mae Steeper Ruggles, and one of her pupils, Edith Frost. Miss Mildred Metcalf gave several readings. The entertainment was most pleasing. Mr. R. C. Bridgman gave a very interesting talk on "Limitation of the Disarmament Conference."

The regular monthly supper was held at the Methodist Parish House last Tuesday night, over two hundred being present. The evening was spent in just a rousing good social way—the young men's and young women's club singing and giving their club yells. During the evening flashlight pictures were taken. Rev. E. E. Harper is having stereopticon slides made of these pictures which he will use next Sunday evening with which to illustrate his sermon.

The Mothers' Association met at the Parish Hall of the Methodist Church with the president, Mrs. C. B. Conn, presiding. After the opening exercises Mrs. E. E. Harper sang in a most charming way several children's songs which were much appreciated. The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. G. S. Butters, who gave a most interesting talk on "Appreciation" and "Inspiration." Tea was served and a social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. Julia P. Emery, of 218 Melrose street, passed away very suddenly Monday, February 27th. She was born in Springfield, Mass., but for the past thirteen years had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Middleton. She was a most beloved woman, with a cheery disposition, shedding sunshine wherever she went. She was 71 years old. Besides her daughter, she leaves one son, Geo. Emery of Springfield. Rev. G. S. Butters and Rev. E. E. Harper officiated at the funeral service Wednesday P. M. Mrs. F. W. Cook of Somerville sang, and the interment was in Springfield.

GIRL SCOUTS

Newton High School

The Review, the Classical High School magazine, issued a very beautiful memorial number in memory of Mr. Enoch C. Adams. Each teacher contributed some item of tribute as well as many students.
The Club of the Classical High School held its weekly assembly on Wednesday.
The Seniors of the Technical High School held their last dancing assembly on Thursday, February 23, in the school library. There were special dances given for prizes and refreshments were served.
Mrs. Rascher, who conducted the dancing class of Technical Seniors will give dancing lessons in the Vocational School in the near future.
The Vocational School held a party in the library on Friday, February 24.
Mr. Knowlton of the Lincoln School, New York, spoke at a recent meeting of the Junior High School course. His subject was on Social Studies, and was very interesting.
The Debating Team is making preparations for their coming debate with Somerville.

The Review is giving an original dance in the "Gym" today. It is called the Feminine Follies. There should be a great deal of amusement and fun in this dance.
The Seniors of the Technical High School held the first rehearsals for their play on Thursday.
Mr. Harris, principal of the Lowell High School, visited the Technical High School on Feb. 28. He came to obtain suggestions for a lunch-room library for the new building which is being erected in Lowell.

Miss Robinson, of the English department in the Technical High School, returned recently after a short absence due to illness.
The Seniors of the Technical High School are holding a dance, for Seniors only, in the library today.

Students have more or less trouble in finding a subject for the theme. Miss Dowd, of the Technical High School, has appointed a committee of three of her Junior English pupils to help the other members of the class obtain subjects. This committee meets in the library and gathers good material and lists it. Once a week they remain in the library for a while after school and give the students who wish help some ideas and material.

The Hyde School
A one-act play, entitled, "Despatches for Washington," was presented by pupils from the two Sixth Grades in celebration of Washington's Birthday. Catherine Carrick read the cast of characters. Those who took part were Lillian Pumphrey, Eleanor Savage, Helen Reay, Katherine Locke, Charles Wagner, Frederick A. Goddard, John McJennett, and Linzee Gifford. The play was well coached by Miss Tabor. The stage looked unusually pretty, being so decorated by Miss Grant as to form a splendid setting for a play of Revolutionary days. Miss Tabor and Miss Grant are both to be commended for its success.

The orchestra played two selections under the leadership of Miss Grossman.
An automatic receiving teller has been installed, which is being well patronized by the children. Many a spare penny, nickel, dime, or quarter, now finds its way to the bank instead of to the candy man. It is hoped that it will do much toward the encouragement of thrift.

Miss Gertrude C. Abbott, who was ill last week, has resumed her duties.
Miss Henrietta Cowen was obliged to be absent from school on Monday last, but was able to return on Tuesday.

The Junior Girls' Club held its preliminary rehearsal for a minstrel comedy to be given April 21st at the Stearns School Center. The committee in charge of arrangements for this performance includes Ida Melman, Frances Hurley, Alice Mooney, and Dorothy Connolly.

Mr. Sears from the Y.M.C.A. gave a very interesting talk to the boys and girls of the upper grades on the Americanization of Edward Bok. He gave a brief outline on the life of a remarkable boy, who through his own industry and diligence became one of the noted American editors.

The Newton Girls' Club presented the musical comedy, "Patsy," on Monday and Tuesday of this week, under the personal direction of Arthur Doherty. The principal characters were taken by Anna Morrison, Mary Delaney, Ruth Stubbett, Julia Fahey, Bella Roberge, May Fisher, Louise Morrell, Mary Casey, Catherine Sullivan, Anna Oliphant and Irene Melman. The cast included, Antoinette La Croix, Gertrude Bradley, Grace Stubbett, Margaret McLean, Catherine McDonald, Harriet Trainor, Mary O'Connell, Helen Williams, Donald Masse, Laura Casteau, Ardella Dath, Mary Morrison, Cicelia Considine, Doris Welch, Helen Shea, Margaret Oliphant, Lena Veno, Florence Donette, Amelia Roy were members of the chorus.

The musical numbers in the two acts were by Donald Masse, Ruth Stubbett, Gertrude Perry, Irene Melman, Mary Delaney, and Bella Roberge. The Rose of Japan was given as an interlude with Amelia Roy and Lena Veno as the roses, and Laura Casteau, Antoinette La Croix, Louise Morrell, Mary Shea, Ardella Dath, Bella Roberge, Mary O'Connell, Alice Kinchla, Cicelia Considine, Doris Welch, Helen Shea, Margaret Oliphant, Grace Stubbett, Margaret Oliphant, Helen Shea, as the petals.

The March meeting of the Newton Centre School Association will be held next Thursday evening in the school hall. The program includes selections by the school orchestra, a health play by pupils of the school, music by Mrs. Allen Hubbard and Mrs. E. B. Stratton, and an address by Dr. Payson Smith, Mass. Commissioner of Education. Candy will be on sale to aid the printing press fund.

As an aid to the thrift movement, the Newton Centre Savings Bank has installed an Automatic Receiving Teller on the first floor of the Mason. It has places for contributions of one cent, a nickel, a dime, and twenty-five cents.

It works very simply. The coin is put on a slide, a plug is pushed in, and a stamp or receipt appears. There are cards provided to which the stamps are affixed.

At the first meeting of the Bird Club of Room 3 on Friday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, Geo. Burrows; vice-president, Dorothy Rising; and secretary, Blanche Ward.
The postponed valentine party for the three eighth grades is to be given this afternoon.

Lasell

Dr. G. M. Winslow gave an illustrated lecture on Porto Rico before the school on Saturday morning.

On Saturday evening a large party enjoyed George Arliss in "The Green Goddess."

Rev. Charles M. Arbutk of Newton Centre gave a very helpful and inspiring talk at the vesper services on Sunday afternoon.

The Works of White is to be the speaker at the lecture hour on Saturday morning.
Mrs. Charles F. Towne left on Tuesday afternoon for Daytona, Florida, where she will stay for several weeks.

Miss Lillian M. Packard our former registrar is giving a course of Lenten Bible Studies on The Home at Bethany, a study in hospitality; The Charm of the Impossible; The Friend of the Poor; and The Door With the Master, beginning March 8 at the home of Mrs. Butters, Newton, and on March 9 at the home of Mrs. I. S. Dillingham, Auburndale.

"LET'S GET MARRIED"
This is the interesting title of the play which the Newton Grade Teachers will present at Players Hall on March 15th to increase its Sick Benefit Fund. The Club is having the assistance of members of the Schoolmasters Club and desires the co-operation of the public in raising money for this cause. All interested in our schools and their teachers will be interested in the effort of the elementary teaching body to assist in a financial way those of its members who may have a long illness or a serious operation. At present the fund is barely a nucleus and a very small sum can be given as a benefit, but each year it is hoped that a sum can be raised sufficient at least to keep the benefit on its present basis and to increase it as soon as it can consistently be done.

The teachers to help each other. Come to their play on March 15th. The cast includes Miss Marion E. Green and Miss Jessie M. Lewis of the Hyde School, Newton Highlands; Miss Cecile C. Crandall and Mr. Richmond S. Barton of the Mason School, Newton Centre; Miss Lena L. Nixon of the Bigelow School, Newton; Miss Virginia A. Mason of the Physical Education Department; and Mr. Louis E. Nash and Mr. Charles A. Goodwin of the Vocational High School. It is being staged under the direction of Miss Marion Drew Bassett of the Emerson School, Upper Falls. Others assisting various ways are Miss Marie Deiger of the Davis School, West Newton; Miss Elizabeth Hartshorne of the Clifton School, Newtonville; Miss Elizabeth B. Jackson of the Rice School, Newton Centre and Mr. John Fitzsimmons of the Vocational High School. Music will be furnished by the West Newton Music School.

The club bowling team won three points last Friday evening from the Hunnewell Club.
The regular monthly auction bridge of the Newton Club was held in the rooms Friday. There were twenty-two tables. The hostesses were Mrs. Robert Kelly, Mrs. John Clapp, and Mrs. Roger Wheeler. In the dining room Mrs. Lincoln Richter and Mrs. Bartlett Kenny dined.

The bowling team tied with Maugus on Wednesday evening in the Newton Bowling League Schedule.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT
The second concert of this season by the Highland Glee Club, Inc., will be given in Bray Hall, Tuesday evening, March 7th. The program is one which will prove decidedly popular, as there are several numbers which are "catchy"—the kind most people like to hear given by a male chorus. There are, as well, several more difficult selections which the club has put great effort into preparation.

The soloist is to be Mr. Barozzi, a Boston Symphony violinist, who will soon prove a sensation in musical circles. This is his first year in the United States. He has already appeared in solo work in Symphony Hall, where he was received most favorably, and another season will make his name famous among violinists who have appeared in this country.

NEWTON CLUB ENTERTAINS

The Newton Club entertained fifty boys from the West Roxbury Hospital Tuesday evening, Feb. 28th.

The privileges of the club were extended to the boys, the howling seeming to be the popular sport.

A short program was given early in the evening consisting of songs led by Mr. Fred E. Mann with Downey Baridge at the piano, violin solos by Mrs. Kenneth Hastings, accompanied by Miss Lillian West, readings by Mrs. Fred E. Mann, a skit by Dr. Clark of John Doe drafted, that made a decided hit with the boys who had been through such experiences, songs by Mr. Ralph Somers.

A supper was served at ten o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Harry Cabot.

An hour of dancing followed and the delight of the boys was expressed in rousing cheers.

The affair was in charge of Mrs. A. J. Wellman and Mrs. Fred E. Mann. These ladies feel well repaid for the effort spent in doing something for the boys who need a change of environment much more today as so few things are done out of the hospitals.

EDITORIAL

The interest of our citizens in the proposed zoning ordinance is increasing as the committee holds its local meetings throughout the city. There appears to be a very general impression that such an ordinance is not only desirable but is absolutely essential if Newton is to remain an attractive residential suburb. One feature of the ordinance that is receiving special attention is the distinction between the single residence and the general residence districts, many feeling that if their property is placed in the general residence district that the city will thereby express an official opinion that that particular vicinity is not so valuable or desirable as others. It has seemed to us, after long and careful study of the whole question that the safe and sensible way to proceed is to have the ordinance establish a residence district, comprising what are now tentatively listed as single and as general residence districts and then give the aldermen power to place, on petition of the owners, any part of the residence district into a special district, having restrictions which now appertain to the single residence district. In this manner, the people themselves will have to take the necessary action to place their property in the most restricted zone, and if they neglect to protect themselves, they have only themselves to blame.

The keynote for the coming campaign for the re-election of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was sounded this week at the dinner of the Republican Club of Massachusetts, when Governor Cox pointed out the reasonableness of judging a public servant by all his official acts, rather than by one or possibly two matters on which there might be a difference of opinion. Judged by and large, the record of Senator Lodge is one of which every citizen of Massachusetts should be proud, and there should be no question whatever, as to his return to the office of United States Senator which he has so ably filled for so many years. In the Senate he is the acknowledged leader, giving to Massachusetts a commanding position on important committees and an influential share in the determination of national policies. Not only would the defeat of Senator Lodge be a disgrace to Massachusetts, but it would place the influence of the Bay State at the very end of a long line of mediocre senators, and would take many years to again reach the place now held by Senator Lodge in that powerful body. Senator Lodge, therefore, should be judged by all his votes and all his acts, rather than by the one or two votes in which he may have differed from some individuals or factions of the party. Judged in this manner, there should be no doubt whatever of his triumphant re-election next fall.

We are more than glad to note that the Newton Centre Improvement Association is planning to erect a Soldiers' Memorial for the boys who "gave all for us" from that village. There has been altogether too much procrastination in recognizing the debt we owe to our young men who fought the good fight. There should be local tablets or memorials in each of our villages as well as the more pretentious memorial which has been under consideration for several years. Let us place the names of our boys in prominent places in each village, in order that the growing youth may be made to realize what was done to protect them in the World War.

The Democrats in the Massachusetts House of Representatives still keep up their old game of demanding less taxation and most expensive ways of performing necessary work. This week they fought to prohibit one-man street cars and to abolish the poll tax which is paying for the twenty million soldiers' bonus of four years ago.

GOOD ADVICE

To the Editor:

It is fortunate for the motorist, and still more so for that worthy himself, that the Jay walker is about to be restrained. A more delicate but quite as serious a matter is that of some children. That children should receive every consideration is not to be questioned. One of the duties of grownups is to help children to learn to look after their own safety and happiness and comfort of others.

Occasionally a child will deliberately stand firmly in the path of an advancing car, paying no further attention to the sound of the horn than to hold his position more firmly, glaring at the driver as if to dare him to touch him. If the day is clear, the road smooth, the coast clear, the driver sober and alert, the child is likely to escape injury, but he is clearly exceeding his prerogative. Lacking any one of the above mentioned conditions—well—I wonder more children are not killed.

a good stiff test in that particular subject and a Scout having passed these 23 tests is bound to be a good all round girl.

After this presentation Mrs. Day gave out the Merit Badges, which the girls have won so far this winter, and Mrs. Palmer gave out the Ribbons for the competitions of the afternoon. The Troops lined up at attention. Taps was played and the Troops dismissed.

The list of Merit Badges will be printed next week.

OFFICERS' ASSOCIATION—On Wednesday, March 8, the Newton Girl Scout Officers Association will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church, West Newton. Supper will be served at 6.30. After supper, Mr. D. Brewer Eddy, who is to be the speaker of the evening will speak on "The Strategy of Leadership." The speaking will begin at 7.45 and all those interested are cordially invited to come.

COVER HYDE BROOK

Upon receipt of an invitation to interest itself in the petition of May O. Brown and others for the improvement of Hyde Brook Drain, and the closely allied project of using the course of the brook and other nearby land in connection with a street outlet for the Charles River Boulevard, and to be represented at the hearing given the petition by the Committee on Public Works of the Board of Aldermen, last Monday evening, the Newton Chamber of Commerce was represented by a volunteer committee of interested members who, after giving considerable time and thought to the matter, presented its report to the Public Works committee with suggestions.

The Chamber of Commerce committee included Henry D. Lloyd, P. A. Murray, Phillips Byfield, Bernard M. Burke and George F. Wilson. Mr. Lloyd appearing at the hearing as spokesman for the committee. The secretary of the Chamber explained it was not the purpose of the Chamber committee to make any definite recommendations or urge that any special action be taken, but merely to offer suggestions in the hope that such suggestions might be of help and service to the Aldermanic committee. He also stated that there had been no opportunity for the Chamber committee to report to the Chamber, and that the suggestions to be presented by Mr. Lloyd represented only the conclusions of the committee, and not the viewpoint of the Chamber as a whole.

Mr. Lloyd stated that, after careful consideration, the committee which he represented was unanimously of the opinion that the Hyde Brook drain should be covered as soon as possible, and that the ravine through which the brook flows then be used as a dump for city ashes, with abutters permitted to do filling, all under proper supervision, until such time as the city engineer should feel that all necessary filling had been completed.

Regarding the proposed street outlet from the Charles River Boulevard, in accordance with a plan worked out by City Engineer E. H. Rogers, Mr. Lloyd stated that his committee was of the opinion that this was by far the most desirable and most economical plan yet suggested to meet this anticipated need, and would recommend it to the very careful consideration of the Aldermanic committee.

This plan, which provides for a 60-foot street, from the Charles River Boulevard, at a point just east of Russell road, and swings in a wide curve up along the course of Hyde Brook to a point near the beginning of the uncovered section of the brook, and then to Nonantum square, along a line between Nonantum place and Jefferson place, with but little property damage until encountering the old Nonantum Hotel building, was suggested by the Chamber committee as a desirable improvement in itself, and as the most practical way to provide a convenient street outlet from the Boulevard.

Mr. Lloyd stated that his committee would not suggest the construction of this new street until such time as the filling of the Hyde Brook ravine had been completed without expense, and perhaps not until the anticipated outlet for this boulevard had actually developed. The Chamber committee was unanimously of the opinion, however, that no additional traffic should be diverted into Nonantum square until such time as adequate provision had been made in the square for taking care of it.

ARE OUR SCHOOLS DEMOCRATIC?

This vitally important question comes immediately to mind in considering the speaker and subject of the next regular meeting of the Newtonville Community Forum, Sunday, Mar. 12, at 4 P. M. At that time Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston University will deliver an address on Democracy in Education.

Following his address, Prof. Sharp will devote a considerable period to open discussion of the topic in which all present are invited to take an active part.

Prof. Sharp has established a national reputation through his frank and open stand on this subject so close to every citizen, consequently this Forum should attract even greater numbers than ever.

The Technical High School Orchestra will furnish music.

The public is cordially urged to attend this March Forum on Sunday, March 12, at 4 P. M. in Central Congregational Church, Walnut Street, Newtonville.

BRAE BURN CLUB

Last Tuesday evening there was a dinner dance at the Brae-Burn. Among those having tables were Mr. Harry L. Ayers, W. K. Corey, F. L. Richardson, R. H. Stewart, C. W. Hunter, R. P. Gilman, W. D. Smith, E. S. Litchfield, F. H. Baird, J. R. Stuart, C. A. Brown and G. E. Peters.

Mrs. Robert Burgess of Newton Centre gave a luncheon at the Brae-Burn on Thursday.

Mr. Garvin Waldron will be the soloist at the Brae Burn Club next Sunday afternoon.

Our Battery Service Is Free How It Pays Us--and You

Of course we're in business to make money. You have probably wondered why we maintain the expense of free inspections for batteries and starting-lighting systems.

We have two reasons:

1. It enables us to get acquainted with automobile owners.
2. It gives us a chance to demonstrate our exceptional ability to care for and repair batteries.

In a word, this free inspection service is the best advertising we can possibly do.

It pays you to avail yourself of this service, because it will help you to get longer life from your battery; and prevent battery trouble on the road.

A MEETING FOR OUR DEVASTATED TREES

On Saturday evening, March 11, there will be a meeting in the Congregational Church, Newton Highlands, at 8 o'clock. The Conservation Department of the Woman's Club will present Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Jenks from the Massachusetts Forestry Association to speak to you on the proper treatment of our devastated trees. It is most important that the public be instructed before the fake tree surgeons come to our doors. We have the co-operation of the Men's League, the Improvement Association and the Men's Club of St. Paul's Parish. Everybody welcome.

LEND-A-HAND DRAMATICS

Children and grownups, too, are looking forward to "Little Women," which is to be produced on the afternoon of April 1st, at Jordan Hall, by the Lend-a-Hand Dramatic Club of Greater Boston. This club makes a specialty of plays for children, having given such well known favorites as "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "The Prince and the Pauper" and "The Naughty Little Princess," in the last three years. Many of the old favorites are in the cast, and the play is produced under the direction of Miss Caroline L. Freeman of West Newton, the president, who has had a great deal of experience in such work.

Where Your Taxes Go

How Uncle Sam Spends Your Money in Conducting Your Business

VIEW OF THE EMPLOYEE

The obvious solution of the government's employment problem is the standardization and readjustment of salaries. To be scientific, such readjustment must rest upon a careful reclassification of the service. Conditions are very different now, both in regard to the functions of offices and the cost of living, from what they were when positions in the government service were first classified and salaries assigned to those positions.

It struck me that an interested party in this inquiry into how the government conducts its business was the employee himself. He ought to know from actual daily experience something about the mechanism of the national business and the relations between the working force and employer.

It was clearly impossible to talk to the more than 500,000 men and women who work for the government, but I learned that between 50,000 and 60,000 of them are banded together in an association called the National Federation of Federal Employees. It is a regular labor union, and is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. It includes all classes of government workers, technical and scientific men, as well as clerks and unskilled workers.

I asked the president of this employees' union, Luther C. Steward, if he and his associates were authorized to speak for all its membership. He assured me that they were.

So I asked him to tell me about the conditions of government employment and how the business was carried on.

I am glad I did, for what he told me discloses not only facts, but a state of mind existing among the employees which necessarily must be taken into account in any consideration of the efficiency and management of our common business. Here then is what the employees, who speak through Mr. Steward, have to say, and the constructive program they present for the improvement of the service:

The civil service on its human side consists of about 500,000 men and women engaged in the operation of an antiquated patched-up machine. Because of the durability of its vital parts and the faith and ability of the mass of the operatives the machine still functions. But the parts are ill-fitted, and many of them are defective. The managers and superintendents of the establishment, being too often chosen for political reasons, are frequently inept, and the operating system is clumsy and disjointed.

The employees are recruited under a law which provides a test of qualifications, and probably nine-tenths of the rank and file have satisfactorily passed the entrance test. But the better positions, say from $3,000 upward, are usually occupied by political appointees. Another considerable group of employees get their appointments by executive order, waiving civil-service tests of fitness.

The newcomer in the service, therefore, finds himself up against a minimum of opportunity for promotion, with the disheartening knowledge that the advancement which is earned by competence is all too likely to be given to the friend or political supporter of some congressman or executive who wishes to pay a political debt. And the employee is subject to dismissal at the will of the executive of his department, unless he can bring sufficient political influence to bear.

In other words, the civil-service law is not backed up by enforcing power in the Civil Service commission. It merely recruits the applicants for entrance. Thereafter the employee's fate is largely a matter of his own luck and negative passive merit. There is no system by which he may be fitted to the job, and no protection against dismissal, unless the employee himself can show that the reason is political or religious. "For the good of the service," as the law reads, covers every other charge which the executive official may bring. There is no court of appeal.

Such is the oppressive, incentiveless, vitiating atmosphere of the government service. It stifles initiative, frustrates ambitions and reduces the mass of employees to a more or less passive state, which is permeated by a sense of fear.

In such an atmosphere, naturally enough, the physical conditions of employment are far from what they should be, and the government loses efficiency, as does any other employer where the wage scale is inadequate and unstandardized, where sanitary conditions are bad and hours of work too long and irregular.

The wage scale is so low that the Civil Service commission has difficulty in securing properly qualified applicants, and throughout the service the turnover is high. Employees doing the same kind of work often receive widely different rates of pay; experienced workers often receive less than beginners, and virtually every kind of inequality and injustice exists.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

"Women as a Working Power" will be the keynote of the Biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be held at Chautauque, N. Y., June 21 to 30. For the first time in history, we are told, there will be no luncheons nor dinners. As in former times the mornings will be given up to business and department reports and speakers; afternoons to department conferences; and evenings to inspirational speakers. It is announced that 15,000 delegates can be cared for, and they are reminded that Chautauque is unlike any previous meeting place, that it is a camp and not a city, and that delegates should bear this in mind in planning their wardrobe. "One evening dress will be sufficient and sport clothes are generally worn. Hats are seldom seen."

Clubs, which do not already belong to the General Federation and are considering joining, should send in their application immediately that they may surely be admitted in time to send delegates, for about two months is required to get the application acted upon by the Membership Committee.

A permanent headquarters for the General Federation is at last a dream come true, for the organization has come into possession of a handsome house in Washington, which was built for General Miles and has until recently been occupied by the Czechoslovakian embassy. Gifts and loans to the amount of $15,500 have already been received, and now the club is asked to do their part, not in any way as a tax, but as a free-will offering.

Consumers' League

Tuesday, March 7, the Consumers' League of Massachusetts is to hold its annual meeting at the Twentieth Century Club, 3 Joy street, Boston, Mass. A short business session at 12 o'clock will be followed by luncheon at 1:00 and at 1:45 there will be speaking to which the public is invited. The questions to be discussed deal with industrial hygiene and the special topics are as follows: "Better Industrial Lighting from a Social and Economic Standpoint," Dr. Samner C. Andrews, Director Health Certification for Cambridge Public Schools; Mr. Julius Daniels, Illuminating Engineer, Edison Electric Illuminating Company; "Industrial Posture and Seating," Dr. Loring T. Swain; "Good Factory Management as a Human and Economic Asset," Mr. John E. Miles, Director Factory Management, Babson Institute.

Mr. Daniels will show examples of lamps and fixtures whose use will help to lessen eye strain and to obviate other troubles due to imperfect lighting. The speakers have all given great attention to subject, which is of great vital importance to so many workers in the industrial field.

day evening by the Waban Woman's Club in the Neighborhood Clubhouse. A pageant of Waban, written by Mrs. Frank L. Miller, will be enacted by some of the residents of the town. Every club member is privileged to bring one guest. Mrs. W. O. White is in charge of the affair.

The Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls will have a Children's Night next Monday evening in the Emerson school hall. Each member may bring one guest. The entertainment will be provided by the Boston Juvenile Players.

Dr. J. Mace Andrews will give an illustrated lecture before the Newton Mothers' Club next Monday afternoon on "Our Child as an Artist" at the home of Mrs. R. Chapman, Jr., 36 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville.

The Island Possessions of France and Spain will be considered at the next meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday, March 7, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Leighton.

Professor Alfred E. Stearns, principal of Phillips Andover Academy, will speak on "Youth and Its Present Day Handicaps" at the next meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, which is to be held in the Congregational Church, March 7, at 2:30 P. M.

Captain André Morize will address the Newtonville Woman's Club next Tuesday afternoon on "France and Disarmament." A trio from the Auburndale Woman's Club will sing, thus returning the compliment of music.

The millinery class has proved so successful that a second class has been necessitated.

The chorus of the Auburndale Woman's Club will give its annual concert in Norumbega Hall, on Wednesday, March 15, at 8 P. M. The chorus has been doing very good work all winter under the direction of Mrs. Julia McCormick. Miss Alice Cotten, cellist, will play and Mr. W. J. Spaulding, baritone, will sing. Tickets are already in the hands of members of the chorus, and also may be had at Keyes Drug Store.

"Modern English Novelists" is the subject, which will be considered by Miss Florence Heard at the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on Wednesday, March 8.

Captain André Morize will speak before the Newton Community Club on Thursday at 2:30 P. M., in the Hunnevell clubhouse, on "What Does Culture Mean To-day?" Captain Morize comes not as a stranger, but as a distinguished officer of the French Army, who, having been assigned to training the Harvard students for their military service, found his place in the peace-time work of the University as well, and is now professor of French literature there.

Readings by Miss Frances L. Hueston will be given at the next meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, March 10th, at Players' Small Hall. The program is in charge of Mrs. D. Earl Brackett, chairman of the Dramatic Committee. A luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock by a committee in charge of Mrs. Adam Haug.

Local Happenings

Despite somewhat inclement weather the Presidents' Day of the Newton Community Club last week brought out a large number of visiting club representatives, as well as a goodly number of club members. Frederick G. Smith, second vice-president of the State Federation, brought greetings from that organization. Following announcements the afternoon was in charge of the music committee, Mrs. Arthur S. Flinn, chairman. A quartet, consisting of Mr. Frederick L. Mahn, first violin; Mr. Fernand Thillois, second violin; Mr. Harry Grover, viola; and Mr. Carl Stockbridge, cello; all members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, rendered a program as only Symphony players can, and they graciously added a number at the end in response to the prolonged applause of the audience.

At the close the members and guests were received in the parlors below and refreshments were served under the direction of the Social committee, Mrs. F. E. Harwood was chairman for the day and was ably assisted by a large corps of members. Mrs. L. D. Towle, Mrs. C. B. Beasom, Miss Emma F. Walker, and Miss Margaret Aubin poured.

On Friday and Saturday evenings last week the Auburndale Woman's Club presented the three-act play, "Her Husband's Wife," by A. E. Thomas. All the parts were well sustained and it went off with a snap, which is sometimes lacking in amateur performances. Mr. Lowell D. MacNutt, as John Belden, the uncle, was extremely good, while Mrs. Philip Dunbar and Mrs. W. A. Stiles divided the honors among the ladies. The others of the cast were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Gilman, Jr., and Mr. Bushnell. The play was produced under the direction of Miss Mary Winn. Refreshments were served each evening at the conclusion of the play, and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Kimball's

LODGES
The subject presented at the meeting of Garden City Grange, Tuesday evening, was "Grafting and Pruning." This subject was very interesting as presented by Mr. John M. Paige, a member of the Grange. C. A. Frost, a member, read an article on the care and doctoring the trees which were so terribly injured by the last ice storm. The Grange has offered a prize of $15.00 for the best speaker in Newton High School. The boy or girl winning the first prize will represent Garden City Grange at a speaking contest to be held in Natick, April 5th, under the auspices of Middlesex-Norfolk Pomona Grange. After the meeting the Ladies' Sewing Circle held a "Pie Social."

orchestra furnished the music. On Friday evening there were also vocal solos by Mr. Frank Cornwell between the acts.

Papers on Venice by Mrs. E. W. Littlefield and The Grand Canal by Mrs. Arthur Holmberg furnished the program for the Travel Class meeting on Monday, February 27, at the home of Mrs. F. E. Waring, 29 Davis avenue, West Newton. Mrs. F. E. Nowers was the assisting hostess.

On Monday evening a special Legislative meeting was held by the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls in the Emerson school. The question of State Control of Penal Institutions was discussed by Frank L. Brier, in a whole by Walter Wardwell, who opposed. Mr. Joseph L. Larson told of the work of the Webster commission and of the proposed changes in State administration. That the opportunity to hear these matters presented was appreciated by the community was shown by the large number of men present.

At the meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Guy C. Richardson took the place of Dr. Francis H. Rowley, who was detained, and told of the remarkable work of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, showing about 150 slides illustrative of it. He referred particularly to the part elephants and camels played in the recent war. He urged his audience to place a ban on training animals for exhibition purposes. Vocal selections by Mrs. Brophy were much enjoyed.

At a special meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Wednesday evening Dr. George H. Blakeslee gave an inspiring address upon the Washington Conference. An audience that packed the chapel testified to their interest in the speaker and his subject. Dr. Blakeslee described the conference as a whole, the three most prominent figures, Hughes, Briand, and Balfour, discussed the concessions made by the different countries and quoted opinions from many sources as to the outcome. He closed by reading in full the closing address of the delegate from Portugal.

Press Luncheon

Club representatives had an unusual opportunity on Tuesday to see and hear a group of veteran press representatives such as is seldom brought together at the present day. The occasion was the outcome of a happy suggestion made last year by the retiring Press chairman, Mrs. F. J. Dowling, that some sort of a conference be arranged for club correspondents to help them in their work and to bring about a better understanding between the clubs and the newspapers. Hotel Westminster was chosen as the meeting place and it was with the thought of the committee that a small group would gather about a table and discuss matters very informally, but the real interest taken in the subject was revealed, when some two hundred tickets were ordered, and the hotel was obliged to open its large dining room to accommodate them.

Miss Alice F. Titus, of the Lynn Item and chairman of the Federation Committee, presided over the after-luncheon program, presenting Mrs. George Minot Baker, the Federation president and the guest of honor, as the first speaker. Mr. John Clair Minot, of the Boston Herald, spoke upon the Why of Publicity, distinguishing it from advertising. He assured his audiences that club items will find no trouble in getting a welcome at the hands of the papers, so long as they come as "news." To insure this he enumerated timeliness, neatness of copy, accuracy, brevity, good English, with no attempt at "fine writing," as the essentials. He assured them that the newspapers want to cooperate, but also reminded them of the thousands of dollars' worth of space, which the papers are giving up to club news.

Mrs. W. S. Ripley, Jr., spoke from the club correspondent's point of view, having been the correspondent for the Cosmos Club of Wakefield for some twelve years, giving valuable hints to those who are trying to do it for their own clubs.

Mrs. A. Lincoln Bowles, of the Boston Transcript, advised the clubs in picking out their correspondent to elect a woman who can write a good letter. She hinted that punctuation has become a lost art, so far as her experience with club notes has been concerned. She too urged many of the points which Mr. Minot had made. She cited many amusing illustrations which have come to her and made her hearers feel that she is truly interested in the clubs and what they are doing and is anxious to help them in every possible way, saying, "I am never too busy for a woman to come in and see me."

Following the formal addresses those present were privileged to hear questions answered by Miss Marion Howard Brazier, Mrs. Florence T. Hunt, of the Boston Herald, Miss Helen M. Winslow, the first club editor of the Boston Transcript, from members of the committee who themselves are newspaper women, and lastly from the Graphic's representative.

The group of songs by Mrs. Agnes Edwards Hatch, which opened the program, was especially appreciated. With Mrs. A. H. Davidson, as leader the State song, "America the Beautiful," was sung by all present.

LAND COURT.

To the Newton Savings Bank, a duly existing corporation having an usual place of business in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Ella M. Bacall, Edgar V. Swail, and Abbie L. Withee, of said Newton; Carrie L. Plimpton, of Hingham, in the County of Plymouth and said Commonwealth; Charles F. Bacall and William F. Bacall, residences unknown, or their heirs, devisees or legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Ora D. Bailey, of said Newton, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows: Easterly on Walnut Street forty eight (48) feet; Southerly by Forest Street, eighty nine (89) feet; Westerly by land now or formerly of Abbie L. Withee, eighty eight (88) feet; and Northerly by land now or formerly of Edgar V. Swail, one hundred twenty eight and 28/100 (128.28) feet.

Petitioner admits that the above described land is subject to restrictions in deeds Beulah E. Walker to William T. Tillinghast; George T. Tillinghast to George D. Eldridge; George D. Eldridge to James R. Deane, duly recorded Book 1350, Page 225, Book 1401, Page 175 and Book 1558, Page 147, respectively.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the thirtieth day of March A. D. 1922, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifth day of February in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-two.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

At the luncheon and meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Church, Newtonville, held on Wednesday, a pleasant feature was introduced by the president, Mrs. Austin H. DeCatur. Each member was presented with a brooch in which her name was mounted. The luncheon was in charge of Mrs. F. L. Edmonds. Plans were announced for a concert to be given March 16th.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Ida Vose Woodbury who for many years has addressed clubs and churches. She has rare gifts of eloquence and a memory richly stored. Her subject was "New Negro Problems" and though she did not suggest many solutions she pleaded her cause so forcefully that her hearers were stimulated to find for themselves some answer to her question, "What are we going to do about it?" These people, who began to come to our shores before the Pilgrims, should share the benefits of our civilization. They have fought and died in our wars and have been decorated for their unselfish bravery. Let us demonstrate our democracy by giving the negro the square deal, show our reverence for Lincoln by enforcing the 14th and 15th Amendments and prevent unjust and disgraceful race discrimination.

BOSTON AUTO SHOW

When the annual Boston Automobile Show opens its doors at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, March 11, the vanguard of the thousands upon thousands who will attend during the seven days will march into an exhibit in every way greater than any previous one. And ample provision has been made to care for a record breaking attendance.

Within the five great halls and the extensive basement of Mechanics' Building there will be found a total of 483 companies or individuals represented in the exhibits. In the showing of passenger cars there will be a total of 76 manufacturers represented, and allowing an average of four each to display their various models and stripped chassis, more than 300 cars will be seen. Manager Campbell is putting the finishing touches to the musical program, a feature which appeals to many and adds greatly to the attractions of the show. There will be band music, as well as orchestras and special singing.

TO THE MUSIC LOVERS OF NEWTON

A concert under the auspices of the Woman's Association will be given at Central Church on Thursday evening, March 16, at 8 o'clock. Miss Marie Bashian of New York, a young Armenian soprano who is delighting large audiences with her rich voice, is to be the artist, and among her selections will interpret, in native costume, several songs of the Armenian, Russian, and neighboring peoples. Many Newtonville people who heard Miss Bashian at the home of Mrs. Brewer Eddy two or three years ago will welcome the opportunity of again hearing her beautiful voice.

Miss Bashian will be accompanied by Miss West and several pianos will be contributed by Mrs. Edwards, who is a concert pianist of distinct charm.

CASTLE STIRLING, K. O. K. A.

On February 22nd, twelve members of Castle Stirling attended the annual K. O. K. A. meeting at Lynn, Mass.

In the morning a track meet was held at the Lynn Y.M.C.A. and although handicapped by several of their best winners, Castle Stirling tied for second place.

In the afternoon the annual convocation was held in St. Paul's Church. There was a very interesting program.

On Friday, March 24th, the Knights will give their annual play at Norumbega Hall. The play is, "When a Fellow Needs a Friend." A great deal of work has been put into the play by the members of the castle.

AUCTION WHIST

If you play auction, you probably have noticed how white and smooth some of the ladies' hands were, while yours were red and roughened from your housework. Your hands can look as nice as theirs if you will apply a little Red Cross Lotion every night. It keeps the hands soft, white and smooth, removing all vegetable and fruit stains and leaving the skin in perfect condition. Get a bottle today. Money refunded if not satisfied. NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The following new members were received at the rehearsal Tuesday night: Mrs. Beatrice Carter of Dorchester, Miss Evelyn O. Clift, Newtonville; Miss Dorothy C. Hamer and Miss Hazel Green, West Newton; Sophia C. Mague, Auburndale.

Owing to the illness of several of the violin players of the orchestra, several more are desired on that part. There are only two more rehearsals of the chorus before meetings are held with the orchestra, and a full attendance of singers is requested for these two meetings, to get the choral work as nearly perfect as possible before the orchestra comes in.

The Wide Spaces.

The air was very clear and crystalline. The lighthouses on the ends of the twin piers, though some miles distant, seemed close at hand. White herring gulls, cruising against the blue, flashed white as the sails of a distant ship. A fresh breeze darkened the blue velvet surface of the water, tumbling the white foam hissing up the beach, blew forward over the dunes a fine hurrying mist of sand, and bore to Orde at last the refreshment of the wide spaces.—Stewart Edward White.

Sensed Something Wrong.

Little Miss Polly, age seven, came over to see us one evening and requested that we play the record on the phonograph, which was "Even Thou Bravest," from Faust, sung by Reinhold Werrenrath. She listened for a few minutes and then said, "That's a religious piece, isn't it?" On being told that it was a grand opera selection, she remarked, "My goodness, that's terribly quiet for grand opera."—Exchange.

Rats Outwitted by Sawdust.

Insatiation by sawdust not only deadens sound, but also defeats rats. When a rat starts to construct a burrow through packed sawdust, the operation no doubt seems easy enough to begin with. But presently the sawdust begins to cave in, filling the hole as fast as the rat can dig, and in the end discouraging the animal completely.

Movements of the Planets.

The sun and all the planets appear to have rotation. The length of the day on all except Mercury, Venus, and Neptune have been determined. The sun rotates once in 25 days 7 hours 48 minutes, for an average, the earth a little under 24 hours; Mars 24 hours, 37 minutes; 42 seconds; Jupiter, 9 hours, 55 minutes; Saturn in 10 hours and 14 minutes, and Uranus in 15 hours.

Should Not Walk Too Soon.

A flat foot—that is, a foot almost without any instep—is not only a deformity, but it engenders an awkward walk. Sometimes, also, the foot leans more to the outer side or more to the inner side. Both these defects are generally caused by trying to make children walk too soon. Children should not be encouraged to walk until the bones of their little feet are strong enough to support the weight of their body.

Hardly Realistic.

Ellen Terry tells the following amusing story: Once, when she was acting in "Madame Sans-Gene," a cat stole on the stage and rubbed itself against her. To introduce a realistic "touch," she picked it up and set it down a foot or two away, telling it to go to sleep. The cat curled up and went to sleep. But a murmuring in the audience drew Ellen Terry's attention to the animal again. The cat was sleeping peacefully on a red-hot "fire."

Have Private Fish Ponds.

When the natives of Nauro, in the Pacific, go fishing they bring the fish home alive and put them in lagoons or small lakes in the hills. Every village owns a lagoon and every villager owns a portion of the water, fenced off with palm leaves, where the household supply of fish is kept alive until needed for food.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Mr. John McGrath, for many years a resident of Newton Centre died on Saturday at his home on Pleasant St., after an illness of three months from shock.

Mr. McGrath is survived by his widow, to whom he was married 52 years ago in old St. Peter's Church, Cambridge, and these five children, Mrs. James P. Powers and William F. McGrath of Homer street, Miss Elizabeth G. McGrath of Pleasant street, Newton Centre; Mrs. S. J. Nevins of Brookline, and Sister Mary of St. Celine (Miss Nellie McGrath) of the Order of the Good Shepherd.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at his late residence on Pleasant street.

Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at 10 in the Church of the Sacred Heart, the officers of the mass being Rev. Timothy A. Curtin, pastor, celebrant; Rev. James F. Haney, deacon, and Rev. Edward Murphy, subdeacon. Seated within the altar enclosure were Rev. Patrick Waters, Ph.D., professor of philosophy at St. John's Seminary, Brighton; Rev. Chas. N. Cunningham, procurator at the same institution, and Rev. Robert Barry of Boston. Representatives of the order of the Good Shepherd were present.

The musical portion of the service was rendered by the regular choir, under the direction of Mrs. Myrtle Morse, and after the mass Miss Catherine C. Curtin sang "Pie Jesu."

The pallbearers were Michael Meaney and Daniel McCarthy, two of Mr. McGrath's old-time neighbors in Arlington, and Thomas King, James Waters, John Lahey and James McInerney, the three latter representing the M. C. O. F. of which Mr. McGrath was a member. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Arlington, prayers being offered by Rev. F. Curtin, Cunningham and Waters.

D. A. R. MEETS

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., met at the home of Mrs. Ernest E. Fowler on Tuesday, February 28. The regent, Miss Annie S. Head, presided.

Mrs. George R. Blinn, State Counsellor, read a paper entitled, "Among the Plymouth Memorials." She also showed pictures of the different memorials at Plymouth, which added to the interest of the paper. Remarks were made by Miss Mary Simons, regent of Paul Revere Chapter, also by Miss Addie Ames, regent of Old Boston Chapter.

Mrs. Walter Buck was chosen as a delegate to the State Conference. Ten alternates were also chosen. Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson Miss Florence A. Lewis, Mrs. William J. Bicknell, Mrs. Myron L. Cudworth and Mrs. Richard A. Cudworth were chosen as members of the nominating committee to make nominations for the officers for the year 1933. The chapter voted to give two dollars to Valley Forge, and five dollars to the Hillside School.

Tea was served by the hostess after the meeting was adjourned.

LODGES

At the meeting of Dalhousie lodge of Masons on Wednesday evening, Mr. H. H. Ballard, Jr., enlivened the dinner hour with stories in Canadian dialect.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

A double tragedy of murder and suicide took place late last night at the home of William T. Garvey on Foster street, in West Newton, near the Waltham line. Mrs. Garvey, a boarder, Miss Doris G. Atwood and Garvey's 17-year-old son, on returning from the theatre were met by Garvey, who was enraged at their being out so late. After some words Garvey drew a revolver, shot his wife dead, wounded Miss Atwood in the left arm, and then, turning the revolver on himself, fired a bullet into his heart, dying at once.

Garvey was a building contractor, and had seven children, the oldest of whom is about 23 years of age. He was last employed in Onset, but for some time had not had any contracts and was staying at home.

J. L. Fuller, who lives downstairs, under the flat where the shooting occurred, was one of the first to go to the assistance of Miss Atwood. He also phoned for the police and an ambulance.

"THE WITCHING HOUR"

Miss E. H. Freeman's group of players will give for their third performance, "The Witching Hour," by Augustus Thomas. There will be two public performances in Players' Hall, Monday evening, March 20, and the following Saturday matinee, March 25. This play admirably falls into line with Miss Freeman's plan of giving a varied program through the year. Having produced a farce and a comedy, the company will now present a "thrilling" drama. But unlike the traditional detective and movie thrills, "The Witching Hour," as those who have seen this play will be likely to remember, produces its effects through an unusual theme of deep and gripping interest.

The cast will include: Mr. Geoffrey Baker, Mr. Paul Sanborn, Mr. Gordon Jenkins, Mr. Robert Houghton, Miss Marion McKeon, Miss Mary Kimball, Miss Jean Grabow, and Mr. Robert Perry.

MISS DRAKE ILL

Miss Dorothy Drake of the Graphic staff was operated upon last Saturday at the River Bank Hospital, Boston, for appendicitis. She is reported as improving rapidly.

THE CITY BUDGET

Mayor Childs Recommends $2,884,817.67 for City Expenses for 1922, or $300,000 More Than Last Year

Mayor Childs has submitted the annual budget to the board of aldermen with a total recommendation of $2,884,817.67 or $300,000 more than the figures for 1921, and even at that he has shaved down the departmental estimates by $102,000. Part of this increase is due to a change in accounting in which certain charges, heretofore treated as outside the budget, are now included, and total some $150,000. The school estimates are some $64,000 more than last year and the Mayor approves just what the school committee requests. The Street Department asked for $759,977 and the Mayor approves $760,542. This figure is $150,000 more than last year, but includes about $120,000 for outside charges and supply accounts. It is interesting to note however, that some important changes are made in the different items in this important department. Snow and Ice, which cost $47,000 in 1921 is reduced to $25,000. Collection of Ashes is reduced from $55,500 to $40,000 and Street sprinkling from $55,000 to $48,000.

In the Buildings Department, the Mayor cuts down the Commissioner's figures over $83,000, the greater part of which is in the item of Maintenance of Buildings, where Mr. Forbush asks for $151,000 and the Mayor approves but $70,000. Even this figure is $15,000 more than that of 1921.

The Police Dept. is approved for $185,592 to which should be added the $2500 recently approved for salary of a captain.

The Fire Dept. asks and receives $157,782, which is but $7000 more than 1921.

There is an increase of $10,000 in the Funded Debt, which is approved at $157,000, with $32,000 more for Serial bonds, making a total of $156,000, while there is a decrease of $21,000 in interest on temporary loans.

The Playground Dept. is approved at $62,529 or $17,500 more than 1921.

The Mayor has approved but two increases in salary, although almost every department head asked for more. Those approved by the Mayor are City Clerk Grant, who is to get $500 more on account of his increased duties as clerk of committees and City Solicitor Bartlett whose compensation is now fixed at $4000, and fully earned.

The following table shows the figures for 1922 and similar figures for 1921.

	1921	1922

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The following new members were received at the rehearsal of last Tuesday: Miss Annie B. Noden, Newton; Miss Ethel A. Read, Newton Centre; Mr. Ralph L. Barrett, Newtonville.

In spite of the very stormy weather, 94 turned out to the rehearsal Tuesday night. As next Tuesday's rehearsal is the last before the orchestra comes in, all singers should be present.

NEWTON CLUB

Last Tuesday night there was a mixed bridge at the Newton Club. Prizes were awarded Mr. Rupert C. Thompson, Mr. Williams, Mr. Manning, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Flye, Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Manning and Mrs. Rupert Thompson poured. There were fifteen tables at play.

A panhandler can get money out of the average man when his own wife can't.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The adjourned annual meeting of the Newton Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Newton Club, Newtonville, on Tuesday evening, March 21. This will be preceded by the usual dinner at 6.30 o'clock, with provisions to be made for the accommodation of the subsequent business meeting of those members who cannot arrange to be present at the dinner. New officers of the Chamber will be elected for the ensuing year, revised by-laws will be presented for consideration and adoption, and reports presented of recent activities of officers and committees. The meeting promises, in many ways, to be the most important yet held by the Chamber, and one of the most interesting. An unusually large attendance is anticipated.

Following the business session, the Chamber will conduct a "Street Railway Night," with Newton's trolley service and problems as the subject for discussion. The guests and principal speakers will be: Hon. Samuel L. Powers, of the board of trustees of the Boston Elevated; Edward Dana, general manager of the Boston Elevated; Pitt F. Drew, president of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company, and Harry H. Hanson, general manager of the Middlesex & Boston.

The several improvement associations of the city are to be invited to be represented at the meeting and to offer suggestions for the improvement of the trolley service in their respective villages, or between the various sections of the city, and to state the criticisms of the service heard most frequently in each village. Individual criticisms and suggestions will be welcomed from any member of the Chamber. The street railway officials will be glad to answer questions and to discuss any matter brought up with a view of bettering trolley service in Newton. Only constructive criticism is desired, and every effort will be put forth to make the evening one that will help to bring about improved service and better understanding.

The meeting will also provide an opportunity for the street railway officials to explain contemplated changes and improvement in service. General Manager Dana of the Elevated will explain the new plans for a terminal between Newton and Boston, to replace the discarded plans for the proposed Bravies Field terminal, discussed at the last meeting.

WOMAN'S CLUB

At "The Fortnightly" of Newton Centre, "Greek Poetry" will be the subject on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. John Bogart. Mr. Aristides Phourides will be the speaker, and tea will be served by Mrs. A. B. Cram.

CO. A REUNION

A reunion of A Company Associates, 11th Regiment, Massachusetts State Guard, was held last Wednesday evening, March 8, at the Newton Club. The reunion was in charge of Col. Waldron H. Rand, and had as invited guests His Honor Mayor Childs, Col. Daniels of the 11th Regiment, M. S. G.; Major Cornells of M. N. G., and Capt. MacConnell, Lt. Anderson and Lt. Dohy, of the Boston police force, who were closely associated with the company during their service in Boston. Following the reunion and dinner there was an entertainment in the hall which had been fitted up as a police station, and where members of the company arrested and disposed of bootleggers and shop-lifters, as well as a blockade of the Boston subway. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year: Honorary commander, Col. Charles F. Pfaff; commander, Ripley L. Dana; Lt. commander, Edwin M. Richards; secretary and treasurer, George F. Wales; chaplain, Rev. Richard T. Loring. Executive Committee, John J. Cronin, Don M. Leonard, Alfred N. Minor, Jr.

MINISTER TO RESIGN

Rev. Charles W. Brashares, pastor of the Newton Methodist Church for the past two years, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Grace Methodist Church at Dayton, Ohio, and will leave here on April 1st. The Grace Church at Dayton has a large membership and has just completed an expensive church edifice.

Rev. Mr. Brashares, who is thirty years of age, is a native of Williamsport, O., a graduate of the Ohio Wesleyan University, 1914; Boston University School of Theology, 1917, and took a post-graduate course at Harvard. He was ordained in 1916. He passed two years as pastor at Orient Heights, two years at Gorham, Me., and came to the Newton church about two years ago. His wife is a Wellesley graduate.

THE WITCHING HOUR

Miss Ethel Hale Freeman's "Group of Players" will present "The Witching Hour," by Augustus Thomas, in Players' Hall, West Newton, Monday evening, March 20th, at 8 o'clock, and Saturday matinee, March 25th, at 2.15 o'clock.

The cast will include Mr. Geoffrey Baker, Mr. Robert Perry, Mr. Gordon Jenkins, Mr. Paul Sanborn, Mr. Robert Houghton, Miss Bonnie Jarvis, Miss Jean Grabow, Miss Mary Kimball, Mr. Warren Houghton and Mr. Charles Crane.

The production will be under the direction of Miss E. H. Freeman, assisted by Miss Margaret F. Arnold and Miss Marion McKeon.

THE CAFE CHANTANT

On Saturday evening, Bray Hall was the scene of a very gay affair, when the Newton Centre Neighborhood Club put on the "Cafe Chantant" for the benefit of the Social Service work of the Newton Hospital.

Long before the day of the performance the over 100 tables were all engaged, but the "little red signs," as they were called, which appeared in all the store windows the day before the show, proved that "It pays to advertise." The janitor of the Hall was scarcely able to perform his daily duties between phone calls from people eager to ascertain where one could get tickets to the show of the little red signs.

From eight to ten the guests were entertained by a program of music and dancing, together with a fashion show of the latest styles from "The House of Manahan" exhibited by a half dozen of the prettiest girls in the Club. The members of the Tech Jazz Band furnished several of the numbers, banjo, violin, xylophone, solos and vocal solos. The dancing by Miss Hazel Rowland Sands was of such exquisite beauty that the audience felt that it had been given a rare opportunity and a very real pleasure.

The program ended with a gay medieval dance by 12 young ladies in picturesque costumes, at the close of which the dancers marched out through the hall, each, on descending the steps from the stage, being handed a lighted taper by a small page.

The Hall was artistically decorated in black and white with dashes of french pink, and on each table was a small begonia with pink blossoms and black and white checked paper covering the pot. During the performance the guests were served with ice cream and soft drinks, by girls dressed in white with pink aprons and caps tied with french blue ribbons, while others with black and white caps and aprons sold candy and smokes.

The programs were of unusual beauty, hand tinted and very well arranged. A large number of the guests enjoyed the dancing from 10-12 to the music of the Tech Jazz Band.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Senior class of the Technical High School held a party and dance in the school library on Friday, March 3. Ian Fraser, a member of the class, sang several songs, which added to the entertainment. About $20 was made, which will be put in the class treasury. On March 24 there will be an inter-class gym meet in the gymnasium. Girls from the three high schools will take part, and many good numbers should be afforded.

The High School Teachers' Club held a reception and tea in the Technical high school library. The faculty of the three schools attended. There was an entertainment and dancing. Miss Lund of the Science department in the Technical High School, returned recently after an absence due to illness.

Thrifty? A question arises every time the word is mentioned. Thrift means the saving of money and an economical mode of living. This is now being introduced into the school in a very unique way.

The Newton Trust Company has installed several "Automatic Receiving Tellers" for the promotion of Thrift. A person may deposit 1c, 5c, 10c or 25c in this machine and receive a stamp of the same denomination. When a dollar's worth of stamps are placed upon a card they are sent to the Newton Trust Company, and an account is opened by the person.

As Thrift is being practiced in the home and in business, it will now be emphasized in the schools.

Members of the Debating Team who face Somerville on March 10 are making final preparations to down this old rival. There will be a dance in the "Gym" after the debate.

The Science department of the Technical High School is going to give a play and entertainment on March 17.

ALDERMEN DISCUSS SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Proposal to Reduce Term from Three to Two Years, Defeated by a Tie Vote

With a resumption of the former custom of holding committee meetings during a recess of its regular session, the aldermen held another midnight meeting on Monday, adjournment not being reached until 11.40 o'clock.

Sessions of the board are also incomplete nowadays unless there is at least one hearing which attracts more than perfunctory attention. On Monday night the residents of Newtonville were out in force to urge the board to establish a building line on Highland avenue, opposite the Newton Club, for the purpose of stopping, if possible, the proposed erection of a block of stores between the K. of C. clubhouse and the avenue.

Dr. A. R. Barrow said that the corner was dangerous now without a building line. Mr. James Richard Carter had the New Church Society recorded in favor. Mrs. Moore said the mothers of children in the Claffin School had succeeded in having an officer placed at this corner when the children come out of school. Walnut street was declared to be a most dangerous street, according to one speaker, who failed to give his name.

Mr. Chas. F. Cheney urged the board to make the building line at least 25 feet, and he favored 30 feet. He presented resolutions of the Men's Club of St. John's parish in favor. Mr. Albert M. Lyon spoke on the need of the building line from the standpoint of safety as well as a sense of fairness to the owners on Highland avenue, whose buildings were well set back from the line of the street. Captain James A. Waters spoke in favor as a representative of the Knights of Columbus, and as a step in anticipation of the pending zoning ordinance.

Messrs. F. W. Woodcock, Lester B. Hunter, R. C. Brigham and Wm. C. Richardson also spoke briefly, and some 40 persons rose when requested as favoring the project. Mr. Charles Dilworth, speaking for his brother, who owned a house on Walnut street, opposite the proposed stores, said his brother had purchased that property with the idea that eventually it would be business property. Stores are needed in Newtonville, and Mr. Dilworth claimed that the present storekeepers wanted business restricted so they might keep prices up. He called attention to the fact that with residential property the city usually spent all it received in taxes for schools, fire and police service, while with store property, the taxes were nearly net. He humorously suggested that Newton might even have a new City Hall if more stores were established in the city. Business, he said, should not be forced into side streets.

Mr. W. A. Foss, speaking for the owner and proposed builder of the stores, said that the claim that this corner was dangerous was absurd, as there had never been an accident there. Neither the K. of C. nor the Newton Club was residential property, and this piece of land can not be used for anything except business.

This whole movement, he claimed, was drive at one man, whose application for a building permit had been held up on one pretext or another. A 25-foot building line in a business district was ridiculous, and indicates the animus behind this measure. The city at this point, he claimed, was undergoing a change, and is bound to develop into business property. The owner has always put up first class buildings, and his plans call for rentals from $75 to over $100 per month. Mr. John T. Burns, Jr., said that Newtonville was bound to be the business centre of Newton. Washington street, with the railroad on one side, would never be a good business street, and trade must come to Walnut street, and which, he predicted, might extend from Watertown street to Cabot street. He believed it short-sighted policy to retard business buildings.

Mr. E. P. Hay and a dozen others opposed Edison poles on Warwick road, after Mr. Gould, for the company, had stated they were necessary for street lighting.

Mr. E. E. Person and Mr. W. W. Trowbridge appeared in favor of Mr. Person's petition to build a 14-car garage on Watertown street, near Eden avenue.

Howard M. North spoke in favor of a sewer in Neholien road, and there was no opposition.

A new plan for the widening of Commonwealth avenue at Auburn street, in place of that heard at the previous meeting, was on the docket and called for the taking of all the McVicar property between the church property and the avenue. Mr. P. A. McVicar vigorously opposed this plan as a great injustice to himself and a move simply to gratify the wishes of a non-taxpaying community.

No one appeared at hearings on the petition of Pietro Sauro for a 3-car garage at 33 Oak street.

On proposed change of ownership of poles on Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill, opposition was expressed, but was satisfied when informed that no new poles were proposed.

Mayor Childs sent in several recommendations from the School Committee, one stating that the committee had voted to abandon the Davis School, another urging a new Junior High School near Washington street and Greenough street, and also requesting $275 for payment of tuition in outside trade schools. The Mayor also recommended $540.67 for payment of a laborer's pension, $3525 for laying water mains, $425 for a water main in Albion street, all of which were subsequently approved.

The city engineer submitted an estimate of $1,500 for land damages, and $600 for construction for the proposed change at Commonwealth avenue and Auburn street.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION MEETS

The meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Church held Wednesday afternoon was conducted by Group VI. Mrs. Percy F. Williams, chairman. The program was varied and interesting. Mrs. Florence Rose led the devotion, reading from John XV. She dwelt upon the untold value of the "beautiful life," more potent for righteousness than any argument. Mrs. W. H. Allen presented current events and delighted her audience with a missionary letter written in the form of the chronicles of a "Watchman." Mrs. Williams introduced the subject Africa, by reading from "Livingstone" by John Oxenham. A large map of Africa showing the locality of our missionary activities was helpful in the study. Mrs. John Brant gave extracts from the article by Jean MacKenzie, published in the "Atlantic." Mrs. Irving Palmer told of the work in the industrial schools at Mt. Silinda and Dondi and paid tribute to the loyalty of those who "carry on" in that far country.

Mrs. C. A. Richardson described a conference of native Christians where the sessions lasted from seven A. M. until midnight.

At the close of the meeting tea was served, Mrs. J. E. Bartlett, chairman.

The entire proceeds are for the Grade Teachers Sick Benefit Fund. Home-made candy will be for sale.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB

The Highland Glee Club gave its 35th concert on Tuesday evening, at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, to an audience which filled the hall, in spite of the unfavorable weather. The club was assisted by Mr. W. Franklin Butler, accompanist, and Mr. Socrates Barozzi, violinist.

The program was varied and enjoyable, and the club did excellent work under the efficient direction of Mr. George S. Dunham. The negro selection, "De Sandman," with Mr. George Wight, as the soloist, was greatly enjoyed, and the "Chorus of the Pilgrims" and "The Bellman" also met with favor by a discriminating audience.

The event of the evening, however, was the playing of Mr. Barozzi, and he was recalled time and again. He responded with two encores, but was still unable to satisfy his hearers. His technique being well in perfect, and it was the general impression that he was a genius, whose name would soon be linked with the foremost musicians of the time.

MR. HAMMOND DEAD

Mr. Wilberforce Beecher Hammond of Abundale, who died at the Palmer Memorial Hospital on March 2, was a native of East Douglas, the son of the late John C. and Lucy Jane (Thayer) Hammond of that place. He was directly descended from the Hammonds who settled in Newton in early Puritan days, who came from England about 1630. He was educated at East Greenwich Academy, and was a graduate of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, N. Y., class of '80, with the degree of C. E. He was long a member of the Boston Society of Civil Engineers.

He is survived by a widow, formerly Miss Lillian C. Lane of Leominster, and a sister, Mrs. H. R. Turner of Abundale.

Newton Centre

—Mr. James B. Melcher has resigned as superintendent of the Unitarian Sunday school.

—The Men's Club of the First Church has postponed its regular meeting to March 20th.

—At the meeting of the White Cross Society on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. C. Peter Clark spoke on "Africa."

—Mrs. John Favill Capron of Ward street has sent out cards for a luncheon and auction bridge next Thursday.

—Mrs. Allen Hubbard, assisted by Mr. Leonard A. Arnold, gave a most enjoyable recital on Tuesday evening, in Trinity Church.

—At the Musical Vespers last Sunday afternoon, at the First Church, Gounod's "Redemption" was sung by a choir of 16 voices.

—The boys of Trinity parish were guests of the Sir Galahad Club last evening, at which the entertainment was moving pictures.

—Mr. Lawrence B. Rice, of Summer street, sailed last Friday for Bermuda, where he is entered in the tennis tournament to be played this week.

—At the Congregational Church next Sunday, at 5.15 P. M., Professor Albert Bailey will give the second in his series of talks on the "Great Hymns of the Church." His subject will be, "Hymns of Isaac Watts."

—On Feb. 25 Mrs. Allen Greenough of Ward street and Mrs. Adna Denison of Waban defeated Mrs. Adna Denison and Mr. William Ayer of Lakewood terrace, two games to one at Badminton on the Newton Badminton Courts.

—At the annual meeting this week of the United States Worsteds Co., Messrs. Andrew Adie and S. H. Fessenden, of Chestnut Hill, were re-elected directors, and Mr. James D. Colt, also of Chestnut Hill, was elected as a new director.

—The Badminton Club Golf Tournament was won by Mr. and Mrs. Allen Greenough of Ward street. In the play off of the tie in putting between Mrs. Greenough and Mrs. Harry P. Bradford, Mrs. Greenough won with a score of 21 puts, the record for the course of 9 holes.

—"Spiritual Healing" will be the subject of an address in Trinity Church next Sunday evening, at 7.15, by Rev. Samuel McComb, D.D., one of the founders of the "Emmanuel Movement." Dr. McComb has been conducting a clinic at the Cathedral in Baltimore for several years, and has just been called to a Professorship in the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge.

He is survived by a widow, formerly Miss Lillian C. Lane of Leominster, and a sister, Mrs. H. R. Turner of Abundale.

What does rain and slush matter to boys interested in wireless? Not a thing. For in spite of both, fifteen enthusiasts from all parts of Newton Centre showed up at the Playground House for the usual Saturday night meeting.

During the meeting the question of raising money for a simple wireless set for club use came up for discussion. One bright boy suggested that since they are willing to make the parts themselves, possibly some kind father would supply the necessary ten or fifteen dollars for material. Phil Darling also made a generous offer of the loan of various parts as something on which to build.

The evening's talk on "Fixed and Variable Condensers" was given with many blackboard illustrations by Gerald Hudson of Ashton avenue.

This Saturday night the topic will be "A Simple Receiving Set," which will take a review of all the parts studied thus far; how made, how connected, etc., including aerial, tuning coil, loose coupler, detector, phones and condenser. Each part will be there for illustrative purpose, and anyone interested is invited to come. This should prove very helpful to anyone making or intending to make a receiving set.

MR. BENYON DEAD

Mr. Charles Benyon, superintendent of the Forestry Division of the Street Department, died Saturday night at his home on Carleton street, Newton, after many months of painful illness.
Mr. Benyon was born in Auburndale, and was 46 years of age. He served in the Spanish War as a member of Co. C, and was a member of the U. S.
W. Veterans' Association. He has been connected with the Forestry Department since 1907, and previously had served in the City Engineers' Department. He married Miss Alice Sanger of Watertown, and is survived by her and six children—Ruth, Gertrude, Horace, Alice, Jeanette and Marion Benyon. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Mt.
Auburn Chapel, Rev. Charles W. Brashares, pastor of the Newton M. E.
Church, officiating.

The following resolutions have been adopted by Thomas Burnett Camp, 10, U. S. W. V.:

It is with great sorrow and regret that we announce the death on March the 4th, of our comrade, Charles H.
Benyon, in the forty-sixth year of his age. He served with honor in old C Company of Newton during the Spanish War. We shall greatly miss him, for he was a true comrade to all.
We also extend our sincere sympathy to his family.

THE AUTO SHOW

Leading the world, as usual, for the past decade, the 1922 Boston Auto Show will surpass all others in number of exhibitors, space occupied and magnificence of the decorative setting.
The management of this great annual feature has always adhered steadfastly to the theory that the beauty of design displayed in the manufacture of the modern car demanded a setting commensurate with the artistry universally shown by the manufacturers.

The spectacular features of the Boston Show are invariably not only consistent as to artistic merit in design and harmony of coloring, but in many instances startling in originality.

Several hundred artisans, scene painters, sculptors, electricians, interior decorators in fabric, cabinet workers and others have been busily engaged for months preparing for this most noted of all Automobile Salons.

Ernest W. Campbell, the architect and designer of the National Association of Show Managers of this country, has produced for the coming display what will go down in history as the most striking setting ever presented to the critical gaze of a Boston audience.

Nothing tawdry or inconsistent with practical decorative scheme has been allowed to be installed, and from the soft French gray paneled background of the balcony accessory departments to the warm, colorful drapings in the lower halls, everything maintains the high standard of artistic efficiency which has been so powerful a factor in making the Boston Show a worldwide notable occasion.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

On Sunday afternoon, March 12, at 4 o'clock, a concert will be held at the clubhouse of the Commonwealth Country Club for the members and their guests. The artists will be the Boston Orchestra, conductor, Mr. W. F. Walter, violinist, and Mr. Alex.
Heindl, cellist. The soloists will be
Mr. Joseph Ecker, baritone, and Mr.
Frederick Tillotson, pianist.

On Monday afternoon, March 13, at 2:30 o'clock, the following ladies will be hostesses at an auction bridge party (non-progressive) for the benefit of the cathedral children of France: Mrs. Payson T. Lowell, Mrs.
W. Sumner Radway, Mrs. William C.
Benedict, Mrs. L. B. Cubbison, Mrs.
Earle G. Knight, Mrs. Norman H.
Lake, Mrs. Charles E. Murnan and Mrs. Charles F. Onthank.

The weekly dinner dance will be held on Friday evening, March 17, from 7:30 to 11:30 o'clock, instead of Thursday evening, as has been the club custom.

NEWTONVILLE COMMUNITY FORUM

Professor Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston University, well known writer and lecturer on problems of modern education, will be the speaker at the final meeting for the winter of the Newtonville Community Forum.

The subject of Professor Sharp's address will be "Democracy and Education." Immediately following the address, twenty minutes to a half hour will be reserved for free discussion from the floor, in which all present are invited to take part.

Professor Sharp's popularity will undoubtedly call out a large audience and make this last meeting of the Forum one of the most successful during the winter.

The meeting will be held Sunday, March 12, at 4 P. M., in the Central Congregational Church, Walnut street, Newtonville. The Technical High School Orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion. All residents of Newton and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

N. H. S.

A most successful dance was held at the Newton Classical High School by the pupils of the High School. It was called the "Feminine Follies," from the fact that the girls of the school were required to invite the boys to the dance and to ask for all the dances.

The boys were also also all the dances. The necessity of buying refreshments for their partners, the girls likewise taking the part of the boy in this respect. There was a larger attendance at this dance than there has been at any of the previous "gym" dances held this year.

An all-senior dance was held in the library of the Technical High School on Friday afternoon of last week, only members of this year's class being permitted to come. Ian Fraser rendered several solos, and a prize dance was won by Arthur Manning and Miss Bertha Roberts. Miss Doonan and Miss Bigelow served as patronesses, while Louis Kirsch was in charge of the arrangements.

THE COPLEY THEATRE—The success of "The Daughter of the House" at the Copley Theatre is another proof of the appeal of an American dramatist to American audiences.

Its third week will begin on Monday evening, and Miss Gladys Unger, its author, who was present at its opening performance, is enthusiastic over the admirable manner in which it is acted and staged there under Mr. Jewett's personal direction.

In the evening performance, Miss Hains succeeded in mingling with exceptional skill the elements both of humor, laughter and emotion, and with the assistance of the actors, she tells a story in a dramatic fashion that keeps alive the interest and the curiosity of the audience. After the tense scene at the close of the third act there are invariably eight or ten curtain calls at every performance.

WELLESLEY CHIEF'S CAR IN COLLISION

A new automobile, operated by Fire Chief John P. Doyle of Wellesley, on February 25th last, collided in West
Newton with another car driven by R.
W. Wales of Auburndale, skidded across Washington street, hitting a large elm tree, and then crashed through the fence in front of St.
Bernard's Church. Both cars were more or less damaged, but fortunately nobody was injured.

MARDI GRAS CARNIVAL

The Drill Corps of Gethsemane Commandery, No. 35, Knights Tem-plar, of Newtonville, announce a novel entertainment Thursday evening, March 23rd, at Temple Hall, Newton-ville.

The entertainment is under the able supervision of E. S. Knight Asa C.
Jewett, who was responsible for the wonderful success of the Mardi Gras of 1910-11-12. He is assisted by G. F.
Zedren, L. D. MacNutt, J. H. Anderson,
C. Hernandez, A. E. Allen, F. O. Burkholder and W. B. Sargent.

The decorations, favors and souvenirs are the latest thing, many having been imported from Europe.

The program consists of a Mardi Gras Festival, "Original Dutch Rathskeller" concert, whist and dance. It is so arranged as to be one continuous round of pleasure from 8 P. M. until the last train home.

The attendance is limited to 500, so as to assure each guest will be taken care of in comfort. Each member of the Drill Corps is on the reception committee, assuring everyone of an enjoyable evening.

NEWTON COMMUNITY HOUSE

955 Watertown Street, Near Waltham,
W. Newton

We still believe that this work has a future and the Boy Scout building seems to be a suitable place for it.
This spring we are looking forward to this house being met with great success. It is true that we want the best community possible, and you can help the community by helping this house.
Your aid can be in the form of finance, books, cast-off clothing, etc. If in need of girls to do housework, or laundry work, or young men to do chores, I shall be glad to accommodate you, since I am in a position to do so. Call 107-R or 1349-R W.
Newton. Ask for Mr. Hill.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

A special series of evangelistic services will begin in the Newtonville Methodist Church next Sunday night, at 7:30 o'clock, to be held every night except Saturdays, conducted by Rev.
Dr. Ward Mosher, evangelist, assisted by Mrs. Mosher, chorister. A large chorus is being organized, and other musical features will be added. Special nights for various church societies will be announced. Everyone cordially invited.

Dr. Mosher is just closing a most successful campaign in the Methodist Church at Chelsea. He has the reputation of being an able preacher, a hard and conscientious worker, and brings with him a record of wonderful accomplishments in evangelistic work in other cities.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL

The annual meeting of the Central Council of Newton will be an open meeting to be held at the Newton Club, Walnut street, Newtonville, on Tuesday evening, March 14th, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Robert Kelso, executive secretary of the Boston Central Council, has been invited to be the speaker of the evening. He has chosen as his subject "The Council Movement and the Boston Experiment."

The Central Council of Newton extends a cordial invitation to all citizens who are interested in the closer federation of social and civic activities of this city.

CITY HALL NOTES

City Clerk Grant was confined to the house all last week on account of sickness.

Alderman Young, chairman of the Public Works Committee, acting city clerk, acting clerk of committees, and his own stenographer, was fairly busy at the aldermanic meeting Monday night.

Street Commissioner Stuart announces that the Civil Service Commission is to hold a competitive examination for Superintendent of the Forestry Division of the Street Department at as early a date as possible.

City Hall was closed on Monday on account of the funeral of the late Charles Benyon, Supt. of the Forestry
Division.

BRAE BURN CLUB

Fred Stone on Friday gave a farewell sitting party at the Brae-Burn Golf Club to members of the "Tip Top" company, who have been leaving at as early a date as possible.

City Hall was closed on Monday on account of the funeral of the late Charles Benyon, Supt. of the Forestry
Division.

After the outing the company went to the Hotel Bouraine, where the grill rooms were turned over to a dinner, at which Mr. Stone was the host.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Miss Ruth Hains, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Hains, of Hunnewell avenue, Newton, and Mr. Bruce Johnson, of Binghamton, N. Y., was announced at a tea given at the Hains residence on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Hains is a graduate of Miss Haskell's school, and Mr. Johnson, who is the son of Mr.
and Mrs. James W. Johnson, of "Small Acres," Binghamton, N. Y., is a graduate of Cornell.

A CONCERT OF EASTERN MUSIC

On Thursday evening, March 16th, a concert of rare interest is offered by the Woman's Association of Central Church, Newtonville. Many have heard Miss Marie Bashian in other years in Newton. She comes from her further studies in New York, and from concert tours in New England and the West to sing several groups of Folk Songs. In costume, she interprets the best of the songs of Russia, of the Slavic races of the Balkans, and of her native land of Armenia. The press notices of Miss Bashian are uniformly strong in praise of her rich and well trained voice. Miss Lillian West of Newtonville will be at the piano.

Mrs. Carrie Gilman Edwards will share the program with selections of Russian piano pieces by Rachmaninoff, Tchaikowski, Rubenstein and others. The evening will be a real musical treat to all who can be present. Eight o'clock is the hour and the parlors of Central Church the place.

LEND-A-HAND DRAMATICS

On Saturday, April 1st, comes the matinee for children at Jordan Hall,
"Little Women," produced by the Lend-a-Hand Dramatic Club of Greater Boston, under the direction of Miss Caroline L. Freeman of West Newton. The cast includes a number of prominent people from the Newtons:
Mrs. Norman Pratt as Mrs. March,
Miss Barbara Wellington as Jo, Miss Narissa Varney as Amy, Miss Charlotte D. Phinney as Laurie, Mrs. H. I.
Harriman as Professor Bhaer, and Miss Priscilla Ordway as John Brooke.

Why is the Household Department, Boston Globe, the

March 15, at which Prof. Holcomb would speak on proportional representation, was accepted.

Petitions of James W. French, Phillips Byfield, J. G. Schroder, T. Wallace (Travis) and Robert J. Burns, for auctioneer licenses; Luis Zarro for a victualler license, 315 Centre street, and of E. B. Church, Bennington street; C. J. Davis, 324 Water-town street; R. G. Crosby, 122 Ward street and 7 Garrison street; Delia Flemming, Channing street, and L. A. Boudrot, 628 Boylston street, for private garages, were granted. Other petitions were received from Harry Kovitz for taxi license; Cachador Kosroff, 1207 Chestnut street; J. V. Monaghan's Sons, for renewal of gasoline permit, Auburn street; Harry G. Goward, 91 Newtonville avenue; Mrs. A. L. Winsor, Middlesex road, and V. Amendala, 378 Boylston street, for private garages; F. M. Cain, for loss of pay while suspended as a police officer; Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for separation Forestry and Street Departments; Lizzie A. Nickerson, for abatement of assessment on Rossmore street; E. G. Gill, for abatement of assessment on Warwick road, and of J. Hoffman, for transfer of junk license to Barrieau court.

A hearing was assigned on petition of the M. & B. St. Railway Co., for track and pole locations for turnout on Walnut street, Ward 2.

Leave to withdraw was granted on request for parking space on Washington street, west of Walnut street, after Alderman Young explained that the committee deemed it best to wait and see how the experiment to be tried east of Walnut street would work out.

Alderman Young, by the way, was the busiest man at the meeting. In the absence of City Clerk Grant, on account of sickness, Mr. Young acted as clerk of the board, was chairman and clerk of the Public Works committee, during a long recess, prepared the reports and orders from that meeting, and took the floor several times to speak on matters coming from his committee.

The board had a long discussion over the majority report of the committee on legislation, which was adverse to a petition to the General Court to change term of service of members of the School Committee from three to two years. Alderman Nichols pointed out that school committees had been in existence since 1826, and that from 1857 the term of service in every city and town in the state had been for three years. Indeed, rather than to reduce the term of service, the tendency of the times was in the opposite direction, assessors and selectmen being usually elected for three year terms. Mr. Nichols said that better service was obtained from long terms and that school committees, in particular, should be kept free from political influence. Mr. Nichols disagreed with the statement that our schools were not so efficient as other departments, and maintained that the personnel of the School Committee could average with that of the aldermen. (Mr. Nichols expressly exempted the present board from this comparison, on the ground that it had not yet been in office long enough to be judged.) Newton's supremacy in education was conceded, and graduates of our High School stand higher at Harvard than all other schools. In the matter of junior high schools, our committee had not been premature, as 49 cities and towns in Massachusetts now have that system. Mr. Nichols claimed that the record of the Newton schools was such that every citizen of Newton might well be proud.

Alderman Heathcote, after a wholly unnecessary slur on Alderman Nichols for sending his children to private schools, stated that there had been a small committee dominating the School Committee, just as it had dominated the Board of Aldermen for years. This matter is merely submitted to the voters for their action. Mr. Heathcote complimented the Graphic for its position on school matters. Alderman White said that this order was based on the constitution of Massachusetts. There had been no slurring and no charges of extravagance. Mr. White had great confidence in the electorate of Newton, and believed they had some rights in this matter. As for himself, he had not yet heard "His Master's Voice" either here or at the State House. Alderman Carter said that while the aldermen faced many business problems with which, as business men, they were fairly familiar, the School Committee have to make a study of education, and it is wise to give them a longer term of office. Alderman Ross suggested that possibly after 65 years of the present method it might be wise to make a change, and also pointed out that it would be possible to re-elect members of the School Committee under the new plan.

Alderman Whidden expressed his surprise and amazement at the action of the School Committee in abandoning the Davis School. He defended the conditions at the school, saying that the present budget had items to correct the improper conditions which needed attention. He suggested that the voters might consider favorable action by the board on the School Committee term of service as a punitive measure for the action taken at the new Junior High School on Crafts street. He wanted the question of whether or not the voters desired a change to go on the ballot, rather than the proposed question of making a direct change. Alderman Phipps suggested a public hearing on the matter, which was opposed by Alderman White, who declared that the hall could be filled with either proponents or opponents of the measure, and also that there was need for early action if the matter was to be considered by the present Legislature. Alderman Nichols said that any action tending to weaken the authority of the local School Committee would help towards the centralization of power at the State House.

In reply to the criticism of Alderman Heathcote, relative to the attendance of his children at private schools, Mr. Nichols stated that his eldest child had attended the public schools, but was now in a preparatory school, where he had the opportunity for better physical training than was now possible in the public schools; that his daughter was at present attending the Bigelow School, and that his youngest child would attend that school when old enough. President Hollis took the floor to remark that there was no animus shown at the committee hearing, and that he was not aware of the influences behind the present order. A motion to postpone was defeated, 8 to 10, and the report was accepted by a vote of 9 to 11. Aldermen Ball, Bandfield, Melcher, Nichols, Phipps, Pratt, Saltonstall and Smith voting to accept. An order authorizing the mayor and city solicitor to petition for legislative action on this matter was then defeated by a tie vote of 10 to 10. Alderman Whidden voting in the negative with the men mentioned above.

On report of the Public Works committee, the Planning Board was asked to report on the proposal to connect the Charles River Boulevard and Nantum square by a new street along the present Hyde brook. Hearings were assigned for March 20 on sewers in Waban avenue and Lathrop street; on edgestones on Dally street; on laying out of Harvard street extension, and on a building line on Auburndale avenue. Betterment assessments were levied on Priscilla road, Old Colony road and Mayflower road; curbing was ordered laid on Webster street; $156 appropriated for weather strips at the Stearns School, and $1,200 for repairs to sheds rear of the Technical High School.

A hearing was assigned for April 17th on the proposed zoning ordinance and an ordinance adopted requiring the examination of the comptroller's books.

An order was adopted directing a petition to the Legislature for an "elimination primary" for the city election where more than two candidates were concerned. Alderman White said it was unfair to the voters to require them to have one form of a ballot at the State election and another at the city election. The order was adopted without discussion.

There was some discussion over the order widening Commonwealth avenue on a striking Mr. McVicar's land for that purpose. Alderman White contending that the award of $1,500, made by the committee, was insufficient, and on his motion the amount was raised to $2,000, and the order passed.

An order for legislative authority to reimburse the former Comptroller of accounts, John Daboll, for expenses in his office, was referred to a committee.

A resolution looking towards a conference between the aldermen and School Committee, in regard to a new school house on the site of the Davis School, was defeated.

The board adjourned at 11:40.

Man-Power and Equipment That Mean Battery Service

CHARLES M. SCHWAB is credited with saying: "Give me the men and I can make or sell anything." It's Service that we have to sell. So we started out by getting around us the MEN that could make that Service mean something. Men who know their business, men who can show you what they know. Men who are farsighted enough to make an expensive repair when it would be just as easy to sell a new battery. Men who know that only by doing these things can they hope to win and hold the confidence of every car owner in town.

And these men are backed up by the mechanical equipment that makes their work a pleasure to them. This, too, means much to you as a car owner. It means minimum time where a repair is needed and a grade of workmanship otherwise impossible.

And it is a pleasure, too, in this business of ours, to be able to look our friends square in the eye and recommend the Philadelphia Diamond Grid Battery, Guaranteed for Two Years, by the manufacturers as well as ourselves.

POLICE NOTES

Richard Houghton, 16, a son of Ernest Houghton of 1733 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, was arrested Wednesday afternoon and locked up at police headquarters on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny. He was caught after he had drawn a knife on Nathaniel Black, 50 Court street, Newtonville; had sunk his teeth in Black's hand, and had led a score of pursuers for a number of blocks.

The arrest of young Houghton, the police believe, clears up the mystery surrounding the larceny of many pieces of radio telephone apparatus in the vicinity during the last few weeks. Several days ago John Pyle of 1717 Washington street reported to the police that radio instruments, valued at $70, had been stolen from his apartment on the third floor, on Wednesday. John Black, 15-year-old son of Nathaniel Black, saw a boy climbing in a window of the Pyle apartment from the back porch roof. He shouted and ran toward the house. The boy slid down to the floor below as a woman came out on the porch in answer to the shouting.

Young Houghton dashed in through the open door and down the stairs to the street. Mr. Black, returning home at this moment, ran over and tackled the boy.

Inspector Shaughnessy arrived a few minutes later in a police automobile, and finally caught Houghton on Central avenue. A jimmy and a bunch of skeleton keys were found on him. He gave up the stolen instruments found at his home.

NEWTON REALTY BROKERS ORGANIZE

At a mass meeting of real estate brokers of Newton last Friday, a Brokers' Association was organized to unite all real estate brokers of Newton in closer bonds of fellowship; to protect and promote the real estate business; to stand for efficient service to clients and customers and to strive for a higher standard of ethics in the real estate business.

The constitution and by-laws which were adopted call for a committee of civic affairs, and shall have referred to it all civic matters which directly or indirectly have an effect on real estate in this city.

The following officers were elected: President, J. Edward Callanan; 1st vice-president, Alfred E. Alvord; 2nd vice-president, William J. Cozens, Jr.; 3rd vice-president, Cleveland A. Holden; 4th vice-president, Philip Byfield; secretary, Thomas H. Burns; treasurer, Albert H. McAuslan.

Waban

Mrs. George M. Angier has returned from a trip to Hartford and New York.

The annual meeting of the Neighborhood Club will be held next Wednesday evening, at which several important matters will be considered.

On Saturday afternoon, Feb. 25th, Mr. Gifford Le Clear of Upland road interests Wellesley College students with a smart demonstration of Badminton at the Newton Badminton Club.

The Ladies' Circle at the Union Church in Waban had a full meeting last Wednesday, and a delicious luncheon was served. The ladies will meet again Wednesday, the 15th, to sew for the N. E. Peabody Home for Crippled Children, from 1.30 to 5.

On Saturday afternoon, Feb. 25th, Mrs. Adna Denison of Ashmont road and Mr. William Ayer of Newton Highlands, played fast and attractive, but, unsuccessful Badminton against Mrs. Allen Greenough of Newton Centre and Mr. Adna Denison of Waban.

You can read it anywhere—on crowded street cars—elevated trains or at the breakfast table; it is printed in handy, convenient, tabloid form. All the news and all the pictures every day in the Boston Daily Advertiser, New England's Great Pictorial Newspaper.

Lower Falls

The choir of St. Mary's Church, Newton Lower Falls, are rehearsing for the cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," which they are to give on Palm Sunday evening.

DEATH OF MRS. KELLY

On Friday morning, March 3rd, there passed into the "Great Beyond" the soul of one of our most beloved residents, Mrs. Francis Chase Kelly, widow of the late Francis Chase Kelly, of 91 Central street, Auburndale.

She was born in "Mason Village," what is now called Greenville, N. H., June 2, 1861.

She lived there until twelve years of age, then moved to Andover, Mass. In her early days she taught school, and received most of her education at Abbot Academy. She would teach awhile and go to the academy awhile.

Among her scholars were nieces and nephews of Harriet Beecher Stowe and many other children belonging to the faculty. In 1857 she went to Oberlin, Ohio, where she attended Oberlin College, but on account of her health she returned to Andover. In November, 1858, she married Francis Chase Kelly, and lived in Lawrence until October, 1865, when they moved to Auburndale, where she has made her home ever since. Mr. Kelly passed away in 1904.

Mrs. Kelly was a devoted church member, having united with the Congregational Church in 1866, and being the oldest member. For years she was an ardent worker in all the benevolent and missionary societies of the church.

She was a charter member of the "Mothers' Association."

She was an earnest, devoted Christian, always cheerful, and up to her death she took a keen interest in all the social and religious activities of the community. She was beloved by all who knew her, and wherever she went friends thronged about her to give her a cordial greeting.

Her life was one round of doing good, and she lived the Golden Rule. She was always not so many years old, but so many years young. Her wonderful, sunny disposition won for her a host of friends, and none knew her but to love her.

She particularly enjoyed looking back to the days when she taught in the Sunday school, and in those days she would begin with very young girls and teach them until they were married. Many mothers remember her faithfulness to them in this way.

She leaves two sons, Arthur W. Kelly, with whom she made her home, and Rev. Edw. P. Kelly, who is at present living in Wellfleet, and one grandson, Arthur Pope Kelly.

The funeral service was held from her late home Monday, Rev. E. P. Drew officiated, and he paid a most glowing tribute to this wonderful woman. Miss Sally E. Turner sang two of Mrs. Kelly's favorite hymns, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Jerusalem, the Golden." The flowers were many and beautiful. Interment was in Newton Cemetery.

WEST NEWTON NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE

The Italian Women's Association held its first annual meeting at the Neighborhood House on Monday evening, March 6th. A banquet was served at 8 o'clock with fifty seated at the tables. They invited the Mothers' Club of the Neighborhood House as guests and gave them a party so attractive and delightful that it will not be forgotten for a long time.

Mr. Romanoli, chef of the Brae Burn Country Club, took charge of the banquet and a most delightful and appreciative group.

The table was unusual in its decorations. Mr. Romanoli making artistic groups of flowers and fruit, cut out of vegetables and an individual decoration for each.

The menu was chicken bouillon, chicken salad, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee. Music was played all during the meal by a stringed orchestra.

After the games some of the younger boys played for dancing. One of the outstanding features was the Italian Tarantella danced by some of the members.

Mrs. Argento, as president of the club, surely deserves much praise and credit for a wonderful evening, and no less appreciation is deserved by Mr. Romanoli.

A group of members of this Italian Club are interested workers in the Red Cross Home Nursing Class held at the Neighborhood House.

The night of this meeting at the Neighborhood House there were 125 people and it was a place alive with fun and enjoyment.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

State Federation activities are abating somewhat this month, the districts through the state having had their respective conferences for the most part, particularly those to inform the women concerning legislative matters. The centre of attention for the Legislative department now is the State House following the hearings and subsequent action upon the bills endorsed at the Mid-winter meeting.

Tuesday of next week there will be a joint Art and Civics conference for the Eighth district at Hotel Kimball, Springfield. At the morning session, the chairmen of these departments will present the respective aims and activities, which will be followed by brief reports from club chairmen. A luncheon will be served. For the afternoon session there will be two addresses and a visit to the public library and the art museum, of which Springfield citizens are justly proud.

The plan for having these district conferences solves in a measure certain difficulties, which have always been apparent, in spreading Federation interest throughout the state, and in bringing to individual club women the fact that they themselves are a part of the Federation. Since the centre of club membership is east of Worcester it has been very easy for the Federation board to centralize activities about Boston with the result that the clubs of the western part of the state have felt out of it and their interest in Federation matters has been much less than it would otherwise have been. With frequent department conferences in these sections the Federation will become a tangible thing and the whole movement strengthened.

Local Announcements

On Monday afternoon the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Miss Adelaide R. Webster of 10 Chester street.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands will meet on March 13, with Mrs. Seward Jones. Two plays, "The Silent System" and "A Bill of Divorcement" will be read. And there will also be given a review of John Drew's present play.

Mrs. Grace M. Poole gives her regular lecture upon Current Events before the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, March 14.

The Literature committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club announces a class in "Modern Verse," beginning on March 16, and continuing on the first and third Thursdays of April and May. At the first meeting, which will be with Mrs. Edward K. Titus, Henry Van Dyke will be the topic. This course is intended to be a genuine study class and the leaders for the most part will be members of the club.

At the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club next Wednesday morning Mrs. Edward M. Moore will give a paper on "Modern English Essayists."

The Community Service Club of West Newton has arranged a Lenten Musicale for Wednesday afternoon.

An afternoon for story-lovers, both old and young, will be the program for the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday, March 14th, at the Methodist Parish House. Mrs. Mary Wilson Cronan of the Boston Public Library will bring us tales we all have loved in by-gone days. Following the entertainment tea will be served by the Hospitality committee. The afternoon will be in charge of the Literature committee, Mrs. J. Arthur Furbish, chairman.

Thursday, March 16, at 10.30 A. M., the Newton Centre Woman's Club will have a Style Show given by one of the Boston firms and accompanied by a lecture on "The Art of Dressing" by Miss Harriet E. Ainsworth. There will be models of both women's and misses' wear for street, sport, afternoon and evening occasions.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will meet on Thursday, March 16, in G. A. R. hall, Newtonville.

By request of the Literature committee of the Newton Community Club Mr. Norreys Jephson O'Connor will read from his own poems before the class next Wednesday afternoon. Mr. O'Connor will be pleased to read any of his poems suggested by the members of the class.

Members of the Newton Community Club who were unable to obtain their tickets for the club dramatics, which will be given on the afternoon and evening of March 23rd, may secure them by applying to Mrs. Howard Norton, 115 Hunnewell avenue, or Miss Dorothy Simpson, 57 Hunnewell avenue. The usual restriction upon guests does not apply to this performance, so members may purchase as many guest tickets as they choose.

The club dramatics this year are a marked innovation in that three one-act plays will be presented instead of a single play.

The Group Activities Committee of the Newton Community Club announces a trip to the Perkins Institution for the Blind in Watertown, Thursday, March 16, starting at 1.30 from the Newton Library. Local Happenings

On Monday afternoon the Newton Mothers' Club found the lecture by Dr. J. Mace Andrews on "The Child as an Artist," most interesting, and his slides added much to the enjoyment. Serving as hostesses together with home the meeting was held, were Mrs. W. F. Chase, Mrs. C. S. Cook, Mrs. Pitt F. Drew. Refreshments were served at the close of the lecture.

A large number of members and guests, children for the most part, of the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls enjoyed greatly the entertainment last Monday evening given by the Boston Juvenile Players.

The Waban Woman's Club held its annual Guest Night on Monday evening. The Neighborhood Club House was filled to overflowing, with a large and enthusiastic audience. A Pageant of Waban, written by Mrs. Frank L. Miller, was presented under the direction of Mrs. Wilfrid O. White with a cast of about one hundred and thirty. Mrs. Frederick H. Putnam, formerly of Waban, read the Prologue. Beginning with an Indian Novelist, the history of Waban was carried through the Colonial Days to the present time. Many of the costumes used by those taking part had been worn by their ancestors. The Episode of "Days Within the Memory of Many" caused considerable amusement. Then came the more serious Episode of the World War; with its War Veterans, Constabulary, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Red Cross, a War Dance by Mr. George Higgins and a dance, "The Spirit of Peace," by Mrs. Karl Heinzer. The last was a Tableau, "The Makers of Waban," and during this the audience all joined in singing a "Song to Waban," which was also written by Mrs. Miller.

O portal white of Waban Town,
We greet thee with a song;
Thy children fair, shall be our care
Our glory and our crown.
O Waban Town, fair Waban Town,
Who does not love thee well?
Who does not feel thy friendliness
And all thy glories tell?

O beautiful for stately trees
For river winding through.
For gardens rare and homes so fair
We sing thy praises true.
O Waban Town, fair Waban Town
May every good be thine.
And every wrong be overcome,
As we our tasks divine.

The Auburndale Review Club met on Tuesday, March 7, at the home of Mrs. William A. Leighton, on Williston Road. The papers included the island possessions of France and Spain, divided as follows: Miss Dike, for her mother, Mrs. Samuel W. Dike, read her paper on the South Sea group of West Indies; Mrs. Francis Farley told of the Belearic and Canary Islands; and Mrs. Kattelle, substituting for Mrs. Hildreth, of Corsica and Madagascar. A paper on Bermuda and the Bahamas, which Mrs. Amos R. Wells was unable to give Feb. 21, was also read this morning. Each paper made out its special islands as the one spot for winter-weary northerners, and all the listeners rejoiced that winter was nearly over, and their temptation so much lessened.

Captain Andre Morize received a very cordial welcome at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon. His address upon "France and Disarmament," was listened to with great interest and with the utmost sympathy for the difficult position confronting that country. The speaker stated that France has a deep, sincere desire for peace, that no one there wants any more war, for they are a peace-loving people, but public opinion today is very nervous for they are assured by certain internal evidence that Germany cannot be trusted, that although many of the people of Germany do not want war, the militaristic power is not dead. He cited evidence, which a French commission has found, of factories that are making supposedly parts for farm implements, but which nevertheless are exactly fitted to machine-guns, that immense quantities of chlorine are being made, that the Zeiss company is making an enormous number of trench telescopes, etc., etc. All these things make him feel that he realizes that it is impossible for them to disarm until German disarmament is an accomplished fact.

The French feel that until that is secured and until they have some assurance on the part of Great Britain and the United States of assistance in the case of future trouble, they cannot possibly diminish their armaments to any appreciable degree. They are nervous not only for their security, but also for their reparations, which are sorely needed to rebuild their devastated areas.

Capt. Morize feels that France did not get wholly fair treatment at the hands of the Washington Conference, especially from the newspapers, which have not stated the French position accurately. M. Jusserand has told him since the close of the conference that France never asked to build as many ships, but merely that for the time being and until 1927 France wants to keep her freedom of action to build up to the amount of tonnage reported. At present it is impossible for her to build a single ship.

At the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on Wednesday, March 8, Miss Florence L. Heard presented a paper on "Modern English Novelists," taking up George Moore, George Gissing, and Leonard Merrick. She discussed at length their different works and supplemented with readings.

Auburndale Woman's Club Chorus

Do not miss the concert of the Auburndale Woman's Club chorus on Wednesday evening, March 15, at 8 o'clock in Norumbega Hall. An interesting program is offered, including widely varied selections by the Chorus, a group of songs by the ever popular trio, and a solo by Mr. Spaulding, whose appearance is always welcome in Auburndale. For instrumental music two "cello" groups will be played by Miss Alice Totten of Taunton, who, though a stranger to Auburndale, brings an enviable reputation with her. A truly enjoyable evening is assured. A few tickets may still be procured from any member of the Chorus or of the Executive Board, or at Keyes' Drug Store.

NEWTON CENTRE SCHOOL ASSN

The Second Regular Meeting of the Newton Centre School Association was held in Mason School Hall on the evening of March 9, 1922, from 7.30 to 9.30 P. M.

It being Fathers' Night every available space in the hall was filled with interested fathers, mothers, and friends of the children and teachers.

After the Mason School orchestra had played three most enjoyable selections, under the direction of Miss Grossman of the West Newton Music School, the president of the Association, Mrs. Matt B. Jones, addressed the meeting.

The children of the Mason School under the untiring efforts of Miss Cecile C. Crandall gave a most remarkable performance of a Health Play called the "Fairy Health Game." Miss Crandall deserves most of the credit for the enthusiasm and success of the evening in having such unusual ability, not only to train so many children to such dramatic perfection but at the same time by her inspiring personality to influence the children taking part (Continued on Page 4.)

NEWTON CENTRAL COUNCIL

The "Newton Central Council" held its annual meeting at the Newton Club House last Tuesday evening. At the business meeting there was election of officers for the coming year. All the officers were re-elected—Mr. Henry I. Harriman, president; Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, vice-president; secretary, Miss Grace E. Miller; treasurer, Leon B. Rogers. This was followed with a most instructive address by Robert Kelso, who spoke on "The Council Movement and the Boston Experiment."

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The bowling prize offered this week by Herman C. Soule was won by Mr. J. W. Blaisdell of Arlington street. The prize offered for bowling on Washington's Birthday by President Blakemore was won by Mr. Edward O. Loring, after an exciting roll off with Mr. Edgar P. Burbank. The winner averaged 112 for five strings.

THE WABAN PAGEANT

Full Text of the Play given by the Waban Women's Club

In view of the wide interest taken in the recent Waban Pageant, given by the Waban Women's Club, under the direction of Mrs. Wilfred O. White, on its annual guest night, we are glad to give the following extracts from the Pageant, which have been kindly furnished us by the author, Mrs. Frank Lloyd Miller.

Prologue

Waban—"Wind or Spirit?" "Spirit or Wind," a name to conjure by, as we sit by our firesides and dream dreams, and see visions of those days long gone, when over her hills and along her grassy slopes, and wooded groves, no foot of white man trod; but in her sylvan glades was dusky maid, and warrior strong and stalwart, and the great Chief Waban;

while the birch bark canoe was paddled down the Charles, and birds and wild folks of the wood found here their home.

Waban—"Wind or Spirit?" "Spirit or Wind." This prologue served as an introduction to the Indian Episode, which consisted of 3 scenes. 1—Indian Home Life. 2—The Arrival of John Eliot, the Apostle to the Indians, and about to preach the first Protestant sermon in a pagan tongue in North America from the text, Ezekiel, 37:9-10. 3—Tableau, John Eliot and Waban, "Chief of the Nonantum." Waban with uplifted hands making his appeal to the Great Spirit while the reader recited to the beautiful tune of Mornington, the hymn, "Come, Holy Spirit, Come." The Episode of the Early Settlers was preceded by the following lines—the vision of Hiawatha has come true, and "The people with white faces, The bearded people of the wooden vessel

From the shining land of Waban, From the region of the morning," have taken the place of the redman, "Sweeping him westward, wild and woeful. Like the withered leaves of Autumn." This episode was visualized by two interior scenes in the home of an Early Settler, entitled Afternoon and Evening, and by an out-of-door scene, May Day on the Green.

D. R. MEETS

The annual meeting of the Sarah Hill Chapter, D. R., was held at the Newton Club, March 10, at 10 A. M. The following officers were elected for the year 1921-1922: Regent, Mrs. W. L. Sampson; vice-regents, Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, Dr. Marietta Putnam Reid, Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton; recording secretary, Mrs. Walter C. Whitney; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edgar M. Horne; assistant corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Agry; historian, Miss Helen Wells; counselors for two years, Mrs. Sidney R. Porter, Mrs. Monroe C. Rand; counselor for one year, Mrs. Everett Crawford; auditor, Mrs. Oliver M. Fisher. A luncheon followed the business meeting.

PRESENT TO CHIEF MITCHELL

Former Chief of Police Frederic M. Mitchell, who retired on March 1st, was surprised on Saturday afternoon by the gift of a gold watch by members of the force. The presentation was made by Capt. Burke on behalf of the men. Mrs. Mitchell, who was also present was given a cameo pin.

LASELL

This evening the juniors are entertaining the seniors at Woodland Park Hall with a dinner and dance.

A violin and piano recital by Lasell and Woodland was given in the Lasell gymnasium on Wednesday evening, under the direction of Miss Anna Elchorn and Miss Ida Bunting.

A merry and happy afternoon was enjoyed on Tuesday by ten of the younger children of the Woodland Park School, when they were entertained by a group of the Lasell girls. Games were played and delicious refreshments served.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Last Monday evening Mr. Pipkin, of the English department of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, spoke on his experiences in Germany last summer. He was a delegate to the World's Student Christian Federation. The speaker next Monday, March 20th, will be Representative John C. Brimblecom, who will speak about some interesting bills which are now before the Massachusetts Legislature.

Messrs. Fred W. Rust, H. T. Dougherty and H. W. Bascom attended the Messer dinner at the Boston Association on March 14th. L. Wilbur Messer of Chicago was the speaker.

The Camp committee met at the "Y" on Saturday afternoon to make plans for the coming season, which opened June 23rd. Another tennis court, rifle range and a phonograph are among the improvements which the committee have in mind.

The annual gymnastic demonstration will be held April 6th, at 8 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. This is one of the biggest events of the year. All the classes participate in the program of drills, games, races, gymnastics, clowns, dances, and so forth. All seats are reserved and are now on sale at the Y. M. C. A.

The Newton "Y" swimming relay team won the relay event at the Brookline Baths last Thursday night. Ten teams entered the race, and the local team carried away the honors. Noonan, Millard, Bang and Jaquith swam the team.

On next Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. hall, Mr. Louis E. Smith, famous singing evangelist, will talk to men and boys. In addition to being a splendid speaker and singer, Mr. Smith plays the auto-harp. He spoke, sang and played for a large group of boys about a year ago, and made a great hit with them. It is hoped that fully a hundred and fifty boys and men will turn out Sunday to greet him. The "Y" boys' orchestra, in charge of Philip Horne, director, will play.

State Boys' Day, March 18th
A half a million boys in Massachusetts and Rhode Island are becoming men. These boys hold the destiny of tomorrow in their hands. They will determine the quality of future citizenship—business, political and moral life. They will be the nation builders of tomorrow. This boy power is a gigantic power for good or evil. Each boy is an individual reflecting life and the institutions about him. He is absorbing the good as well as the evil of the world as he grows up.

For the past eleven years one day in March is designated as State Boys' Day, when the people of Newton, as well as others in the two states, are given an opportunity to share in the support of local, state, international and foreign work among boys, when the boys themselves become messengers calling upon their friends for financial support. Each year the response to the appeal increases and the boys are given tangible evidence of the people's interest. They are confidently expecting that the twenty-first State Boys' Day on Saturday, March 18th, will bring forth a bumper crop of dimes, quarters, halves and dollars to help produce a bumper crop of "100 per cent. sterling" boys. Will you help?

Boys' Grammar School Pool Tournament
On last Saturday afternoon, in the boys' gymnasium, the "Y" handicap pool tournament was run off, eighteen boys participating. Three handsome silver loving cups were presented the three best players. The first prize was won by Fred Emerton of Watertown, with a handicap of ten balls; second prize was won by Melvin Becker of Newtonville, with a handicap of eight balls; third prize was won by George Van Buskirk of Newton, with a handicap of ten balls. Fred Becker, the star pool player of the grammar schools, was the only scratch man. He won handsily over William Coutts, who had a ten-ball handicap, but lost out in the semifinals to George Van Buskirk. Paul Campbell finished in fourth place.

Track Meet
A track meet between the Association of the Newton Immanuel Baptist Church and the Aces Club of the Newtonville Central Congregational Church is scheduled for 7.30 P. M., Wednesday, March 22nd. As each group has won over the other in two previous contests, the interest in this third meet is running high. The public are invited to witness this contest. The admission is free.

CLEVER CLOVER CLUB MEETING
A Clever Clover Club meeting, filled full of interesting current event topics and specialties, was greatly enjoyed Wednesday by the thirty members present.

After the usual business Helen Stuart read a poem on "Sportsmanship," followed by a piano selection by Doris Siebert. Merman Saltz read a clever parody on Hiawatha, called "Hiawatha's Mittens"; Elizabeth Bonney gave a short talk on the Passion Play, and Albert Rochette a poem, entitled "Wagon Traffic." The feature of the meeting, however, was an original short story by Edward Murphy, cleverly written and well delivered. His piano selections, Chopin's Prelude in C Minor, and Rachmaninoff's Prelude, were also greatly enjoyed.

HUNNEWELL CLUB
There were eight tables in play at the bridge whist on Tuesday night, in charge of Mrs. E. O. Gruener. The winners were Mrs. E. W. Crawford and Mr. Goldwin S. Sprague. Mrs. Robert G. Howard, Mrs. John Lankenshaw, Mrs. A. W. Blakemore and Mrs. P. S. Jamieson poured.

The club bowling team lost all four pots to Commercial in the Newton Bowling League game on Wednesday evening.

Newton Centre

—The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian Church met Tuesday morning in the Unitarian Church parlors.

—Bishop Lawrence was the preacher at Trinity Church last Sunday morning, and also administered Confirmation.

—On Tuesday afternoon the Home Department of the Women's Society of the First Church were addressed by Rev. Herbert W. Gates.

—Next Monday evening the Men's Club of the First Church will observe Ladies night with an entertainment by the church orchestra to which the public is invited.

—The wedding of Miss Frances Hood, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur N. Hood of Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, and Mr. Gilbert King of Washington, D. C., will take place on June 8th.

—The churches of this village united last Sunday afternoon in a "Law and Order" service at the First Church. Mr. Robert A. Woods of the South End House of Boston, and Mr. Allan C. Emery were the speakers.

—At the First Church Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, the Masterpieces of the Lenten season will be presented by pictures on the screen and by living pictures posed by Miss Lois Bailey. Prof. Albert E. Bailey will interpret the pictures and there will be music by a choir from Boston University.

—Word has been received that Mr. Lawrence B. Rice of Summer street has won the tennis championship of Bermuda, defeating Vincent Richards 3 sets to 1. It was also said that Mr. Rice had reached the finals in both the men's doubles and the mixed doubles.

—The Neighborhood Circles of the Baptist Church will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Sidney R. Porter of Trelton road, Mrs. Stephen Greene of Alden street, Mrs. William C. Breyer of Gibbs street, Misses Taylor and Everts of Bradford court, Mrs. J. C. Berkeley of Oxford road, and Mrs. Levi B. Dowley of Hancock avenue.

—The Men's Club of Trinity parish was the host on Tuesday evening to the Men's Clubs of the Congregational, Baptist and Methodist Churches, and the Layman's League of the Unitarian Church. Prof. William Z. Ripley of Harvard, and a resident of this village, gave a talk on "Present Conditions of the Railroads in the United States."

—"Why I Am an Optimist" will be the subject of an address in Trinity Church next Sunday evening at 7.15, by Thomas W. Proctor, the well known lecturer of the firm of Nason and Proctor. This address was delivered to "The Neighbors" and "The Villagers" organizations of Newton Centre business men, who were so impressed by it as a tonic for today, that a request has been made for its publication. Anthems from "The Crucifixion" by Stainer and "Haydn's Creation" will be sung at the morning and evening services.

—Miss Doris Badger of Dudley road has accepted the office of general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. which is being started in Newton. Miss Badger is a graduate of the Boston School of Physical Education and also of Westover School, Middlebury, Conn. During the World War she served overseas, first with the Y. M. C. A., and later with the American committee for devastated France, and last summer she was at the head of the Louise Andrews Camp, at East Northfield. Miss Badger has done volunteer work at the Y. W. C. A. here in Boston, where her mother is chairman of the Blue Triangle.

COMMUNITY CLUB DRAMATICS

An entirely new plan has been pursued by the committee on the annual dramatics of the Newton Community Club for this year's performance. Three one-act plays, "Poor Old Jim," by William de Mille; "The Kleptomaniac," by Margaret Cameron, and "Doctor Auntie," by Alice Brown, have been selected for presentation. Instead of the three-act play as heretofore, in order to spread the interest among the club as much as possible, and to give many the benefit which comes from participating, a wholly new cast of players has been selected and an immense amount of work has gone into the preparation. Those who will take part are: Miss Florence T. Heard, Mrs. Edward O. Loring, Mrs. Frank Ashley Day, Mrs. A. J. Delling, Miss Jessie Carney, Mrs. Wallace Wales, Mrs. Victor B. Mead, Miss Grace M. Burt, Mrs. Thomas Calhoun, Mr. Geoffrey Baker and Mr. William Pawcett.

The play by Alice Brown has never before been presented upon any stage, and it is expected that Miss Brown will attend.

—Mr. L. B. King of Floral street has returned from Washington, D. C.

—Mr. John Breck has bought a house in Hingham for his own occupancy.

—Mrs. Harry P. Ayer of Lakewood road entertained guests at luncheon on Monday last.

—Mrs. Simpson of Lakewood road left for York Beach last week. Mrs. Simpson is to open a "tea-room" at her summer cottage there early in the season.

—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tarbell of Lincoln street are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a grand-daughter, whose mother was formerly Miss Louise Tarbell.

—During the Lenten season Rev. S. H. Woodrow will conduct a young people's training class in the ladies' parlor of the Congregational Church, every Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

—Mrs. Samuel H. Woodrow, wife of the pastor of the Congregational Church, has arrived here from St. Louis. Dr. and Mrs. Woodrow expect to occupy the parsonage some time this month.

—A reception will be given in the kindergarten of the Hyde School on March 23rd, from two to five P. M., in honor of Miss Emily Titus, whose engagement has recently been announced. The public are invited, but the invitation is extended especially to the parents of the former and present pupils of the kindergarten class. Mrs. A. M. Beers is chairman of the reception committee.

—Last October the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands established a "Salvage Service" as one means of adding to its building fund. Since then this Salvage Service has done $980. worth of business. Mrs. William H. Bicknell, 84 Erie avenue, has just been appointed director, to fill the place left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. John W. Locke, who had had charge of the work since its beginning.

"LET'S GET MARRIED"

The Newton Grade Teachers' Club most successfully gave the comedy "Let's Get Married" at Players' Hall, March 13th, to a capacity audience.

The club is much indebted to the members of the Schoolmasters' Club who so ably assisted in the presentation of the play. Mr. Louis E. Nash, Mr. Richmond S. Barton and Mr. Charles A. Goodwin of the cast; Mr. John Fitzsimmons, electrician; and Mr. Carl Swan who sold tickets at the door; to the Junior Quartet of Newton Centre who furnished the music; to Mr. Charles E. Hatfield whose interest and advice were so generously given, to the advertisers who contributed to the program, and to those many friends who gave candy, lent costumes and properties and in various ways contributed to the success of the affair.

The entire proceeds go to Sick Benefit Fund, $100 of which has just been given to a teacher who has recently undergone a serious operation.

WEST NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

On Sunday, March 19, at 3 o'clock, at the Peirce School, West Newton, the pupils of the West Side Branch of the West Newton Music School will give a pupil's recital with numbers by the Junior and Senior Orchestras of the School. Those interested in the work of the School are cordially invited to attend.

The West Newton Music School offered an interesting recital, given by the pupils of the North Centre, in the Stearns School, Nonantum, on Tuesday, March 7th. Seventeen boys and girls gave piano and violin solos and two ensemble numbers. The Stearns School orchestra led by Miss Broughton played, and Miss Forte gave pleasure with her artistic performance of a Prelude in E by Bach for violin.

The Harvard Glee Club with Dr. Archibald Davidson conducting comes to Players Hall on Friday evening, March 24th, at 8.15, under the auspices of the West Newton Music School.

DEATH OF MRS. BROWN

Mrs. Henrietta Elizabeth Brown, who died Friday at Newton Centre, had for a long time been living in Waltham, but lately had been living at the Hotel Puritan, Boston. She was the daughter of the late Henry J. R. Farnum, senior partner in the firm of Davis & Farnum Manufacturing Company which conducted an iron foundry. In 1877 she was married to Frank H. Brown, who was a manager in the same concern. He died four years ago. Since that time the widow had kept up a close interest in the business and she was vice president of the company. Mrs. Brown's nearest survivor is a sister, Mrs. M. Robbins Bowden, of 1007 Beacon street, Newton Centre.

THE AUBURNDALE BROTHERHOOD

The Executive Officer of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, Mr. C. L. Baine, a successful official and an enthusiastic and able speaker, will address the March meeting of the Brotherhood on the subject, "The Effect of Wages on Business," and will answer questions from the floor. The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting which will be held in the Chapel of the Auburndale Congregational Church at 7.45 P. M. on Tuesday, March 21. The usual supper and business meeting for members will precede the address.

ESTEY-TYLER

The wedding of Miss Edith Martha Tyler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Tyler, of Waverley avenue, Newton, and Mr. Jacob Poor Estey of Brattleboro, Vermont, took place last Saturday afternoon at Channing Church, Newton. The decorations at the church were palms, calla lilies and cathedral candles. While the guests were assembling Miss Tiltin, the organist, assisted by Miss Louise Serra, violinist, played several selections, with the "Bridal Chorus," from Lohengrin, on the entrance of the bride and Mendelssohn's Wedding March for the recessional.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chester A. Drummond, pastor of the church, the bride being given in marriage by her father.

The bridal party consisted of Mrs. Joseph G. Estey of Brattleboro, Vt., as matron of honor; Miss Miriam E. Felt of Franklin, Penn., as maid of honor, and the Misses Elmer Palmer of Portland, Me.; Mary C. Badol of Bridgeport, Conn.; Margaret Blakely, Marion Schneider and Audrey Bolton, of Boston, and Mrs. Granville B. Fuller of Boston, as bridesmaids.

The bride gown was of white satin, beaded with pearls and trimmed with Duchess lace. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias, freesia and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore yellow chiffon, a yellow tulle hat, with ostrich feathers to match; the maid of honor was in pink chiffon, with pink tulle hat and ostrich feathers to match, and the bridesmaids were gowned alike in lavender, with lavender tulle hats and the bride's attendants carried bouquets of lilacs, acacia and sweet peas.

Mr. Joseph G. Estey of Brattleboro, Vt., a brother of the groom, was the best man, and the ushers included the bride's brother, Mr. Roger B. Tyler of Newton, and Messrs. Dennison B. Cowles, Paul A. Chase of Brattleboro, Vt.; C. Joseph Dexter of Philadelphia, Curtis L. Norton of Catskill, N. Y., and Algernon S. Norton of Buffalo, N. Y.

A largely attended reception followed at the home of the bride on Waverley avenue, Newton. Mr. and Mrs. Estey being assisted in receiving by Mrs. William J. Tyler and Mrs. Hattie P. Estey. The house was beautifully decorated with Southern smilax, geraniums, jonquils and palms.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Estey will reside at Brattleboro, Vermont, where they will be at home after May 15th.

The bride is a graduate of Smith College, class of 1921, and the groom graduated from Amherst in 1918.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

The tenth and final concert of the season will be given at the Commonwealth Country Club for members and their guests on Sunday afternoon, March 19, at 4 o'clock. The concert will be given by the Moorhouse Trio, comprising Josephine T. Durrell, violinist; Ethel Crome Bryant, pianist, and Marion L. Moorehouse, cellist. The soloists will be Elizabeth Mackay Howard, soprano.

Monday, March 20, will be the last luncheon lecture of the course which has been given by Mrs. J. W. Ferguson Kennedy (Barbara Bradford). In this final lecture Mrs. Kennedy will speak on Eugene Brieux and some of his plays, and on Events of the Day. The lecture will begin at 13 o'clock. The hostesses will be Mrs. William R. Ford of Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent of West Newton. These lectures have been given in aid of the Fatherless Children of France.

The dinner dance of Thursday evening, March 23, will be omitted, but there will be the usual dinner dance on Thursday evening, March 30.

BRAE BURN COUNTRY CLUB

At the recent annual meeting of the club, Mr. Henry B. Day, who has been elected president for some time, was elected president of the club; W. L. Crocker was re-elected vice president, Edward F. Woods, secretary; and William A. Young, treasurer. The number of directors was increased from 10 to 15 and the following elected:

Henry B. Day, Edward F. Woods, William A. Young, George A. Frost, W. B. H. Dowse, Harry L. Ayer, John W. Estabrook, Everett S. Litchfield, W. L. Crocker, E. H. Brock. The five new directors are: E. N. Kimball, F. L. Richardson, Leon B. Rogers, Ray Gorton, Durham Jones.

DEATH OF MR. HINDS

Mr. Fred C. Hinds, a resident of this city for the past thirty years died on Sunday at his home on Mt. Ida street, Newton, following an illness of three months. Mr. Hinds was born in Calais, Me., and was 68 years of age. For many years he was identified with the street railway business in this part of the city. He retired from active business in 1919. He was a direct descendant of Elder Ebenezer Hinds who was one of the first Baptist preachers of this vicinity from 1753 to 1767 and who was one of the founders of Brown University. He was a member of the Massachusetts Society of Mayflower Descendants and the Sons of the American Revolution. Mr. Hinds is survived by his widow, who was formerly Emma Sargent of Chelsea, and there are three children: Miss Ethel M. Hinds and Messrs. Fred W. Hinds and Horace Hinds, all of Newton. Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Rev. Dr. George S. Butters officiating, and the burial was at the Newton Cemetery.

NEWTON CLUB

The disabled soldiers from nearby hospitals will again be the guests of the club next Tuesday evening.

In the Newton Bowling League on Wednesday, Newton defeated the Neighborhood Club team from Waban, 3 to 1.

When Jack Dempsey, World's Champion Pugilist, said: "I'm lonesome and want to marry," twenty-five hundred Boston and New England girls proposed marriage to him. Read their proposal letters—an every day feature in the Boston Daily Advertiser.

MISS E. H. FREEMAN'S GROUP OF ACTORS

It is often urged upon new enterprises that one cannot start anything in one's home town. In spite of almost universal discouragement, the idea of training a local group of actors to play various types of good or original drama, has persisted in the mind of Miss Ethel Hale Freeman. A coach for many years, a teacher of drama at Smith College, now a teacher of English at Miss Lee's School, Boston, Miss Freeman has for some time had in mind the organization of a small permanent company. Through the constant interest and generosity of members of the Players' Club, of Newton, this plan has been taking shape during the past six months. With a nucleus of three of her original members of the Camp Repertory Company, Miss Margaret Arnold, Miss Bonnie Jarvis and Mr. Geoffrey Baker, a group of players has been at work every Friday night, at Little Players' Hall, West Newton.

The program comprises five or six plays a season, including a farce, a detective play, a comedy, a tragedy, and an opera. The year opened with "Speed," a lively musical satire written for Miss Amy V. Beal. The second production was the comedy by Synge, "The Playboy of the Western World," in which Miss Freeman herself took part, and Mr. Baker played the title-role. This will be repeated after the opening night and there will be opportunities to sign up for basketball, gymnastics, bowling, folk dancing, millinery, and any other classes for which there is need.

A pageant, interpreting the spirit of the Y. W. C. A., prepared by the girls of Newton, will be presented that evening. An opportunity will be given to all present to join the association and to become Charter Members. Classes will be started immediately after the opening night and there will be opportunities to sign up for basketball, gymnastics, bowling, folk dancing, millinery, and any other classes for which there is need.

Saturday afternoons there will be hikes, picnics, and sports.

N. H. S.

The Somerville High School girls' debating team won last Friday evening from the Newton High girls' debating team in the assembly hall of the Classical High School, 3 to 0. The subject debated upon was "Resolved: The school attendance should be made compulsory throughout the United States to the age of 18 or through the High School period." The Somerville team, which upheld the affirmative side of the question, consisted of Doris Wentland, Murilla Lally and Evelyn Stern, with Arline Snow as an alternate. Louise Macleod, Caroline Cummings and Barbara Simpson formed the Newton team. Hester Leitner acted as alternates. The judges were Dr. Alfred Johnson of Brookline, Miss Austina Raymond of Cambridge and R. Stark, Jr., of Brookline. Dancing followed in the gymnasium after the debate.

It was the Newton Savings Bank and not the Newton Trust Company which has installed the automatic thrift machines in the schools, of which mention was made last week.

The Newton girls' basketball team was defeated on Tuesday by the Watertown High team by a score of 13 to 9.

CHINESE TO SPEAK HERE

Dr. Tehvi Hsieh, who is to speak in the Parish House of the First Unitarian Church, West Newton, Sunday, at 5 P. M., is esteemed by all who know him and have heard him as distinctly remarkable. He is a man of vision, of charm, with great power to captivate his audience. He speaks with a wonderfully clear enunciation, possesses a remarkable vocabulary of English, and his understanding of American affairs, the history of this country and intimate knowledge of the leading characters in American as well as European history, is simply amazing. Many of his friends like to call him the "Roosevelt of China," and there is another class, those close to the industrial interests of China, who take pride in calling him the "Gompers of the East." But, however, he may be called, the fact remains that Dr. Hsieh on the platform, or in private conversation, holds the attention of his hearers whether he is discussing political, economic or business problems. He has led a remarkable life, full of picturesque interest, and in every address he is sure to weave in incidents of his life-story worth hearing.

VOCATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL

On Friday, March 24th, the Senior Junior dramatics of the Vocational High School will be given in the hall of the Vocational School. Six fellows and three girls will present "The Colonel's Maid," a three-act comedy of the present time which introduces a couple of Southern colonels and a lively Chinese cook. The cast includes Joseph Worth, Robert Carter, Gertrude Boudrot, Henry Cady, Isabel Jones, Florence Saunders, Arthur McQuiston, John Gegan, Frederick Reihert.

The play begins at 7.45 and will be followed by dancing in the library of the Technical School. The Colonial orchestra will furnish the music.

NEWTONIAN CONCERT

The combined musical clubs of M. I. T. have been engaged by the staff of The Newtonian for a concert to be given on Friday evening, March 24th, at the Newton Classical High School Assembly Hall. The program includes selections rendered by the Glee Club, Mandolin Club, and a variety of solos, duets and quartets. The concert will be followed by dancing in the gymnasium.

to keep their genuine spontaneity and natural unconscious spirit of play throughout the whole entertainment. Miss Bragg selected the play and helped with the rearrangement, while Mrs. H. B. Wilder gave most generously of her time and energy in her ability as pianist. The lighting of the stage, a difficult proposition, was most successfully met by the ingenuity of Mr. Hassler Capron, assisted by the Foreman Electric Co.

The stage decorations were elaborately and tastefully arranged under the direction of Mrs. F. C. Rising, and a most capable committee of workers. Mrs. George F. Wales and a committee of interested mothers worked untiringly on the many costumes, all of which helped to make the play a success to be justly proud of.

The programs for the evening were attractively printed under the supervision of Mr. Gulesian, the school teacher. During the evening candy was on sale for the benefit of the School Improvement Fund with Mrs. C. T. Kendall as chairman of an energetic committee, who also had charge of the ushers.

After the play Mrs. Arthur A. Lewis, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Edward C. Stratton, gave three selections, which were delightfully rendered.

The principal of the Mason School, Mr. Samuel B. Paul introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Payson C. Smith, State Commissioner of Education for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Mr. Smith is a very fluent and magnetic speaker, and his keen sense of humor branded him as a most representative type of New England intellect, appealing to all through his common sense ideas of education.

He discouraged too much elaboration of subjects in the schools and laid great stress on the three fundamentals of education known as the three "R's." His statement that the schools were no place for propaganda of any sort, was loudly applauded and that the schools would not hope to accomplish good mental, moral and physical habits without the cooperation and influence of the church and home.

The knowledge of the child was the one thing most needed, and school was not a place to tell children what to think but to teach them how to think, as habit makes character. The children and their development are the materials of a new work and are the future of America, the future of the world, the future of civilization.

—Mrs. Annie Anthony Garrison, the widow of the late George T. Garrison, died on Sunday at her home on Fairview terrace. Mrs. Garrison was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, 32 years ago, but has lived in this vicinity since her marriage in 1873. She is survived by two daughters, the Misses Elizabeth and Fanny Garrison and one son, Mr. Rhodes Garrison. Funeral services were held at her late home Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Paul S. Phalen officiating and the interment was at Forest Hills.

The Men's Club of the Methodist Church held its regular meeting in the Parish Hall of the Church last Tuesday night. The meeting was open to the public and many ladies were present, as they were especially invited. The president of the club, Mr. Ralph Wales introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Harold D. Wilson, who was recently the Federal Prohibition Officer. He took for his subject "Law Enforcement" and gave his hearers a most forceful and interesting address. After his talk he answered many questions, which showed how well he is informed on the subject of prohibition. It was a most interesting meeting. At the close of the meeting a social hour with light refreshments followed.

of Days Within the Memory of Many," with the following introduction:

"Home, home! sweet, sweet home!" A town of pleasant homes by the beautiful River Charles. Not ostentatious, but friendly, restful, made beautiful by the hand of nature, and of man. When we consider her winding roads, majestic trees and beautiful shrubs, we have occasion to pay tribute to the man of vision, who in these early days did so much to beautify this village. Wm. C. Strong (the Nestor of Waban).

The curtain rose upon an impersonation of W. C. Strong and was followed by Famous Portraits of Men and Women who have been prominent in the affairs of Waban. A Spring Afternoon on Beacon Street completed the episode, and was full of local wit and humor. Children, merchants and citizens were all there to the delight and amusement of those present. This made way for the "Episode of The World War," which was the logical climax of the pageant, introduced by the following lines:

"And so the years have passed in peace and quiet, each decade finding the village more attractive, removed as it is from the toil and turmoil of life. When suddenly its peace and quiet is broken. Rumors of war and outrage, unbelievable, fall upon the ears of its people, followed by the nation's call to arms; and behold! the quiet village of homes becomes a busy hive, organized for service; its manhood and youth, its matrons and maids all doing their share, determined that might shall not prevail over right; while our hearts are filled with gratitude and pride that our village is blest with youth ready to make the supreme sacrifice for humanity, going forward with these words upon their lips: 'We know we are with the right, and men who are with the right will find their reward elsewhere.'"

Amid crashing martial music the curtain rose upon an empty stage, flooded with crimson light, soon appeared the Spirit of War calling the Americans into the conflict; the call being answered by the World War Veterans bearing the American flag, the constabulary, the Boy and Girl Scouts, and the Red Cross, all bearing their banners, marching to various war songs. The climax was reached when during the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the whole audience, a service man unfurled a white banner with two gold stars. The Spirit of Peace then appears and dispels war. Waban of Today was represented by a tableau, "The Makers of Waban," which was followed by a Song to Waban, sung by all to the tune of Materna. The epilogue closes the pageant.

Epilogue
Waban, "Wind or Spirit." May the wind of the Great Spirit which pervaded this place in days of long ago, and which, living in the hearts of our forefathers, made this country a great nation, abide with us. Inspiring in us and our children that spirit of service which shall help make beautiful the world. Thus making Waban worthy of her name, and her traditions.

Much praise is due Mrs. Wilfrid O. White, who so ably directed the presentation of the pageant. Mr. G. N. Roberts as stage manager, Mr. C. H. Capron in charge of the lighting, and the chairman of the various committees, working together, made the evening one long to be remembered in Waban. Particular mention should be made of Mr. T. E. Quimby as Chief Waban, and Mr. Sanford Bates as John Eliot. Mrs. Lydia Eldridge was a picture at the spinning wheel teaching the Indian woman to spin. Another charming feature was the minuet dance by Miss Dorothy Balcom and Mr. Henry C. Short, accompanied on the harp by Mrs. A. Cutter Perkins. All in costume of the days of Washington. A May Pole Dance, On the Green, by fifteen little girls, was graceful, quaint and beautiful in costume, design and color. Mrs. Geo. L. Higgins, who drilled the children, is to be congratulated. Mr. Geo. Higgins, as the Spirit of War, gave a war dance of vigor and beauty, while Mrs. Karl Hezler, depicting The Spirit of Peace, dispelled war with a peace dance of rare beauty and charm. The cast numbered about one hundred and thirty, and all are to be thanked for their help in making the pageant a success. The Drinking Song by the male quartet received an encore, while the Beacon Street scene, painted by Mrs. A. G. Caldwell, was fine.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

There was a continued hearing on Tuesday on the proposed Graves Field terminal of the Boston Elevated. The representatives from Allston, Brighton and Newton again spoke in opposition. The Public Utilities Commission expressed some doubt as to its authority in the premises, as it seemed to be more a matter of services than anything else, and that phase of the matter is wholly in the discretion of the Elevated trustees.

The bill of Representative Rice to allow the removal of mayors of cities for malfeasance in office was passed in the House yesterday by a large majority.

Last Week

The week has been a busy one, both in committee and in the sessions of the Legislature.

On Tuesday the House spent the whole afternoon debating the proposed bill to require dealers in soft drinks to obtain a license. This bill is strongly urged by the Police Commissioner of Boston, in order to help control the illegal sale of moonshine from the so-called "near beer" saloons. The Democratic members, who are always against the Boston police and licensing board, were active in opposition, but were defeated both on hostile amendments as well as on the passage of the bill, which received a substantial majority. Both Representative Rice and the writer voted with the majority against the amendments, and in favor of the bill, while Mr. Early was absent.

The committee hearings this week ranged from the important matter of additional fees from automobilists to the ridiculous proposals to prohibit the smoking by smokers in public places, and to require church attendance by everyone on Sunday. It is needless to say that the two last measures will receive scant attention. The auditorium has been well filled at the hearings on the matter of increased motor vehicle fees. Public Works Commissioner John N. Cole was the chief advocate for the increases, and gave the committee some startling figures showing how Massachusetts stands with other states in this matter. Mr. Cole said that Massachusetts, with the best roads in the country, and that means the world, imposes smaller burdens on those that use the roads than three-quarters of the states in the Union. We are 35th among the states in our charges on pleasure cars; 43d in charges for one-ton trucks; 35th in charges on 3 1/2-ton trucks, and 37th in charges on five-ton trucks.

The automobile owners come here year after year and tell us they want no new roads, that they are satisfied with existing facilities. Yet before this year's Legislature are bills calling for appropriations of $5,000,000 for new roads. Would those bills be introduced if the automobile owners really had no interest?

The Tax Commissioner has sent in his triennial apportionment of the payment of the state tax by counties, cities and towns, by which Middlesex county will pay $174.06 of every thousand dollars, and with Suffolk and Essex counties, pay more than half the entire bill.

Stearns School

The members of the Newton Girls' Club were the guests of the Mothers' Club at Stearns School Center on Monday evening, March 13th. Miss Louise Melvin, of Watertown, entertained with selections on the harp, and gave very delightful pianoliques and readings. Refreshments were served after the entertainment.

Mr. Leary, athletic manager of the Y. M. C. A., gave a talk in the Assembly Hall, Wednesday morning, on the "A B C of Success." His talk was thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed.

The Stearns "S" was given to each member of the Junior Hockey team of the school.

The pupils of Miss Stoddard's room dramatized the Boston Tea Party on Monday.

A FINE RECORD

George Owen, Jr., of Newton was re-elected captain of the Harvard hockey team Monday afternoon, when the team picture was taken. Owen, who is regarded as one of the best college players in the country, will lead a team next season which should make as good a record as the one which won the undisputed championship of American colleges this year.

Owen has played on the varsity hockey team for two seasons, playing at cover-point both years. He also captained his freshman team.

Although he has made three major teams every year since he became eligible at Harvard, he regards hockey as his favorite sport and will no doubt excel even more next year.

In addition to hockey, Owen has played two seasons as regular full-back on the Harvard eleven, and was picked last year for the All-American by a majority of the critics. He has been regular first baseman on the nine and is trying out for the team again this Spring. He is the likely choice for captain of the baseball team at Harvard next year. He has made five major sport letters at Harvard so far, and bids fair to make his sixth this Spring in addition to aiding in beating Yale 11 times since he entered college.

—ST. JAMES THEATRE—"On Trial," which is to play at the St. James Theatre this week, is one of the greatest dramatic triumphs that the age has known. It was produced in New York under Cohan and Harris, the famous theatrical producers, where it ran for a solid year at the Chandler Theatre; then it went to Chicago for six months, and played to packed houses at the George M. Cohan Opera House.

Not only is it an excellent play, but it is the most stupendous production that the Boston Stock Company has yet put on, and, according to Director Masson, it will be the biggest and best thing that has been put on at the St. James Theatre this year.

The cast is greatly augmented by many new editions, and we will see thirty people in the production.

—LITTLE EDWARD, aged three years, was busy playing with Milworth, who was an afternoon guest. After partaking of some lunch they were about to resume their play, when I overheard Edward say to Milworth, "Say, kid, what's your name again, I lost it?"

—TREMONT THEATRE—Beginning Monday night, March 20th, Sam H. Harris will present Aaron Hoffman's delightful comedy "Welcome Stranger," with George Sidney, at the Tremont Theatre, Boston. The marvelous success of "Welcome Stranger" in both Chicago and New York is sufficient endorsement of the merits of this comedy to make its coming here of interest to all of our theatregoers.

It is a realistic picture of life in a small New England town, whose citizens are so self-centred that they resent the coming of any stranger who plans to start in business there and be an opposition to old established shops. The adventures of Isidore Solomon, delightfully portrayed by that consummate artist, George Sidney, form the ground work of the play.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

It is with great pleasure that the many friends of Mrs. Grace M. Poole in the Newtons have learned that she has accepted the nomination to the presidency of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Poole's service to the Federation dates back through a long series of years, having begun as a director, then for a year as corresponding secretary, and since that time has been one after another of the vice-presidents, until she reached the first place. That she is amply fitted to serve the Federation as its leader no one doubts, for she is clear headed, has a keen mind, and a progressive outlook. That the Federation will forge ahead under her administration is an assured fact. Best wishes for her success go with her in this new position from all club women through the state. That she must necessarily curtail some of her lecture appointments will be a source of regret to those who have benefitted by them. While congratulations go to her upon the new honor which is to come to her, the Federation is to be even more highly congratulated upon securing so able a leader.

State Federation

Mrs. Henrietta Muir Edwards will lecture on "The Mother and Child under Canadian Law," at the next meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday, March 20th. Mr. John Andrews will play piano solos.

The Colonial Male Quartet will give a concert before the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls next Monday evening in the Emerson school hall. A brief business meeting will precede the program.

Monday evening, March 20, Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, of Phillips Andover Academy, will address the Newton Mothers' Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Cole, Somerset road, West Newton. This will be Gentlemen's Night, which was postponed from earlier in the season on account of the absence of lights. Those who have heard Dr. Stearns' lecture know that he discusses a very important matter in a frank and sane way. His topic is "Present-Day Handicaps of Youth."

New Shares on Sale March and April.
March Div. 5 1/2%—Advertisement.

Rev. Dr. Laurens McClure, rector of Grace Church, will preach at St. John's Church next Sunday evening.

Newton Co-operative Bank, 71st series shares open March and April. Last interest 5 1/2%—Advertisement.

The Misses Dorney of Frederick street have been seriously ill with the grippe.

Rev. Dr. Allan W. Cooke will speak next Monday afternoon at St. John's parish house on "The Three Ways."

Mrs. Boyce was the hostess for the meeting of the Women's Guild at St. John's church on Wednesday afternoon.

Next Wednesday evening at St. John's Church Rev. Murray W. Dewar of Winchester, will speak on "Hugh Latimer."

The alarm from box 241 Saturday night was for a fire in the old barn, formerly used by Newcomb's express, on Ashmont avenue, off Crafts street, Newtonville. The firemen had a four-hour fight with a strong wind blowing, and did well to save the surrounding property.

NEWTON GRADE TEACHERS' CLUB

The third annual meeting of the Newton Grade Teachers' Club was held on Thursday, March 9th, in Claffin Hall, Miss Stoddard presiding. Reports were read by Miss Margaret Green, Secretary, Miss Marion Remon, Treasurer, and Miss Jane Wyman, Secretary of the Executive Board. Federation reports on public and salary were read by Miss Grace McLaughlin and Miss May Melard, after which, on account of shortness of time, it was voted to omit further reports. Miss Emily Dyer, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following candidates for next year's officers: president, Miss Jane Stoddard; vice-president, Miss Harriet Goodnow; secretary, Miss Alice Moore; treasurer, Miss Marion Remon. These candidates were unanimously elected.

At the close of the business meeting, Miss Stoddard introduced Miss Mary McKimmon, Principal of the Pierce School, Brookline, and president of the Newton Teachers' Federation. Miss McKimmon is widely known as an educator and gave a most inspiring talk. She spoke of the need of closer cooperation of parents and teachers for the good of the children, the need of well trained, efficient teachers whose salary is such as to attract to the profession the right sort of people, and the need of having the public know the great importance of education. She also spoke of the advantages of the State Teachers Federation and of the National Education Association, 16,000 of whose members are expected to meet at Boston in July.

At the close of her talk, Miss McKimmon spoke, by request, of the recent educational convention in Chicago, to which she was sent, as a delegate. She gave a rapid resume of the meetings in the Auditorium, the problems discussed and the interesting exhibition of educational material. She said the finest, most inspiring address of the week was given by Dr. Frank E. Spaulding, one of the foremost educators of the country, to whom Newton people need no introduction.

Following Miss McKimmon's address, refreshments were served by the committee in charge of Miss Florence Lewis.

Mason School

The children in Room Four have made a collection of pictures and newspaper clippings about Boston. These, well mounted, form a good, to-date bit of history.

In Room Three the class officers for the month are George Burrows as mayor; Henry Colony, Katherine Barry, and Kenneth Slade as aldermen. The decorating committee are Dorothy Rising, Marjorie Fay, and Paul Barry.

The children of Room Five are studying Holland and so have a Dutch room.

A Dutch border of wind-mills, and little Dutch boys and girls; a Dutch village on the sand table, carry out the Holland idea.

To make the room complete there is a plant of tulips, the bulbs of which came from Holland.

Magic Pictures—wonderful Mystery Ink Tulips—Alice in Mother Goose Land—Humpty Dumpty Cut Out—Moving Pictures—All these and more in the Big Magic Book; greatest children's section ever published. Free with next Sunday's Boston Sunday Advertiser.

On Thursday afternoon, March 16, the Matinee Tea of the Frances Jewett Repertory Theatre Club was for the Women's Club of Newton Highlands. Mrs. W. J. Spaulding, in charge. Assisting in receiving, Mrs. G. D. W. Marcy and Mrs. Charles Keeler. Pouring, Mrs. Frank L. Richardson, Mrs. Sanford Thompson, Mrs. Raymond Fuller. Ushers, Mrs. Fred G. Sanford and Mrs. Hiram A. Miller. To pass, Mrs. Curtis Chipman, Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs, Mrs. Miriam Bedford and Mrs. Walter Dane.

Under the inspiration of Mrs. H. B. Walker, chairman of the Conservation committee of the Women's Club of Newton Highlands, a meeting was arranged with the cooperation of the various men's organizations of the local churches to consider the serious tree condition of Newton for last Saturday evening in the Congregational church of that village.

Mr. Harris A. Reynolds, secretary of the Massachusetts Forestry Association,

treated in a broad way the value of shade trees, saying that they are not always appreciated until they are gone. The ice storm of last November has done more to arouse general interest in trees than any amount of propaganda could possibly have done. That shade trees have a money value was emphasized. Real estate dealers have estimated that a house surrounded by full-grown trees and shrubs properly planted is thereby increased in value about $1000. The trees of Newton, he stated, are estimated as worth from one and one-half to two million dollars.

The trees in many cities and towns are not given the proper attention, and where expenditure is concerned, the trees are likely to take a second place. Most expert advice is needed to care for them properly, but since the ice storm nearly everybody who could use an axe has gone into them. He warned against bad practices and said that trees should be looked at every year. The need of establishing town forests to reclaim idle land and thereby increase the wood supply for coming generations was touched upon, as well as the plan of his association to assist by offering to plant 5000 trees, or approximately five acres, free of charge for any city or town which will legally establish a town forest of 100 acres or more in area during the calendar year of 1922.

Mr. Jenks, an expert tree man, told the fundamental principles upon which tree repair should be done, saying that by working with nature much of the recent damage can be overcome. He advised against drastic pruning, but to come back later and do the shaping. The practical value of his talk was shown by the many questions asked.

The annual concert by the Auburn-dale Women's Club Chorus is one of the events of the club year. This season's concert, which was given in Norumbega hall on Wednesday evening, exceeded any the chorus has given and its exquisite work showed the result of painstaking effort through a series of years. The club trio consisting of Mrs. Edward Legge, Mrs. Lyman D. Gore, and Mrs. W. J. Spaulding, always a favorite with the club members in that it is more often heard at the meetings, rendered a group of selections, and the chorus was assisted by Mr. W. J. Spaulding, baritone, in singing Stevenson's Italian Serenade. Miss Alice Totten, cellist, was enthusiastically received. All present enjoyed the concert to the utmost. Much credit for the success of the concert is due to the fine work of Mrs. Julia Ritter McCormick, the director and Mrs. Lowell D. MacNutt, the accompanist.

Miller. To pass, Mrs. Curtis Chipman, Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs, Mrs. Miriam Bedford and Mrs. Walter Dane.

Under the inspiration of Mrs. H. B. Walker, chairman of the Conservation committee of the Women's Club of Newton Highlands, a meeting was arranged with the cooperation of the various men's organizations of the local churches to consider the serious tree condition of Newton for last Saturday evening in the Congregational church of that village.

Mr. Harris A. Reynolds, secretary of the Massachusetts Forestry Association,

treated in a broad way the value of shade trees, saying that they are not always appreciated until they are gone. The ice storm of last November has done more to arouse general interest in trees than any amount of propaganda could possibly have done. That shade trees have a money value was emphasized. Real estate dealers have estimated that a house surrounded by full-grown trees and shrubs properly planted is thereby increased in value about $1000. The trees of Newton, he stated, are estimated as worth from one and one-half to two million dollars.

The trees in many cities and towns are not given the proper attention, and where expenditure is concerned, the trees are likely to take a second place. Most expert advice is needed to care for them properly, but since the ice storm nearly everybody who could use an axe has gone into them. He warned against bad practices and said that trees should be looked at every year. The need of establishing town forests to reclaim idle land and thereby increase the wood supply for coming generations was touched upon, as well as the plan of his association to assist by offering to plant 5000 trees, or approximately five acres, free of charge for any city or town which will legally establish a town forest of 100 acres or more in area during the calendar year of 1922.

Mr. Jenks, an expert tree man, told the fundamental principles upon which tree repair should be done, saying that by working with nature much of the recent damage can be overcome. He advised against drastic pruning, but to come back later and do the shaping. The practical value of his talk was shown by the many questions asked.

COMMUNITY CLUB DRAMATICS

Three Enjoyable Plays given at Players Hall Last Evening

The annual dramatics of the Newton Community Club, always one of the big events of the club's season, was fully up to anything the club has done so far, the three one-act plays being presented to capacity houses in Players Hall, West Newton, both afternoon and evening yesterday. Everyone present was enthusiastic in praise of the work done by all who took part, and the new plan of giving three short, instead of one long play, thereby enlisting a larger number of persons and making it a truly community affair, met with hearty approval upon all sides. The innovation of having men for the men's parts, instead of their being done by club members, enabled the presentation of plays which could hardly have been undertaken otherwise.

"Dear Old Jim," by William C. DeMille, with which the program opened, was a clever little sketch, depicting the drastic methods adopted by "Marie," his wife, Mrs. Frank Ashley Day, and "Paul," his friend, Mr. William V. M. Fawcett, to arouse "Jim," Mr. Geoffrey Baker, from the errors of his ways. All the actors were extremely good, Mrs. Day being very sweet and pathetic in her assumed widowhood. Mr. Baker's work as the ghost was wonderfully well done and kept the audience in a roar of laughter.

"The Kleptomaniac," by Margaret Cameron, offered opportunity for a wide variety of types of young society women—the bride, "Mrs. John Burton," Lilyan Delling, "whose delightful inconsequence" was responsible for the whole motive of the play; the "Psychic" young widow, "Valerie Chase Armsby," Jessie Carney, the soft and very much-in-love bride, whose husband's word is authority for everything, "Mrs. Charles Dover," Esther Mead; the plain, matter of fact, business-like and unsentimental young woman, "who hasn't any engagement ring," "Freda Dixon," Marjorie Wales; the social climber, "Mrs. Preston Ashley," Ethel Calhoun; "Evelyn Evans," the reporter from The Graphic, Grace Burt; and the maid, "Katie," Katherine Day. Each was remarkably true to life, and the whole play went off with "pep," Mrs. Delling rising far above anyone's expectations in the wild frenzy of her distress, when she realizes the terrible situation in which she is placed; while the closing scene with the two brides at opposite sides of the stage howling over the extremities to which their foolish actions have brought them, was excruciatingly funny and brought storms of laughter from the audience. Miss Burt in a familiar role, yet wholly unrecognizable make up, brought down the house.

"Dr. Auntie," by Alice Brown, with which the program closed, furnished an opportunity for more real acting than either of the others. Mr. Fawcett and Mr. Baker, as author and secretary, respectively, carried parts, which actors of less ability could easily have spoiled. The closing scene when Hammond discharges his secretary, for unseemly relations with the former's wife, was powerfully done. Miss Florence Heard in the title role, was the personification of abandon and dash of the modern "female doctor" and pal of her nephew, nearly her own years. Mrs. Loring as "Madeleine," was lovely and charming as a picture, even as the play had intended.

The whole performance was finished and most satisfactory to all concerned, and was made so only by the careful and most painstaking work of Mrs. Frederic J. Fawcett, whose oversight of every detail, stage setting, costuming, and diction was unremitting. The plays were coached by Mr. Frank E. Fowle, of Malden. The setting for each was wholly different, and each in turn was a picture in itself.

Music was furnished in the afternoon by Webster Wiggin's orchestra and in the evening by Doubleday's. Others who helped to make the affair a success were: Mrs. George Owen, music; Miss Dorothy Simpson, tickets; Mrs. Henry A. Nealley, ushers; Mrs. Wm. B. Emery, properties; Mrs. George Rawson, publicity; Mr. Frank I. Fowle, coach. Ushers: Afternoon—Mrs. William Colton, Mrs. Joseph Garrety, Miss Helen Woodman, Miss Edith Jamieson. Evening—Mrs. Edward Van Tassel, Mrs. Henry D. Lloyd, Miss Edith Fisher, Miss Margaret Bacon.

UNEMPLOYMENT

The following communication was sent to the aldermen Monday night by Mayor Childs:

"Today, March 20th, has been designated as 'Unemployment Day' for the American Legion. 'An honest effort is to be made throughout the Commonwealth to relieve unemployment. Any necessary public work which can be done ought to be done, and I fully appreciate the co-operation of your honorable board in authorizing earlier in the year certain public work which has already been started. 'I would suggest such action by your honorable board as may seem appropriate in order to solve the present situation. Citizens should be urged to see to it that the service man is given every opportunity possible for work, and that he be given preference over the alien.'"

NEWTON WINS

The swimming meet between Troop 4, Boy Scouts, of Newton Highlands, and Troop 1 of Boston was held Monday night at the Newton Y.M.C.A., the former winning, 40 to 28. The summary:

NEWTON Y.W.C.A.

At the formal opening of the Newton Y.W.C.A. on Monday evening, March 20 Mrs. Arthur Kendrick, Chairman of the Provisional Committee, introduced His Honor, Mayor Childs, who made the address of welcome to the Y. W. C. A. A short pageant interpreting the spirit of the Y. W. C. A. and what it brings to the Community was given by the girls of Newton. Miss Katherine Duffield, Industrial Secretary of the Boston Y. W. C. A., was the speaker of the evening, and in her address emphasized and enlarged upon the predominant themes of the pageant, Inspiration, Education, Recreation and Co-operation. Miss Doris Badger, General Secretary, was introduced and outlined the plans and activities, which will begin immediately. The two principal parts in the pageant were taken by Miss Inger Olson, and Miss Elizabeth Wetherbee. Other leading parts were taken by Ethel Stormont, Adelaide Ball, Katherine Elliot, Lilla Ritchey, Eleanor Leacy, Katherine White, and Kathleen Clarke. Among the groups of dancers were Mabel Williamson, Florence McEnroy, Catherine Cody, Florence Hopwood, Evelyn and Caroline Whittemore, representing Inspiration. Others were Mary MacPherson, Doris Stormont, Doris Mason, Helen Eagle, Eleanor Ratcliffe, Ruth Peirson and Miriam Marshall, representing Education, and Helen Achorn, Doris Jefford, Alice Babbitt, Edith Boothby and Helen Lavender, representing Co-operation. Girls representing the Blue Triangle were Margaret Ball, Edith Craig, Eileen Herlihy, Louise Moore, Elizabeth Ritchey, Mrs. C. G. Wilson, Hazel Rose, and Bertha Lippin.

Classes are scheduled to start Monday, March 27, this week being given up to organizing and medical examinations. These will be given by the consulting physician on Tuesday and Friday evenings from 6:45 to 8 P. M. On Saturday, March 25, there will be a hike, starting from the Y. W. C. A. at 2 P. M.

MARDI GRAS CARNIVAL

Notwithstanding it was several weeks late by the calendar, the Mardi Gras Carnival of Gethsemane Commandery, Knights Templar, which was held last evening in the Masonic Building, Newtonville, was a huge success. Over four hundred Sir Knights, their ladies and guests, enjoying to the utmost the varied and interesting program which had been prepared by a capable committee of the Commandery, under the usual efficient direction of Past Commander Asa C. Jewett.

Temple Hall was decorated with colored lanterns for the first part of the evening, during which refreshments were served at a hundred or more small tables, while an orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Louis V. Haffermehl, rendered popular music. A cabaret singer, Ernestine Carew, and community singing were also on the program. Varied colored and fancy head gear for both ladies and gentlemen soon brought a bit of color to the scene, which soon became animated enough with bally hoo, rattles and horns, and colored balloons, while yards upon yards of ribbon confetti soon made the hall a beautiful maze of red, blue, yellow and green.

This was followed by an entertainment in the lodge room by the pupils of Jennie May Trainor, consisting of toe, fancy and eccentric dancing, in which the turns of the four and five-year old children were particularly enjoyable.

Most of the guests then enjoyed dancing in Temple Hall, while a few card enthusiasts played bridge in the rooms of the Grand Army. Souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. Frank H. Briggs and J. C. Brimblecom.

NORTGATE CLUB

A very successful whist party, including both bridge and plain whist, was held at the Northgate Club on Thursday evening. There were fourteen tables. Prizes were won by Mrs. Chester Reed, Mrs. C. F. Stinets, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Dinsmore, Mrs. Frank McCool, Mrs. Raymond Forte, Mr. Harold Johnson, Mr. C. H. Young, Mr. C. N. Reed, Mr. Vaughn, Mr. John Cox and Mr. Dinsmore. Mrs. Stewart Tarry had charge of the refreshments.

The club is to have a show, which will include many interesting and unusual features on Thursday, April 6th.

WEST NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

The West Newton Music School gave a recital at the Pierce School on Sunday last. Attractive work on piano, violin and cello was shown by the boys and girls of the West Centre. The Senior Orchestra played part of a Symphony by Haydn, and Miss Forte and Miss West gave pleasure with their fine playing of Bach's Prelude in E, and a Romance by Rubinstein.

The Harvard Glee Club comes to Players Hall this evening, under the auspices of the West Newton Music School. The program is varied and representative of the club's matchless work.

PROF. THAYER NOT COMING

We are asked to announce that Prof. Thayer, who is advertised in another column to lecture next Tuesday evening at the West Newton Unitarian Church, is ill, and his place will be taken by Mr. Robert Lincoln O'Brien, editor of the Boston Herald.

"THE WITCHING HOUR"

Owing to the illness of Miss Marion McKeon, the part of Viola will be taken by Miss Margaret F. Arnold, who next week is to appear in the part of Beth in "Little Women."

STREET RAILWAY SERVICE

Frankly and fully discussed at meeting of the Newton Chamber of Commerce

The Newton Chamber of Commerce held another interesting meeting Tuesday night at the Newton Club House, Newtonville. The meeting was preceded by a dinner, at which over 70 persons sat down, and over which Mr. Rupert C. Thompson presided.

The officers of the Chamber had chosen our street railways as a topic for discussion, and seated at the head table were Hon. Samuel L. Powers and Mr. Edward Dana of the Boston Elevated Railway, and President Pitt F. Drew and Supt. H. H. Hanson of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, and Mayor Childs. The various village improvement societies had been invited to send representatives to the meeting and to present the local view of the street railway situation.

Mr. Howard Whitmore of the Newton Highlands Society was the first speaker, and said that the M. & B. cars failed to keep schedule time, causing annoying delays. "The principal grievance, however, was in regard to the special cars for the High School in the morning. Mr. Whitmore said that the regular car leaving their village at 7:50 landed the children at school 15 to 20 minutes too early, while the special car leaving at 8:05 for some unaccountable reason, was unable to make as good time as the regular car, and reached the school only a few moments before school began. When complaint had been made of this situation the special car had been taken off. The earlier car made it inconvenient in the homes preparing lunches and getting the children started in time. Mr. Whitmore also said the rule of selling but one strip of school tickets to a child caused the children to wait in a long line for tickets and shortening their lunch period.

Mr. Arthur Kendrick, for the Newton Improvement Society, spoke of the nuisance caused by the loop at the Watertown car barn, and told of his unsuccessful efforts to change the conditions. How he had interviewed Mr. Dana and then prepared a petition to the Public Service Commission, on which, he said, "the usual thing happened." He suggested the employment of the Elevated of a "practical psychologist" to travel over the system and note the troubles the public experienced.

Mr. A. D. Colby, for the Upper Falls society, spoke of the High School car and the purchase of car tickets. He also said that the service just now was better than before, and he believed that the company would get a much better business if it reduced its fare to 5 or 6 cents, and instanced how many men of the Saco-Lowell Co. now came to work in jitneys.

Hon. Charles E. Hatfield spoke for the West Newton Men's Club, and said that West Newton had pretty good car service now. He believed that the street railway could play a great part in the unification of the north and south sides of the city, suggested a ten-minute service, and if the company needed it, even favored a subsidy from the city treasury. As an after thought, he casually remarked that the company might clean its cars a trifle oftener.

Mr. G. Wilbur Thompson, for the Newton Centre society, expressed his sympathy with the financial situation of both the railways and the railroads.

Mr. Henry L. Goodman of the Auburndale society, said that Auburndale seemed fairly well satisfied with the service it was receiving, although his son had complained of the overcrowding of the High School cars. Mr. Harry D. Cabot, for the Newtonville society, complimented the railway company on the manner in which it had handled the matters in the trying times of the past ten years. He said that Newtonville was very well served. He favored a zoning system of fares, and believed it would encourage the "short haul" and cleaner cars and better ventilated cars would help.

Mayor Childs spoke briefly, saying that the Bemis line was known five years ago as the "fair weather line," as it only ran when the weather was good. Now, he said, they had good service.

Mr. Powers expressed his pleasure at the good temper of the meeting, and compared it with some meetings he had attended in South Boston and Charlestown. The Elevated was being operated now for the benefit of the public, and the trustees represented the public interest. Four years ago the Elevated was up to its limit and owed five million dollars. The trustees had obtained more revenue by successive increases in fares, and had now begun to reduce (Continued on Page 2)

Y. M. C. A. SPLASHES

Saturday afternoon at three o'clock there is to be a swimming meet between the Lynn and Newton Junior teams in the Newton "Y" tank. Earlier in the season at Lynn the Newton juniors lost a close meet to the Lynn merboys, so are going to work hard Saturday to even up the count. Both teams are evenly matched and it will be close and exciting from start to finish.

The events will be: Relay, 20 yards, 40 yards, back stroke, breast stroke, 60 yards, plunge, and diving. Newton's team will include the following boys: Wallace, Bang, Hazen, Woodward, Ussher, Kimball, Woodsome, Hammond, Alexander, and Patterson.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT NOTES

The Boy's Department of the Newton Y. M. C. A. wishes to take this opportunity of thanking their friends for the help given them State Boys' Day. About $325 was realized, representing gifts from about 300 givers. There were forty-two boys working, divided into four teams, finishing in the following order: Boys' Dept., Debating Club, Physical Dept., and Hi-Y Club. There were two feeds served the boys by the Ladies' Auxiliary in charge of Miss Emma Page.

NEWTON CLUB

The bowling team went to Braintree Wednesday night and lost three points to the Cochato Club.

NEWTONVILLE AGAIN AROUSED

Urge aldermen to establish building line on Washington and Walker streets

All the members of the board of aldermen were present at the regular meeting on Monday night, and with the usual recess for lengthy committee meetings, it was nearly midnight before adjournment was reached.

No one appeared at a hearing on Edison poles on Crescent avenue and the order was subsequently adopted.

Messrs. Auryansen and Russell favored and Messrs. Burkhardt and Morrell opposed a proposed sewer in Lothrop street.

A sewer in Waban avenue and Crofton road was favored by Messrs. Burnett and Wyman and Mr. J. W. Murphy favored curbing on Dalby street.

Messrs. C. L. Goring, M. C. Hutchins and N. Connors spoke in favor of a building line on Auburndale avenue near Lexington street and Mr. Sander-son appeared in opposition.

The proposed extension of Harvard street south of Cabot street was favored by Messrs. Bonelli, Delano, Dwinell and Henchey and there was no opposition.

An informal hearing was then held on a proposed building line on land corner of Walker and Washington streets, Newtonville. Mr. John Cutler said that this line was necessary to prevent the erection of a block of stores at this corner, which would be an eye-sore, and deprecate property in that vicinity. He called attention to the set-back line which had been observed by residences on Walker street and to which he said this proposed building would be a sore thumb. Hon. H. S. Riley said that there was no excuse to put stores at this point and said that Walker street was a thoroughfare for pupils of the Horace Mann School. Mr. R. F. Gammons characterized the matter as a bare-faced attempt to get the jump on the proposed zoning ordinance. A letter in favor of the line was read from J. C. Walker of Brookside avenue.

Mr. Edward Dangel said he appeared for the owner, Moses Vigner of Winthrop, and said that Barney Atlas was only the contractor. He said that work had already been started on excavating for the cellar, and the usual building permit was expected to be ready the following day. Mr. Vigner proposed to put up a first class building to cost $40,000, and stated his belief that Newton was growing rapidly, and that business would extend along Washington street. Subsequently, in reply to a series of questions, Mr. Dangel admitted that Mr. Vigner was building the stores to "get rid of them." The hearing was closed and later the board passed an order for the formal hearing on this matter for the next meeting.

The following jurors were then drawn for service at Cambridge: Lyman W. Gore, Woodland road; John T. Brittain, Boylston street; Perley W. Page, Lowell avenue; John J. Mahoney, Watertown street; Donald D. Williams, Central street; Howard Norton, Hunnewell avenue; Wallace Egerton, Nesbore road, and William J. Gibson, Capital street.

Mayor Childs sent in a veto of the order widening the corner of Commonwealth avenue, Auburn street, on the ground that no appropriation had been made for the award allowed by the order. The veto was unanimously sustained and later the matter was again passed in proper legal form, allowing Mr. McVicar $1,500 for the land taken.

The Mayor sent in a communication relative to unemployment of the ex-service men, and which will be found in full in another column.

The Mayor also recommended $850 for land damages on a building line for Highland avenue at Walnut street, $1,000 for a fence at the Mason school house, $334.41 for a laborer's pension for Edward Hickey and $360 for additional insurance at the Free Library, all of which were later approved. He also recommended $5,000 for architect's fees for the proposed school house program, $511 for a new auto for the Charity Department, $350 to replace the Health Department car, $425 for a memorial tablet at the Angier School, Waban, and $200 to complete the record of service men and women from Newton.

The street commissioner presented the usual list of streets to be sprinkled during the coming year.

Petitions were received from the Shepherd Worsted Mills to enter a sewer at a special grade, for abatement of assessments on Eastbourne road and Commonwealth avenue, for a building line on Commonwealth avenue at Sumner street, for extension of Delmore road, for a building line on Lexington street, and for sewers in Circuit avenue and Wyman street.

Petitions of Nicholas Tocci, for a hackney carriage license; Archibald McVicar, for an express license; Gregory Vouros, for a victualler license at 291 Centre street, and of E. F. Pilmann, Prescott street; L. Grinspon, Derby street; Carrie E. Wetherbee, Winona street; Daniel T. Frost, Duffield road; H. B. Bradford, Cypress street; L. K. Liggett, Hammond street; Sylvanus Smith, Woodland road; Ruth K. Wellman, Denison street; F. E. Billings, Linden street, and Ernest Nixon, Trowbridge avenue, for private garages, were granted.

Applications for soldiers' relief were granted and a new committee appointed to consider such applications in the future.

On report of the License committee, the Edison Co. was granted leave to withdraw on pole locations on Warwick road; a public hearing was ordered on the petition of John V. Monaghan's Sons for a gasoline filling station on Auburn and Washington streets, and these licenses granted: Cachador Kosroffian, victualler, Upper Falls; Harry Kovitz, taxi cab; Gamewell Fire Alarm Tel. Co., for gasoline permit; Vincenzo Amendola, garage, Boylston street; Harry G. Goward, garage, Newtonville avenue; Adelaide F. Winsor, garage, Middlesex road, and Pietro Sauro, garage, Cook street.

The appointment of James A. Waters as Registrar of Voters for 3 years was confirmed.

A building line was established on Highland avenue, a sewer ordered in Neholiden road, and a resolution relative to unemployment were adopted. A hearing was ordered on a building line on Commonwealth avenue, at Sumner street.

Alderman Whidden, referring to the school building program, which will be found in another column, said that it appeared that the West Newton and Auburndale districts were the least congested, and that the Bigelow district was the most congested. The abandonment of the Davis School in West Newton demanded early work in the line of construction, and he believed that the new schools for the Davis and Elliot districts should be ready by next January. He then asked if action could not be taken at once on the recommendation of the Mayor for $5,000 for architect fees.

Alfred White said that before we embark on an expensive program of school buildings the matter of having the School committee have a hand in preparing the plans should be carefully considered. The Elliot School abuts the Watertown line, and it might be better to move this school nearer Newton. The proposed new school contemplates the purchase of adjoining property, and the Davis School may call for some action regarding the Frobels School. He therefore opposed immediate action on the matter. Alderman Whidden then said that the proposed new Davis School was for 12 rooms without an assembly hall, gymnasium or vocational work rooms, and for children only to the sixth grade. Ten of these rooms can be filled at once, with relief to the Peirce School, and may allow the abandonment of the Frobels School, which is urgently in need of some $7,000 in repairs. He then asked for an appropriation of $2,000 for architect fees for the Davis School alone.

Alderman White opposed this also, saying that the School committee offered this plan as a whole. Alderman Carter rather opposed the proposed abandonment of the Frobels School, and thought the wishes of the parents of the children should be considered. Alderman Jewell said the matter should be considered as a whole. It was proposed to use the present Bigelow for a junior high school, and to build a new high school on the site of the old high school, and this was evidently an essential part of their plan. It was finally decided to leave the matter for a conference of committees before the next board meeting.

Following a long recess, a report of inexperience on a proposal to ask legislative authority to reimburse John Daboll for office expenses incurred during his term as Comptroller was accepted. The ordinance allowing the Building Commissioner ten days to consider building plans was changed to allow him 30 days.

DEATH OF MR. RIDER

Mr. Joseph Franklin Rider, an old and well known resident of Auburndale, died last Sunday at the home of his brother, Mr. Harry O. Rider, on Islington road, at the age of 64 years. For many years Mr. Rider was active in political and social circles in this city. He was for many years a member of the Republican City committee, and served as a principal assessor of the city from 1901 to 1908. He was a 32nd degree Mason, and a member of Dalhousie Lodge, Newton Royal Arch Chapter, and Gethsemane Commandery, K. T., and a past high priest and a past commander of the lodge. In business, he was the manager of one of the departments of the American Rubber Co. of Chelsea. He is survived by a widow and three sons, Robert O. Rider of Glastonbury, Conn.; J. Scott Rider of Auburndale, and Stuart W. Rider of Minneapolis. Two sisters, Miss Elizabeth A. Rider, and Mrs. Joseph A. Rane, and one brother, Harry O. Rider, also survive.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Rev. Dr. Edward Payson Drew officiating, and the interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

DEATH OF MR. NEWELL

Mr. Charles Newell, an old and respected resident of this city, died Saturday at the residence of his son, Mr. James B. Newell, on Watertown street, West Newton. Mr. Newell had been in the South for the winter and reached home only five days before his death. He was born in Brookline, August 27, 1843, the son of Artimus and Martha (McIntosh) Newell. He enlisted in the 44th Regiment during the Civil War, and was a member of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R. In the early seventies he was in the grocery business in Newton, having a store in Coles' Block. He then became interested in the oil business in Pennsylvania, and was in that State for some twenty years, when he returned to Newton. For many years he was the engineer in charge of the heating plant at the City Hall, retiring some ten years ago. He is survived by one son, Mr. James B. Newell, and a sister, Mrs. Washburn, White Plains, N. Y. Funeral services were held from the residence of Mr. James B. Newell on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Clifford D. Newton of the Universalist Church officiating, and the interment was in the Needham Cemetery.

fares. "Twenty per cent. of the Elevated business now was under five-cent fares. The Elevated must first repay some four million dollars to the cities and towns of Greater Boston, but in June, 1923, he predicted that the deficit would be wiped out and lower fares installed. The efficiency is much improved, and there is no politics in the operation of the road. He paid a high compliment to the loyalty of the officials, with particular reference to Mr. Dana.

Mr. Dana put the five-cent fare proposition in a nutshell when he said that it takes $32,000,000 to operate the road, and the utmost revenue under a five-cent fare would be but $20,000,000. He spoke briefly about the Braves Field plan, stating that it was merely an experiment, and that something must be done, as Newton cannot be served by through lines much longer.

Mr. Drew told of the hard sledding the M. & B. road had had. How the fare increases which had been allowed had come about two years too late in most every instance, and the company was always behind in its finances. There was no excuse for unclear cars, but he suggested that it was impossible to make an old car look like new, and the company had purchased but two new cars in the last 18 years, and those only for one man lines. They had just been able to keep the road safe to operate, owed a million dollars and couldn't borrow money from any one. Lower fares, he said, were impossible, as the gross revenue today was inadequate. The zoning system had been carefully studied and had been found impracticable for a complicated and interwoven system like theirs. The company is doing better just at present, and they hope to do more track work this year than before. The one man cars have been a great help. He welcomed suggestions and criticisms, and offered to co-operate with the Chamber in any way possible.

Mr. Hanson said that the sale of school tickets would be looked after. In the matter of school cars, he had always followed the wishes of the masters of the schools.

Mr. John Temperley suggested a transfer agreement with the Boston & Worcester road, which Mr. Drew believed could not be worked out.

Mr. Henry W. Bail raised a laugh when he asked if the flat wheel cars could be taken off of Walnut street, and told how he was kept awake nights by the noise. He also suggested that the paving at Commonwealth avenue and Walnut street might be improved.

Mr. W. H. Brayton suggested that the restoration of the Newton Centre and Newton Corner line might be a time saver to many.

The chairman was then authorized to appoint a committee of five to look into the street railway situation.

There was a short business meeting, at which Secretary C. C. Mowry presented 97 applications for membership; Treasurer W. L. Sampson made his report, new by-laws were adopted, and the following new officers elected: President, Frank L. Richardson; vice-presidents, Henry J. Nichols, in charge of civics; George J. Martin, in charge of manufacturing and industrial; George C. Schade, mercantile, and Q. Wilbur Thompson, in charge of building and development; treasurer, Harold Moore, and these directors: Joseph B. Jamieson, Newton; Edwin O. Childs, Nonantum; Rupert C. Thompson, Newtonville; Leon B. Rogers, West Newton; John H. Gordon, Auburndale; Thomas J. Sullivan, Lower Falls; Chas. A. Chadwick, Upper Falls; Joseph W. Bartlett, Waban; Henry W. Crowell, Newton Highlands; William H. Rice, Newton Centre, and M. H. Gulesian, Chestnut hill. Mr. John T. Burns was elected a delegate to the Mass. Chamber of Commerce.

A vote of thanks was given the retiring officers.

Mr. Richardson, the new president, was introduced, and said there was plenty of opportunity for a Chamber of Commerce to obtain better service for the people. The immediate work, he said, was for a large membership, so that any action of position taken by the Chamber would have some force behind it.

DEATH OF MRS. REES

Mrs. Lottie Bachman Rees, wife of John Elmore Rees, died at the home of her son, Charles Elmore Rees, last Friday, after an illness of a week. Mrs. Rees was born in Hudson N. Y., 69 years ago, married in Brooklyn, N. Y., and has lived in Newton about three years. Besides her husband and the son with whom she lived, a daughter, Miss C. Sackett Rees, who is a nurse in New York, also survives her.

Services were held on Monday, at the home of Mr. Charles Rees on Jewett street, Newton, Rev. Chester A. Drummond of Channing Church officiating, and the burial was in Newton Cemetery.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake
Stearns School

The members of the eighth grade are planning a short dramatic sketch, "The Big Ditch" or the Panama Canal.

The next debate on Friday morning promises to be interesting. The subject is: Resolved; that motion pictures have harmful influence in a community. The leader of the affirmative side is Gerard Mazzola, assisted by Constantino Lanni, Evelyn Lawler, George Karcher and Helen Beltrami, the leader of the negative side is Florence Sampson, assisted by Charles Lacroix, Pasquale Mazzola, Angelina Bellefatto and Enrico Ciambelli. The chairman is Emilio Conzo.

The baseball candidates are anxiously awaiting the drying of the playground surface. With new uniforms this season along with the championship pelts of last year the boys hope to have an unusually successful season.

The picture presented to Miss Stoddard by her last year's class, a mixed grade, VII and VIII has just arrived. It was painted by Mr. Daniels in accordance with Miss Stoddard's wishes, to have a picture of geographical value in teaching, thus combining utility, art, and a gift. The money given for it does not pay for the canvas and frame, probably, so the children and Miss Stoddard find it difficult to know how to express their appreciation to Mr. Daniels for such a wonderful picture.

Burr School

Rev. Joseph Moore, who has recently returned from the Philippines gave a lecture to the 7th and 8th grades on the Philippines in Burr Hall on Wednesday afternoon.

The 8th grades have all visited the Telephone Exchange at West Newton. They have greatly enjoyed the experience.

The March weighing showed a gain in weight in almost all of the rooms. The members of the 8th grade have been giving Geography talks illustrated with lantern slides and interesting specimens. Among those who have taken part are Kenneth Speri, Anson Garfield, and Marjorie Berry.

Mason School

The eighth grades are discussing in class different occupations and professions, talking over the tasks, advantages, disadvantages, and the preparation required.

Nursing is the one now under consideration and on Monday, they had the pleasure of hearing a trained, practical nurse, Miss Mary Cobb, speak on the subject. Promptness, accuracy, kindness, quietness, and a pleasant voice were some of the points emphasized.

Outdoor fire drills are now possible with warmer weather and the cleared ground. Such a one was given on Wednesday morning, although, to prevent the possibility of taking cold, the pupils put on their outside wraps. One creditable thing about it was the absolute silence which the boys and girls maintained.

Newton High School

The annual gymnastic meet of the girls of the Newton High Schools will be held this afternoon in the gymnasium.

Underwood School

There will be a cake and candy sale at the Underwood School, Thursday, March 30, 1922, at 2 P. M. The "Children's Gift Shop" will be a special attraction, where various articles made by the children will be for sale. Donations of cake, candy and nuts will be gratefully received on Wednesday and Thursday, March 29th and 30th. All are cordially invited. Come and bring your friends.

Lasell

Many guests attended the reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Winslow on Wednesday evening. Miss Porter and Mr. Dennis McCarthy assisted in receiving. Following the formal reception the guests and student body assembled in the gymnasium, where They had the pleasure of hearing Mr. McCarthy read selections from his poems.

The annual gymnasium exhibition took place on Friday evening. The program was varied, and consisted of apparatus and floor work by groups and individuals. The splendid training testified strongly to the efficiency of that department.

George W. Grimes is to be the speaker at the lecture hour on Saturday morning, when his topic will be, "Business Law for Women."

On Saturday evening the seniors are to entertain the sophomores at Woodland Hall with a Palm Beach party.

An insight into the work which is being carried on in Caney Creek Community Centre, at Peppabass, in the heart of the Kentucky Mountains, will be given at 8 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, at 2.15.

N. H. S.

The Girls' Debating team of the Newton High School received another setback when they faced the Somerville team.

The subject for debate was: "Resolved that school attendance should be made compulsory throughout the U. S. to the age of 18 or through the high school period." The Newton team was made up of Louise MacLeod, '23; Caroline Cummings, '23; Barbara Simpson, '22. While Hester Leitner, '22, was alternate. The judges were Dr. A. Johnson of Brookline, Miss A. Raymond of Cambridge, Mr. R. Stark, Jr., of Brookline.

The debate was followed by dancing in the "Gym."

At Natick last Saturday the girls' basketball team was beaten by the Natick High, 77 to 18.

The students of the Newton High School have saved a great deal of money since the Automatic Receiving Tellers have been installed which would otherwise have been spent foolishly. This unique idea will teach the students thrift and economy which will be appreciated later on.

William Shipps of Newton has been chosen captain of the hockey team for next winter. He played center the past season. He succeeds Prescott Drowne.

Letters were awarded to the following: William Shipp, Paul Tedesco, Henry Crosby, Ralph Holmes, Shattuck Osborne, Allan Dunlop, Arthur Manning, Prescott Drowne and Manager Cedric Valentine.

FIRST CHURCH ORCHESTRA

The First Church Orchestra of Newton Centre under the direction of D. Ralph Maclean, gave a concert in the Church on Monday evening to the Men's Club of the Church with Milton Snyder, Baritone, assisting.

The Overture from "William Tell," although a very well-known composition, was made highly interesting, not only by a vivid presentation of the popular theme, but by a beautiful rendering of the opening theme on the 'cello and violas, and also a well-executed oboe and flute duet. The orchestra was able to give an adequate exhibition of its skill in ensemble playing in the "Pizzicato" from Sylvia, a very delicately-written composition. It is in such a composition as this that Mr. Maclean's command of the orchestra shows.

We always appreciate a vocalist who has the goodness of heart to tell the names of the encores, and Mr. Snyder fulfilled our desires in singing "The Old Road" by John Pringle Scott, and "Birds in the High Hall Garden" by Wellfleet. His singing was not only excellent from a musical standpoint, but it had a very strong appeal, and he was called back several times.

The program was concluded with "Pomp and Circumstance." This number is remarkable for its full, heavy scoring, and the orchestra's rendering of this number was very pleasing to all present.

After the concert refreshments were served all present by the Men's Club, and an enjoyable evening was had by all.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Last Friday evening, Mildred Florence Beardsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Beardsley of Crescent street, Auburndale, celebrated her 16th birthday by entertaining 30 of her young friends.

The house was decorated with green and the company had a merry time with games and dancing and music. The Jack Horner pie added much amusement, and a birthday cake filled with trinkets added much to the joy of the occasion.

Miss Beardsley, who is a Junior in the Technical High School and a member of the orchestra, is very popular among her classmates, and was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Among the guests was Miss Ruth Mason of Westboro who spent the week-end. There were also other guests from Winthrop, Allston, West Roxbury, and the Newtons.

LECTURE BY WILLIAM ROSCOE THAYER, LL.D.

On Tuesday evening, March 28, at 8 P. M. in the Unitarian Church, West Newton, William Roscoe Thayer, LL.D., the close friend and chosen biographer of Theodore Roosevelt has kindly consented to speak for the benefit of the fund for the West Newton Branch Library. Dr. Thayer's topic is "The Italian Home and the Immigrant."

It is perhaps in part, a result of Dr. Thayer's studies of Italian History, most notably the Life and Time of Cavour, A Short History of Venice, and The Dawn of Italian Independence, that he was chosen to represent the United States at the International Historical Congress at Rome in 1903, and Italian Historical Congress at Milan in 1906. During the War Dr. Thayer was president of the New England Italian War Relief. Tickets are one dollar and may be secured at the door. Advertisement.

The Company has accepted the opportunity and to-day is at the forefront of public health work in America.

14,000,000 VISITS BY TRAINED NURSES

Free nursing service is given to Industrial policy-holders in 2,800 cities and towns. Trained nurses not only heal the sick but teach right living. About 14,000,000 visits have been made—2,116,875 in 1921 alone. Numerous letters tell of lives saved.

DISCOVERING DISEASE IN TIME

Free medical examinations often disclosing incipient disease in time to cure it, are granted to Ordinary (annual premium) policy-holders, subject to reasonable conditions.

HELPING THE EMPLOYER TO HELP

Employers insuring their employees under Group policies are advised regarding health conditions and accident prevention, while the employees receive the benefits of nursing service and welfare literature.

238,000,000 PIECES OF LITERATURE

Attractive booklets and pamphlets in great variety, dealing with the important phases of health and disease, and prepared by leading experts, are distributed broadcast. So far, 238,000,000 copies have been distributed—25,000,000 in 1921.

In addition, 18,000,000 copies of "The Metropolitan," a health magazine, are issued annually.

A CITY THAT IS WATCHED

In Framingham, Mass., the Metropolitan is leading the way in a great experiment, watched by health authorities throughout the country, to demonstrate what proper municipal health regulation can do. Deaths from tuberculosis have dropped from 121 per 100,000 to 40 per annum.

HOW WAS IT DONE?

Records kept by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company show an extraordinary decrease in the death rate among its Industrial, or weekly premium, policy-holders. Comparing 1921 with 1911, for example, there were 55,000 less deaths in 1921 than there would have been if the 1911 death rate had prevailed.

What brought about the great saving of life?

The general public health movement—progress in medical science and sanitation—other causes, perhaps. But a very great factor has been the tremendous health campaign carried on by the Metropolitan itself. This page tells a part of the story.

EDITORIAL

The re-organized Chamber of Commerce appears to have started in the right direction and can undoubtedly be of great assistance in the betterment of the city. We have a few suggestions which may be of value. First, Newton needs in the near future, a number of well constructed apartment houses—buildings which will be reasonably fire proof but not so expensive as to make the rentals above the reach of the average citizen. This can not be done, however, until the present severe and unreasonable restrictions on the building of apartment houses, contained in our Building Code are changed. We believe that study of this matter by the Chamber will show that such modifications of the code are reasonable and desirable. Second, the Chamber should keep a constant pressure on our city government to expend a reasonable amount of money each and every year toward connecting up the streets of the city as recommended by the Planning Board. Up to the present time, practically no action has been taken on these recommendations and the only way to obtain the desired result is to get busy and keep busy. Third,—the present method of handling our water revenues would not be tolerated for one moment in a public service corporation. What a row would be raised, for instance, if the Edison Co. attempted to use its earnings to install a new plant. And yet, that is exactly what the city of Newton is doing with its water receipts. This means that the water takers of 1922 are not only paying for their own service, but they are paying for the bonds and interest on the water construction of 25 years ago and at the same time are paying for the plant which will serve the future residents of the city for the next thirty years. In other words the water consumer of today is paying for the past, present and future of the water system. We believe that a careful investigation of this matter by the Chamber will show that water rates can be reduced from 15 to 20%, by merely taking the position that the cost of plant extension shall be paid from the proceeds of thirty year bonds.

The attitude taken by the school committee in regard to a school building program cannot be commended and ought not to be encouraged. They virtually present an ultimatum to the aldermen and say we must either have a junior high school in the West Newton and Auburndale district, or we must have two new grade schools and a remodeling of the Bigelow school into a Junior High School. In other words, the school committee lays down the proposition that they are going to have a junior high school either in West Newton or in Newton Corner. The abandonment of the Davis school was evidently a part of a program to force the aldermanic hand, and was, we believe, a step which was not justified under the circumstances. We are well aware of the popular sentiment towards this building—a sentiment which we believe was not wholly fair and only partially warranted. The principal complaint against the Davis school was over its sanitary condition,—and for which we understand an item had already been inserted in the budget for the present year. The fire danger at this school had been considered by the Goddard commission and all the recommendations of that commission at this school have been carried out. The vibration of the building to which reference had been made, was not of recent origin but has been a condition of the building for many years, and consequently was not of a dangerous nature. We believe that the agitation concerning this building was unwarranted.

We can see no serious objection to the proposed new school buildings at Nonantum and Newton, both are evidently needed, and they should have been constructed long before this, but we do object to any extension of the junior high school scheme until it has had a fair trial in the building now being erected at Newtonville, and we believe the city can well afford to wait two or three years and see how that experiment works out, before making further appropriations on this line.

The controversies which have recently arisen in Newtonville and Auburndale and which even appear to be coming to a head in Newton Centre over the proposed erection of objectionable buildings, only emphasize the necessity for the immediate passage of the zoning ordinance which has been under consideration for several months. The city ought not to be compelled to pay large sums of money for building line and widening damages, when a zoning ordinance will settle the whole matter without cost.

A REGULAR HE-MAN BATTERY SERVICE

THERE once was a motorist, a regular fellow, who had become so used to the average kind of service and treatment that he just laughed when some of his friends at the club told him to come to us, that we, too, were regular fellows and would give him an honest-to-John opinion that he could rely upon.

But a couple of days afterwards he got in trouble. Stood right up on the old starter and nary a whirl did he get.

So he called us up saying "I've had trouble with this d— battery for the last two months, guess there's nothing to it but a new one, how much will it cost?"

But right there we broke in, "Nothing doing! wait till we see what the trouble is. You may not need a new battery." And sure enough, he didn't. Now we almost had to fight with that fellow to keep from selling him a new battery. But it's not a part of our policy to sell a man a battery when his present one can be made to last several months by a reasonable repair.

The other day at the club, this same motorist was telling some friends "where you can get regular he-man battery service." The address was ours.

Some day when that motorist's battery is worn out, we're going to sell him a Philadelphia Diamond Grid Battery, Guaranteed two years, and permanently put an end to his battery worries.

OFFER ALTERNATIVE PLAN

School Committee suggest two new grade schools and changes in Bigelow school

We hear with great regret the prediction that our able senior United States senator Henry Cabot Lodge, will have a hard fight on his hands to obtain a re-election this fall. It seems almost incredible that any thoughtful citizen should oppose Mr. Lodge, if all the facts of the situation are understood. Senator Lodge has been one of the most prominent figures in our national life for many years and during the last few years has performed a great service to the whole country in his work as Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. Massachusetts citizens ought to take pride in its senior senator and return him to the Senate with an ample and wholehearted majority.

While Newton is not particularly affected by the unemployment situation, it might be well for everyone who contemplates making any improvements on their property during the next few months to get an early start and help, if even so little, towards clearing up what is a deplorable condition.

Newton Post of the American Legion takes timely step in bringing attention once more to the matter of a memorial for the Newton boys who gave their lives in the Great War. Newton can well afford to get busy immediately on this important matter.

Congratulations to the Newton Young Women's Christian Association. May it equal the splendid work which has been and is being done by the Newton Young Men's Christian Association.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

There was a meeting of the Newton Hospital Social Service League at the New Church on Monday, at which a letter was read stating that the work of the society was to be taken over on May 1st by the Newton Hospital.

Mrs. Wellman addressed the meeting for a few moments, urging the members to join the Newton Circle. A letter was read from the Newton Hospital Aid asking the members of the league to join that organization. It was suggested that some of the members of the league might remain on the board as a connecting link between the hospital and Social Service.

Miss Margaret McGill spoke on behalf of the young people of today. She was very optimistic and hopeful of the outlook as far as the young people are concerned.

Mrs. McManamon gave a short talk, after which tea and light refreshments were served.

Mr. Everett E. Kent, chairman of the School Committee, has sent the following communication to Mayor Childs, accompanied with the formal request of the school committee for the action outlined:

My dear Mr. Mayor—

At a recent conference between the Finance and Public Buildings Committees of the Board of Aldermen, the Chairman of the School Committee, and the Superintendent of Schools, alternative plans for meeting the present school-building problems were given very careful consideration.

The School Department has already requested that a junior high school be erected as soon as possible to provide for the West Newton-Auburndale district. In view of the abandonment of the Davis School, it would be logical also, to provide a new building for the primary and grammar grades of that district, at the location of the Davis School, West Newton. This would make an excessive building campaign for West Newton. At the same time the Elliot School at Nonantum is in very bad physical condition and is over-crowded with pupils. The Underwood School at Newton is an old building and is very crowded; and both are in growing districts.

At the conference mentioned above, careful consideration was given to the alternative plan of providing new buildings as soon as possible to replace the Davis, Elliot and Underwood Schools, making the latter large enough to take the grades from the Bigelow School and at the same time making such changes as would be necessary to convert the existing Bigelow School building for use as a junior high school.

While the School Committee feels that the West Newton-Auburndale junior high school plan would be best because advancing the establishment of junior high schools and at the same time reasonably providing for relieving crowded conditions in the grade schools at West Newton, and affording greatest relief for the senior high schools, and because the Elliot School will be somewhat relieved next fall when classes are transferred from the neighboring Stearns School to the new junior high school on Walnut street, nevertheless, the other plan calls for improvements which undoubtedly are needed. It would be accepted by the School Committee as an alternative, on condition that the whole plan, including the conversion of the Bigelow School to a junior high school, be carried out so as to be completed by the fall of 1923, and provided it is understood that the erection of the West Newton-Auburndale junior high school is not to be long deferred.

This second plan undoubtedly has merit because it would save considerable expense for repairs to three old buildings which probably must soon be abandoned; and has the added benefit of permitting the abandonment of one or two other small old buildings (Froebel, Lincoln). It would afford needed relief in grammar schools of three different districts; it would afford a certain measure of relief in the central high schools even though limited; and it would none the less constitute a forward step in establishment of the junior high school educational policy which the committee holds important.

We are, therefore, forwarding to you our formal alternative request for the erection of a new 14-room building to take the place of the Davis School; a new 12-room building to take the place of the Elliot School; a new 16-room building to take the place of the Underwood School; and for such changes in the present Bigelow School as will make it suitable for a junior high school, such changes to be made by September, 1923.

The formal request of the school committee contains the following significant reservation:

"This present request may be considered in its entirety as an alternative for the request above mentioned for a junior high school at Washington and Greenwood Streets. It is the opinion of the School Committee that the immediate needs of the City require the execution of one or the other of these plans; and this alternative request is made only upon condition that if the Washington and Greenwood Street junior high school be not immediately provided, the whole of said alternative plan should be executed as soon as may be, and in particular be executed with sufficient promptness so that the conversion of the Bigelow School to junior high school uses shall be completed by the first of September, 1923."

The Attorney General of the Commonwealth, the Hon. J. Weston Allen, will make an address in Trinity Church, next Sunday evening, at 7.15. His subject will be "Loyalty to Law." Here are combined the man of the hour, and the topic for the time. Our Attorney General has won national fame for his courageous and successful attack upon an entrenched and notorious ring that for years has been selling the administration of law in Boston and vicinity. His work was like that of Governor Coolidge in the police strike in its effect upon the country and upon the enforcement of law. Everybody is invited.

UNDER THE GILDED DOGE

The principal feature this week on Beacon Hill was the hearing before Ways and Means on the proposed state control of penal institutions. The committee had before it the report of the special committee with its recommendation for a board of five to consist of the commissioner of correction, a county commissioner, a sheriff and two others, all to be appointed by the governor. The opposition presented another bill calling for a commission of four, one to be a county commissioner, one a sheriff, one a woman and one a judge of the superior court with the commissioner of correction a member ex officio. Possibly some kind of a compromise will be worked out and a long and bitter fight avoided.

Representative Early has been busy all the week with hearings before his committee on the many important recommendations of the Webster commission on reorganization of the state department. The recommendations have not been opposed on their general features but largely over unimportant details, and there has been a large attendance of state employees at the hearings. It is to be hoped that something will come out of the report as it will undoubtedly be of great benefit to the state.

Representative Rice had a favorable report on his bill to allow some leeway around the last of the old year and the beginning of the new year in regard to placing number plates on motor vehicles. A strict construction of the present law, as laid down by the Supreme court, would require every machine to be stopped exactly at midnight on December 31st and a change made to the new number plates. Instances have occurred where a motor cycle bearing the new number plates had met with an accident a few hours before midnight of Dec. 31st, and of an automobile bearing the old plates meeting with an accident a few minutes after midnight and the court held that both were at fault. The bill reported allows the new plates to be used from noon on Dec. 31st and the old plates to be used until noon of Jan. 1st. Mr. Rice made a fight to increase these limits 24 hours in each direction but was defeated.

Daylight saving will remain as it was last year, and extend for a period of 5 months from the last Sunday in March. The bills to repeal the present law and to increase the time limit to seven months having been both refused passage.

The House had a long debate this week over calling a convention to amend the constitution so as to provide for the election of judges. The Boston Democrats made considerable noise over this measure but were badly beaten on the vote.

The Rules committee has admitted the petition of the city government for a change in the present method of conducting our city elections, so as to provide for what is known as a "knock out primary," where there are three or more candidates for any municipal office. The present method of election was urged and supported by the writer some five or six years ago, and has saved the city about one thousand dollars a year by the abolition of the former unnecessary primary election. The petition is evidently against the paternity of the present system rather than on any substantial criticism of its operation. A hearing will be given by the Committee on cities next Tuesday at 10.30 A. M., on the matter.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Last November's ice storm did more to call public attention to Newton's trees than any other one thing has ever done. We have been rudely awakened to the fact, that unless our trees have the most expert treatment possible to obtain they are doomed, and then Newton will no longer be the "Garden City," of which we have boasted. This rud awakening has led many people, particularly club women, deeply interested in trees and in the whole subject of conservation to look into present methods being pursued in the city. They regard with disapprobation the merger of the Forestry and Street departments, and are now urging their separation upon the ground that the two departments require experts of widely differing training. The Street department is being ably administered at the pres-speeches. — The Laymen's League of the Unitarian Church met for supper on Wednesday evening. Mr. Charles R. Gow spoke on 'The Fundamental Economics of the Present Business Situation.'

— The Junior Boys' Club of the First Church has elected the following officers: President, Robert Andrews; vice-president, Richard Banfield; secretary, Charles E. Dearing; treasurer, Norman Harris.

— The First Parish Supper of Trinity Church took place on Tuesday evening. Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell and her committee have succeeded in giving remarkable suppers for the price, and the occasion is one that is greatly enjoyed by the entire parish.

— The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Pressey of Waverley, formerly of Main street, will be grieved to learn of the death of their 8-year-old daughter, Irma, who died last Sunday. She was beloved by everybody. The children of the school where she attent time, but the requirements of its commissioner are those of an engineer, who, in the words of the charter, "shall have charge of the construction, alteration, repair, maintenance, care and management of the public squares, sidewalks and bridges, public squares, playgrounds and burial grounds, and the lighting and watering thereof, and of the public sewers and drains."

The Forestry department, on the other hand, deals with living things, and its head is a man of a type of entirely different preparation. Modern conditions of traffic have demanded a new order of things in road construction, and the roads, as at present surfaced with impervious substances, have made life a hard matter at best for the trees, whose roots have little relation to the road. It is mostly carried off through the drains rather than soaking into the ground. And this is but one factor affecting tree conditions today and making necessary expert direction. The whole car-ended came in a lady to pay respect to her. The flag on the schoolhouse was at half-mast.

—The board of directors of the Orchestra of the First Church has elected the following officers: President, Mr. R. B. MacKnight; vice-president, Mr. F. E. Banfield, Jr.; secretary, Mrs. G. W. Ulmer; treasurer, Mr. W. D. Follett. The chairmen of committees are as follows: Music, Mrs. Albert Walker; membership, Mrs. G. W. Ulmer; property and lighting, Mr. F. E. Banfield, Jr.; publicity, Mr. R. B. MacKnight.

The classes of Lenten Services of Music and Meditation are being held at the First Baptist Church on Friday evenings. The members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Paul Shirley will assist the Minister and Organist at these services. At the service this evening, Mrs. Marjorie W. Leadbetter, soprano, will sing, Mr. Paul Shirley, Viola d'Amore, and Mr. Alfred Holy, harpist, will play.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—Next week the Boston Stock Company brings us another old favorite, "The End of the Bridge," which is the third Harvard Prize Play to be produced at the St. James Theatre this season. Miss Lincoln, the authoress, has done some of the best work in the "holocaust" and without the appropriations and authority to execute his own plans?

These are the contentions of the women well versed in the proper treatment and care of trees, and who have the welfare of Newton's trees very much at heart.

Mrs. Tucker then gave a full statement as to the position of her committee relative to the separation of the city's Forestry department from that of the Streets.

The Civics and Social Service committee reported that a request had come for the Federation to provide an opportunity for a sale for the disabled soldiers, and the board voted timely interest in the play about men. Not only has she employed natural everyday incidents of life but has developed her material to the utmost. In this really intensive drama, we see sincerity and sympathy combined with effective stage dialogue, a quality so necessary in an actor's craft.

The play will be staged under the personal direction of Mr. William C. Mason, who produced the play in its last visit to Boston.

ROBERT W. CHAMBERS—Prince of Story Tellers—his best is "THE SLAYER OF SOULS." The Sheiks of El Djebel—Oriental magic—mystery—and a pretty American girl. Intrigue—plots and counter plots. Exciting! Breathless!! Thrilling !!! Read the opening chapters in to-morrow's Boston Sunday Advertiser.

that disappointment was soon forgotten.

Mrs. Kingsbury's selections were particularly fitting for the first day of spring, most of them being nature songs. "The Lark now leaves his Watery Nest," by Parker, gave the singer's beautiful overtones full opportunity, while Cadman's "Song of the Robin Woman," with the strange intervals characteristic of the composer, displayed her technical perfection and her musical power. Her encore numbers were: "Carry Me Back to Old Virginy" and "May Morning," by Manney. Mrs. Kingsbury's voice is true and strong and of a pleasing quality, which meets her personal charm.

Mr. and Mrs. Miquelle are well known musicians. Mrs. Miquelle having been prominent in musical circles since her childhood, and Mr. Miquelle having been a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra for several years.

It is seldom that Newtonville in-

Upon an encore from a rapt audience, the couple's remarkable interpretation of Debussy's "Danse," requiring a facility of action and precision of tone which charms the ear of amateur and artist, commanded the sincere applause of the audience, whose enthusiasm was expressed by the exclamation, "Schumann's delightful little Hasche-Monne from Children's Scenes."

Mr. Miquelle is master of the technique of the "cello. He was at his best in the Allegro Spiritoso of Fauré, a composition which carries one out of oneself into the raptures of the "cello. In the "cello, Mr. Miquelle gave Dombois' "Libellule." The ensemble numbers of Mr. and Mrs. Miquelle disclosed their well-matched ability, and the movement from the Grieg Sonata, which closed the program, brought forth such applause that many acknowledgments had to be made to satisfy the audience.

During an intermission nose-gays were sold by 12 little girls: Elizabeth Arend, Dorothy Brown, Alin Collins, Barbara Billings, Sally Drew, Caroline Drew, Mary Foss, Lucy Parker, Molly Owens, Lois Safford, Dorothy Shipper, Dorothy Taylor. The proceeds from the sale, amounting to $22, will be given to the West Newton Music School.

After the program tea was served by the executive board, Mrs. W. N. Shelton having the affair in charge. The note of spring, which pervaded the afternoon, was continued in the table decorations of daffodils and narcissus poeticus.

Mrs. J. C. Hagar, Mrs. A. C. Deatur, Mrs. A. E. Vose and Mrs. H. D. Cabot acted as hostesses.

—Miss Gertrude Bourne has been confined to the house this week by illness.

—Dr. James Fitzgerald of Boston has purchased the Lamont property on Newland street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lowell of 19 Higgins street have moved to Warren avenue, West Newton.

—Mrs. Louise Middleton and her daughter, Julia of Melrose street, have returned from Springfield.

—Miss Eunice Werner of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., is spending a few days with Mrs. Turner on Maple street.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Tange is moving from Wolcott street to the Newbrook house on Commonwealth avenue.

—John Connolly has sold his house on Bourne street to W. L. Everett of Newtonville, formerly of Auburndale.

—Mr. Charles J. Lucey has bought the two-family house at 1900 Washington street nearly opposite the Woodland Golf Club.

—Mrs. Richard Foote of Central street entertained at bridge on Thursday for the benefit of her table at the coming Bazaar.

Next Tuesday evening the men of the Men's Club of the Methodist Church are to give a supper followed by the play, "The Awkward Squad."

—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Prescott and son of Rutland, Mass., were the guests at the automobile show of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Ross of Commonwealth avenue.

—Mr. Arthur F. Farley has purchased the large 2-family apartment house on the corner of Maple and Auburn streets, and will occupy for a home in the near future.

—We build Sofas, Wing Chairs, and Easy Chairs to order; also Reupholster Furniture and Cushions made. Call or telephone to M. H. Haase, 14 Centre Place, Newton. Tel. 1343-W Newton North.

The Methodist Young Men's Club are rehearsing for a play, "An Awkward Squad," which they will give on Tuesday evening, March 28th, in the Parish Hall. This will be preceded by a supper.

—Boy Sunday was celebrated last Sunday at the Methodist Church with much enthusiasm, every seat in the body of the church being taken by fathers and sons. Mr. W. H. Gibson gave a stirring address at the morning service on "The Religion of a Red Blooded Man." A special feature was a solo by Gravelle Leatherwood, the ten-year-old boy soprano. The evening service was for the boy scouts. The address on "A Good Scout or Temple Builder" was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Earle E. Harper, illustrated by an outline of the Temple of Life on the "blackboard." The Boys themselves took part in the service, assisted by a trumpeter, and by Mrs. Harper. The service was a very inspiring one.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The bowling prizes offered at the Club Saturday night by Mr. Hayward were won by Mr. George Harris and Mr. Dexter. Mr. Harris has bowled for over forty years and finished the evening with the high average of 117.

"THE WITCHING HOUR"

"The Witching Hour," the third in the series of plays given by Miss Ethel Freeman's company of players, was presented on Monday evening, at Players' Hall, West Newton.

In spite of the inclemency of the weather there was a good attendance, a proof of the deep interest which the people of Newton feel in the work of this group.

The play on Monday night was a great contrast to the Irish comedy given by the company some months ago. The latter called for delicacy of touch, a keen sense of humor, and a keen understanding of the temperament of the Irish, while "The Witching Hour" dealt with the deeper human emotions, and called for a high order of dramatic ability.

The play was ably done, particularly by Mr. Geoffrey Baker as Justice Prentice and by Mr. Perry as Jack Brookfield.

The theme of the play is one which has been very much before the public in the last few years, namely, the influence of mind upon mind, of those who have gone before upon the living, and of heredity.

These are big problems which are by no means solved as yet, and any book or play which can throw light upon the subject is of real value.

Mr. Baker and Mr. Perry were assisted by Miss Bonnie Jarvis, Miss Kimball and Miss McKeen, and by Mr. Houghton, Mr. McEwin, Mr. Fawcett, Mr. Jenkins, Mr. W. Houghton, Mr. R. Houghton and Mr. Newhall.

The staff of the company consists of Miss Ethel Freeman, director; Miss Arnold, assistant director; Mrs. Wyner, business manager; Miss McKeen, assistant business manager, and Mr. John Rogers, stage manager.

The company will give a matinee performance in Players' Hall tomorrow afternoon.

PUBLIC LIBRARY IMPROVEMENTS NEWTONVILLE BRANCH

The Newtonville Improvement Association has always maintained an active interest in the Newtonville Branch of the Public Library. For several months past a committee of the Association under the chairmanship of Mr. John R. Prescott, has been working in co-operation with the trustees of the Library to bring about improvements in the conditions at the Branch. There has been a rearrangement of facilities which will make for greater convenience and comfort in the use of the quarters. A very much needed improvement has been brought about through the installation of new lighting fixtures by the Howe Electric Company, the expense of which was met out of the funds of the Association. At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Library it was voted that the "Secretary should express the appreciation of the Board to the committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association for the excellent judgment that was shown in the re-lighting of the Library quarters at Newtonville, and to the Improvement Association itself for making these changes possible."

Newton Centre

—Mrs. N. S. Smith is spending the winter in Pasadena, California.

—Miss Grace McCarthy of Glenwood avenue is spending the week-end at Atlantic City.

—Hon. Z. E. Cliff of Somerville has sold his house on Vineyard road to Mrs. Harriet B. Baird.

—Mr. Henry Wordsworth has bought the Phillips property on Priscilla road, Chestnut Hill.

—The Wireless Club, with their leader, Mr. Barton, visited the Eastern Radio Institute in Boston last Saturday.

—Mr. Sidney Van Dusen is interested in the Pingree Winans Van Dusen, Inc., just organized in Boston, as brokers.

The March number of Telephone Topics has an interesting article on Mr. Matt B. Jones of The Ledges road, president of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co.

—Mr. Herbert T. Lane of Summer street is interested in the Colson Company of Massachusetts, just organized in Boston to manufacture wheel chairs.

The Men's Club of the First Church observed Ladies' Night on Monday. A program of unusual excellence was given by the Church orchestra.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Newton Centre Methodist Church will be held this evening at the Methodist Church. Dr. Shepley, district superintendent of the Boston district, will be present.

—Miss M. Louise Walworth of Centre street has recently returned from a trip through New York and Vermont, where she has been studying the financial situation of the Student Y. W. C. A. Miss Walworth has been asked to serve on a finance commission of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A., which is to meet in Arkansas April 20th.

A program of unusual interest was held last Sunday afternoon at the First Church, when a religious pageant representing scenes appropriate to the Lenten season was presented by Professor Albert E. Bailey of Boston University, assisted by Miss Lois Bailey. There was also special music by the choir from the School of Religious Education of Boston University.

—Miss Janice Liggett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis K. Liggett of Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, and Mr. Clarke Tilsten Baldwin will be married on Saturday afternoon, June 10, in the First Church. Miss Liggett is a member of the 1918 Sewing Circle, the Junior League and the Vincent Club. Her clever dancing in the performances of the show of last spring, "When South Meets North," was a decided "hit."

—Mrs. Montgomery Rollins is opening her house, 481 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, on Friday afternoon, March 31, for a bridge party to aid the Massachusetts Girl Scouts movement. The committee in charge of the arrangements include Mrs. Harold Murdock, Mrs. George Bramwell Baker, Mrs. Chandler Hovey, Mrs. Richard Harte, Mrs. James D. Colt, Mrs. F. Reed Estabrook, Miss Muriel Saltonstall and Mrs. Rollins.

March 27, the Monday Club of Newton Highlands will have a musicale at the home of Mrs. G. H. Salmon.

Dr. William Hung will address the Auburndale Woman's Club next Tuesday, March 28, in the Congregational Chapel, on "China in the Coming Drama." There will be music by the club chorus.

Mrs. Grace M. Poole gives her closing lecture upon Current Events before the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, March 28.

At the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on March 29, Thomas Whitney Surette will speak upon "Teaching Music." Guests may be invited. Mrs. George Minot Baker, president of the State Federation, has been obliged to postpone her visit to the club until April 12.

"Masterpieces of Art in America" is the subject of the lecture to be given by Henry Warren Poor at the meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on March 30th, at 2.15 P. M.

Mrs. F. A. Cole, chairman of the Legislative committee of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, is planning a trip to the State House in the near future. Members of the club desiring to join will confer with Mrs. Cole for particulars.

Local Happenings

The class in Modern Verse, under the auspices of the Newtonville Woman's Club, opened very successfully last Thursday, when the work of Henry Van Dyke was studied and discussed under the leadership of Mrs. E. K. Titus. Any others who may wish to join are requested to confer with Mrs. Titus.

On Monday evening, the concert by the Colonial Male Quartet, at the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, was very much enjoyed by the large number present.

Gentlemen's Night of the Newton Mothers' Club brought out a large number of members and guests at the home of Mrs. Herbert M. Cole, Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, the president, received with Mrs. Cole. All present were very much interested in the address by Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, principal of Phillips Andover Academy, upon "Youth and Its Present-Day Problems." Refreshments were served during the social hour.

The Auburndale review Club met at the home of Mrs. Richard O. Walter on Tuesday morning. The time was spent in considering the Island Possessions of Italy, Greece and Portugal. Mrs. Dennett's paper upon Sicily, Sardinia and Elba, was read by Mrs. Nelson Freeman. Mrs. Arthur C. Farley took those belonging to Greece—Rhodes, Crete, Patmos, etc., and Mrs. H. W. Wentworth those of Madeira and Cape Verde. Personal experiences of members who had visited some of them added much to the value of the morning.

After the business meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, held on Monday afternoon, at the Neighborhood Club house, Mr. Crowell, superintendent of the Albert Angier School, gave a short talk, explaining his new system of marking the work of the pupils, and encouraging a closer relationship between the parents and the teachers.

Mr. John Andrews then delighted his audience by his rendering of three selections on the piano. The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Henrietta Muir Edwards, and her subject, "The Mother and Child Under Canadian Law." Mrs. Edwards' talk was very interesting and showed clearly the difference between the laws which protect the women here and those which govern the women in Canada.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Augustus Champlin and Mrs. William H. Oakes. A delightful social half hour followed, during which tea and sandwiches were served.

Miss Fanny M. Adams presented a very interesting paper before the Newton Social Science Club on Wednesday morning, her subject being "Tapestries." Miss Adams said that tapestries belong to two periods, the Gothic and the Renaissance. The Gothic tapestries told merely a simple story, and were made from but 15 to 20 different colors, while those of the Renaissance were much more elaborate, setting forth all kinds of subjects and ideas. In France, the northern and midland provinces were given over to tapestry making in the Gothic period. In England, James and Charles both fostered the industry. The famous Gobelin tapestries were established by Louis XIV, especially to glorify his own reign. In modern times William Morris, in England, revived the industry, going back to those of the 16th century for his models.

On Tuesday evening, March 28, at 8 P. M., in the Unitarian Church, William Roscoe Thayer, LL.D., will lecture on "The Italian Homeland and the Immigrant." The Community Service Club have undertaken the raising of funds for a West Newton Memorial Branch Library, and Dr. Thayer has generously consented to give this lecture for the library fund.

Newton Federation

Monday morning's meeting of the executive board of the Newton Federation was more than usually full of interest. Mrs. H. H. Longfellow reported the meeting of the State Federation. Mrs. Fred H. Tucker, chairman of Conservation, made an extended report, in which she gave the present status of the Barbour bill creating the Roosevelt-Sequoia National Park, stating that it has been so amended that this park will come under the same protection from water power companies as those parks already established. She also stated that the Budget committee still refuses to include any appropriation for the protection and further extension of the National forest in the eastern part of the country.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ATHLETIC MEET AT Y. M. C. A.

Wednesday night Mr. Sear's class of the Newtonville Congregational church won a close and exciting athletic meet from the Immanuel Associates of the Newton Baptist church 28 to 21. The large crowd of enthusiastic rooters were kept keyed up all evening as it proved to be a very closely contested meet all the way through. Up to the final event the relay race, it was anybody's meet the Congregational winning the event by a close margin.

Ernie Woodworth of the Baptist team was high individual point winner scoring 16 points for his team, with Brown of the Congregational team second with 11 points.

CONCERT AT CENTRAL CHURCH

The concert given under the auspices of the Woman's Association of Central Church drew a large and enthusiastic audience. Marie Bashian's voice was one of remarkable power and sweetness, possessing some of the rare qualities of Alma Gluck's. Her rendering of English, French, Slavie, and Armenian folksongs was delightful and colorful. Her naive explanations and picturesque costumes added charm. Marie Bashian's husband, Mr. A. A. Bedelkian, is pastor of the Armenian Evangelical Church of New York and she is aiding in its support. The high grade of the Constantinople College for Girls is shown by the fact that after spending three years there she was qualified to enter the Senior Class at Columbia University.

Mrs. Carrie G. Edwards won much applause in her piano selections and her explanations of the numbers added greatly to the interest.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.—The wheel of fortune has turned for Mr. George Arliss and he has at last an excellent vehicle for his sterling talents in "The Green Goddess" at the Plymouth Theatre. Not since "The Darling of the Gods" have we had the opportunity of seeing him in an Oriental role, although such parts seem to fit him like the proverbial glove. Mr. William Archer's play is frankly, avowedly a melodrama, but a melodrama so cunningly and tastefully constructed as to delight both the epicurean critic and the tired business man. No short quotations could give more than a faint impression of the brilliancy of dialogue, the biting satire on British institutions as seen through Oriental eyes, the moving eloquence of the more tragic scenes.

TRY THIS CODE

Some Newton people may have been too busy a few weeks ago to make New Year resolutions, or they might not have had time to frame a set of good resolutions to guide them through this year. For their convenience, and believing they will appreciate them, we have prepared the following, which we suggest as a code worth posting up where you can see it several times each day:

I will smile at least once a day, and twice on Sunday.

I will attend and support church for my own and the other fellow's good.

I will make my family happy, because a happy family will add to my happiness.

I will love myself less and my neighbors more.

I will plant a tree, a few shrubs, and a lot of good deeds.

I will not kick unless I know what I am kicking about.

I will vote my own vote and run my own business.

SHUBERT THEATRE.—It is indeed a brilliant brush, the critics say, that painted the third annual production of the Greenwich Village Follies, now playing the Shubert Theatre, where it is being presented for the first time by The Bohemians, Inc. A. L. Jones and Morris Green, managing directors. It was devised and staged by John Murray Anderson. This third annual production has been described as a pallet of color from the splendid brilliancy of its Village Fair Scene to the beautiful Beardsley Figures in black and silver, upon which the final curtain drops. In the all star cast are Ted Lewis, Joe E. Brown, Cecil Cunningham, Ula Sharon, Gordon Dooley, Bird Millman, Robert G. Pitkin, Gretchen Eastman, Donald Kerr, Jane Korte, Valodis Vestoff, Marjorie Burgess, Billy Weston, Nancy Larned, Cora Orsay, Basil Smith, Albert Deano and the 30 artist models, as fascinating a group of young flappers as has been seen in a musical production for many seasons.

WILBUR THEATRE.—Not in some years has any book made history as has "Main Street" the novel by Sinclair Lewis which sold over two hundred thousand copies during the first six months it was on the bookstands, and its record as a novel has been closely rivaled by the stage version which the Messrs. Shubert presented at the National Theatre, New York, and which is now at the Wilbur Theatre, Boston. "Main Street" the novel, attained its success because of the universal appeal of the title and the very logic and naturalness of the characters themselves. The play has retained all the delightful honesty of the novel and has been endowed by a dramatic strength by the dramatists, who have taken twenty of the important characters and, selecting the big moments, have woven a play which not only realizes the strength and value of the novel, but is frank and colorful, human, and true to the comic, and in addition picturesque and amusing.

Hyde School

Miss Smith's third grade has made a Dutch table. Each child made his or her contribution—forming individuals, cattle, windmills, and among other things a Dutch flower boat.

Miss Perkins' second graders are working out a dining-room. They have worked together to design the wall paper, the rug, pictures for the walls, and the furniture. They are even going to make dainty little paper dollies and dishes for the dining table.

Miss Polly of Framingham is now the primary assistant.

The sixth grades have been having some interesting lectures with lantern slides on the South American countries.

Miss Tabor's class is dramatizing "The Blue Bird," a chapter at a time.

Miss Marguerite Flanders gave a most delightful luncheon to the teachers of the Hyde School, at her home on Lake Terrace, on Tuesday, of last week. The affair was a surprise to Miss Emily Titus in whose honor the luncheon was given.

Miss Grace Perkins expressed most graciously and most appropriately the love and esteem of Miss Titus's fellow-workers as she presented her with a traveling case equipped with white ivory.

Saturday morning, Miss Grant took 12 children to see the picture of Hiawatha at the Exeter St. Theatre. On Monday the school acted for those who had not gone the scenes they had seen portrayed to them.

The seventh-grade girls prepared and served a breakfast on Wednesday morning. The home-room teacher was invited and three girls selected to sit down at the table with her. Two other girls acted as waitresses. They served grape-fruit, golden-rod toast, boiled rice, and cocoa.

Miss Jewett's third-grade has a most attractive Japanese room. The sand table with its tea-house and charming little people, the booklets with covers of Japanese design, the parasols and fans, and the real Japanese pictures all unite in transporting the imagination to that far-away land. One of the children brought in a Japanese flag which she had made and which now waves over her land.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS

Freshmen Class Wins a Successful and Interesting Indoor Meet

One of the most interesting and certainly the most pleasing event of the school year, is the annual Gymnastic meet of the girls of the Newton High School. This affair took place this year on last Friday afternoon in the High School gymnasium and was witnessed by several hundred delighted parents and guests.

From the moment the three hundred and fifty girls marched into the hall, formed on three sides of the building and gave an impressive salute and pledge to the flag to the last music of the graceful dances which closed the program there was something of interest and something of excitement for participants and spectators.

The girls made a pretty spectacle all dressed alike in white middie and black bloomers, each wearing her class colors in the form of a necktie, green for seniors, red for juniors, yellow for sophomores and blue for freshmen.

The first number on the program was the floor work by each class and consisted of various marching movements and exercises. This was followed by picked squads of girls from each class in hand travelling, window ladder, rope ladders, horizontal ladder, saddle vault, rope climbing, back vault, face vault, swing jump and parallel bars, the leaders in each event being greeted with applause by their participants among those who were not entered. The games of arch goal ball in which teams of ten girls from each class entered were most exciting. The

ASSESSORS' NOTICE

The Assessors' Instruction Sheets, which are a guide to filling out Personal Property Returns, are being distributed by the Police, and taxpayers should see that these are not lost or mislaid.

The blanks for making out the Returns can be had by application to the Assessors, or to the local Banks and Trust Companies. If more convenient, give your name to the Assistant Assessor when he calls, and he will have a blank mailed to you.

These blanks should be filled out before May 15th, and this should preferably be done before one of the Principal Assessors to avoid later questioning or dooming.

Verbal returns, or letters stating values, are not permissible under the statutes. The Assessors have no discretion in this matter, as the law prescribes sworn Returns in every case.

As jewelry is taxable, it is important that women as well as men make returns.

BIG BUILDING BOOM

Newton is experiencing a tremendous building boom if the permits issued this last month by the Buildings Commissioner are any criterion. The estimated value is over $700,000 and includes several large amounts. Boston College is putting up a building valued at $300,000; the Woodland Golf Club has a $100,000 clubhouse under way; the Newton Centre Unitarian Church is engaged on a $50,000 addition to their edifice; Mr. H. W. Orr is to build a $40,000 block of stores on Walnut street, Newtonville; Mr. John T. Burns is to spend over $65,000 on four brick residences on Hunnewell Hill; Sylvanus Smith is building an $18,000 residence on Woodland road, Auburndale; the Charles River Country Club is spending $30,000 on a locker building; R. G. Crosby is building two houses on Ward street and Harrison street, costing $13,000 and $15,000, respectively; and there are several others for smaller amounts.

NEWTON BOY SCOUTS

Last Friday evening, March 24, the Court of Honor of Norumbega Council convened at the Playground House, Newton Centre, to award badges and make promotions to those scouts who had attained excellence in their tests. Deputy Commissioner Everett W. Varney of Newton Centre, Chairman of the Court was in charge, assisted by Asst. Deputy Commissioners Charles H. Woodworth of Newton, and E. J. Ovington of Auburndale. The following scouts received promotion and badges:

To First Class Rank: Richard Hunt, and E. P. Hills of Troop 1, Newtonville; Philip Darling and Brooks Piper of Troop 5, Newton Centre.

To Second Class Rank: Lewis E. Bailey, Jonathan Biscoe, Edgar Bonney, John L. Turner and Abraham Shain, all of Troop 5, Newton Centre; Mr. Stone, Scoutmaster. Lloyd Osborne, Troop 1, Newtonville. John Melver, Troop 4, Newton Highlands. Webster Gadsden, Ralph E. Carpenter, Horace Rounds, Troop 7, West Newton.

The following First Class Scouts received Merit Badges: Franklin K. Hoyt, Troop 7, Public Health; Robert A. Patterson, Troop 4, Swimming, Life Saving; Franklin Coleleigh, Troop 4, Swimming; Philip S. Taylor, Troop 4, Swimming, Life Saving, Public Health, and Personal Health; L. S. Moore, Troops 1, Marksmanship; E. Brooks Piper, Troop 5, Swimming and Athletics.

The Local Council is gratified with the way in which scouts are working for advancement in Scouting. This shows that Scouting is a vital part of their lives. Everything is being so arranged that scouts may advance as rapidly as possible in rank. Good work is very essential, and it is considered that this year's progress will show marked improvement over last.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL

Newton Apparently Has One of the Finest Teams in Greater Boston

Went over to Claffin Field yesterday and saw the candidates for the 1922 Newton High baseball team in action. A squad of more than fifty lads was chasing and batting balls over the none-too-dry surface of the field in a frantic effort to prove to Big Chief Dickinson that each fellow "had the stuff." Fifty fellows make quite some crowd to have out for a ball team, but we were informed that the original squad had numbered eighty, and that the boys we saw were those who had survived the first cuts. Of course, there are many cuts yet to come, and in a week or two the squad should dwindle down to a more manageable number.

In our opinion, the 1922 Newton team is going to be one of the finest in Greater Boston scholastic circles. We don't know very much about the potential strength of the seven other Suburban League teams, so just at present it isn't wise to talk about pennant prospects, but, honestly, it is going to take nine mighty good ball players to push the Newton team out of the race. Newton is going to make them all step, and step fast, or else we're one of the toughest Hugh Fullertons ever to hazard a prediction.

Emerson Murphy is captain of the 1922 Newton team. He is a pitcher and an outfielder, works well in either position, knows how to take a successful swing at the old horsehide, and should make a good leader for the Orange and Black. The first string catcher is "Crundgy" Cronin, a boy who is, beyond a doubt, the most finished backstop in schoolboy ranks. He should be one of the big factors in the coming Newton campaign. As substitutes, Cronin will have Fairbanks, a big chap who tosses the ball to the bases as if it was a marble, and a likely looking boy named Blair. Newton need not worry about the catching department. It will be well taken care of.

First base has two worthwhile candidates in the persons of Weymouth

POLICE NOTES

In the District Court Wednesday morning, Winthrop Spikes of Newton was fined $100 on the charge of carrying a loaded revolver. Besse Meade was sentenced to two months in the House of Correction on a charge of drunkenness and a charge of disturbance was placed on file. Her husband, Walter J. Meade, and William J. Welch were sentenced to the State Farm at Bridgewater on charges of drunkenness and a charge of disturbance against Welch was placed on file. The three were arrested about 10 o'clock Monday evening on Boylston street, Newton Centre, in a large touring car. It was discovered that the car had been stolen from a Boston garage, that the number plate had been broken off and another substituted. After the car was taken from the garage, the men were joined by Mrs. Meade.

In Court Tuesday morning, George Collins of 110 Kendall street, Roxbury, and John W. Scott of 94 Camden street, Roxbury, were held in $2,000 for the Grand Jury. Scott and Collins were arrested early Sunday morning at Chestnut Hill, Brookline, by Patrolman Mahoney of the Brookline police. The men were arguing with a garage man to take them to Hammond street. Their actions called the attention of Patrolman Mahoney who became suspicious and arrested them. Upon being searched at the Brookline Police Station, three quarts of liquor were found upon them. The Newton police, upon being notified of the arrests, reported that robbery had been committed at the home of David Morley, Lodge 17 Old England road, Chestnut Hill. Liquor had been stolen in the break. The Brookline police located the liquor in a leather bag in the woods near Hammond street. Both men denied knowledge of the break when arrested. Frank Callen of New York city, a street car conductor, was fined $100 for carrying a loaded revolver.

Clear Night in Scotland.
On a cloudless night one can sit by the shores of the Moray firth and read a newspaper at midnight, and golf, tennis and bowls have all been played while England slept. Cattle can be seen steadily grazing through the clear nights. The birds, too, appear to be a little puzzled by the unusually bright conditions. Their twittering never ceases, and occasionally one will break into song that another will answer.—Exchange.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Bowen School

Miss Whitney, of the Child Health Organization of New York City, was an interested visitor at the school on Friday last. She took away with her copies of health games, plays and songs made by the children of the sixth grade.

On Tuesday afternoon a music recital was given by the piano, violin and cornet pupils of the school. The violin work is under the direction of Miss Talbot, and the piano is taught by Miss Piper.

The Baby Clinic meets each Monday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock. Much enthusiasm is shown by each grade to be the one to send in the largest number of babies to the clinic.

The fourth grade of the Bowen School made a trip to Boston last week.

On their return they wrote to Mr. Bond and Mr. Oliver of the treasury department of the Commonwealth, in which it told of paying the Indians an amount of money for blankets.

One other item which interested the children was the fact that a sum of money was paid by our State for entertaining George Washington in 1776.

Replies have been received from these letters, much to the delight of the children.

Just at present each child is very busy on a book of Boston.

Mason School

In the eighth grade, practical science work, the pupils have studied the different systems of heating—hot air furnace, hot water and steam, the barometer and the thermometer.

Next comes the reading of a gas meter, and then the electric meter.

Each pupil has a neostyle diagram of the same.

Horace Mann

Coach Neville called out the candidates on March 22 for baseball and a likely squad is looked for to win the championship. The team is hoping to pick out one or two star twirlers.

Andres, Patrillo, Tenny, and Doherly of the last year's nine are looked upon to bring the team high honors.

Booklets concerning the courses in the High School have been given out by Mr. Carr to the Eighth Grade class. The pupils were asked to discuss the courses with their parents and come to a decision regarding the course which they wished to take.

The Receiving Teller still remains in the Horace Mann School. Each morning many pupils are seen in the corridor waiting for their chance to invest money. Since the beginning we have invested $317.51.

The girls of Grade VIII are organizing a baseball team. Many of the girls are new in the game but as time goes on we hope to improve.

Lasell

Miss Katherine Farrar, a teacher in the physical training department, is to be the speaker at the lecture hour next Saturday morning, when she will tell of her travels in Norway.

Dr. Ashley Day Leavett, of Brookline, who preached the baccalaureate sermon last June, is to have charge of the services on Sunday afternoon.

The Orphean recital, which is one of the big school events of the year, will be given on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Henry M. Dunham, head of the department of music, and who has been instrumental in bringing the Orphean Society up to its present high standard, will be the conductor.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The health drive in the direction of care of the teeth has reached 100 per cent in respect to equipment. Every pupil in the school now has brush and powder or paste. Miss Hogan's class had an all-star week last week in the daily care of the teeth.

Our school bank is a lively school enterprise and is encouraging thrift on the part of many pupils. There are 225 depositors and already $104 have been saved by the pupils.

Miss Anne F. Gibbons, departmental teacher of history for nearly two years has resigned her position and terminated her services this week. After a brief vacation she will engage in library work in the Brookline Public Library.

Miss Jones's class had some lantern slides on Japan to crown their recent study and project on Japan.

Miss Dow's class is preparing a magazine number for the current month in connection with the language work of the class. The pupils are collecting material and writing about our school activities.

There is considerable sickness among our pupils and teachers too. Whooping cough and scarlet fever are prevalent.

and Osborne. It is a question just now as to which of the two will get the preference. Weymouth is a rangy lad, and he is a left-hander, and it is this latter fact that may make him first choice for the position. All other things being equal, a good left-handed first sacker usually looks more suited to the position. But "Shad" Osborne is no slouch and may spring a surprise. At any rate, Newton will have two good first basemen, and in case one of them fits into the outfield, so much the better. Jake Stafford, captain of the 1921 football champions, appears to have a strange hold on second base "Nick" Tedesco is demonstrating that he has the goods for the keystone sack, and so is a boy named Blair. Shortstop will probably be held down by Jack Leary, who shapes up like the real article, and third base will be well cared for by another promising man named Meredith. Oakes and Vaughn are two other boys who will make a game attempt to secure these two positions.

We certainly do like the appearance of the prospective Newton infield, and we look for it to be a prominent factor in the team's success. A reliable infield makes up for many other deficiencies, and often makes a team that is weak in other departments an outfit that can hold its own with the best of them. The repeated successes of the crack Holy Cross ball team in intercollegiate circles has been due largely to the fact that the Worcester outfit knew what it was to have a weak infield.

The three leading candidates for the pitching staff are Capt. Murphy, Leahy and Leith. Any one of these boys should be able to fulfill a pitching assignment for the first team, and if all three twirl consistently, even though not brilliantly, Newton will be well off in the box. Three good pitchers, supported by a decent fielding and a satisfactory hitting team, should accomplish far more results than the team with one star boxman with eight weak men behind him.

There are a number of men out for the three outfield positions. Dunlop is perhaps the only boy among them who has had previous experience in Newton baseball, but some of the others are catching on in fine style. Personally, we don't think Coach Dickinson is over-anxious about his outfield prospects. There is too much good material at Clafin Field to warrant any worry over the three outer garden men.

Newton is desirous of opening its schedule on the 12th of April, but as yet Manager Reynolds has been unable to secure an opponent. The first scheduled contest is with Waltham High, and it will be played at Clafin Field two weeks from tomorrow. Opening games in any branch of sport are hardly events that one would enthusiastically over, but any game with Waltham is sufficient to arouse interest in the Garden City, and so we may look to see one of the most spirited, even if it will not be one of the best played, opening games in which a Newton team ever has taken part.

The Suburban League schedule will open on Patriots' Day, when Everett comes to Clafin Field. The remainder of the Newton schedule of games will be played with suburban teams, with the exception of another game with Waltham, and a contest with one of the Boston City League nines. English High, Cambridge Latin is the present holder of the Suburban League baseball championship, its last year's nine being one of the best ever to represent any high school. This year, however, Cambridge has lost practically all its star players by graduation, and will have a much more difficult time winning the 1922 laurels.

CITY OF NEWTON

NOTICE TO DEALERS IN ROAD SURFACING MATERIALS

Sealed proposals for furnishing the following approximate quantities of road surfacing material will be received at the office of the Street Commissioner, City Hall, West Newton, Massachusetts, until 11 A. M., April 11, 1922.

Estimated Quantities of Road Surfacing Materials Required for 1922

Asphalt Binder..... 50,000 gallons
Asphalt Road Oil, No. 4, 65%..... 60,000 gallons
Asphalt Road Oil, No. 4, 45%..... 60,000 gallons
Tarvis B Or Rotar..... 240,000 gallons
Tarvis No. 2..... 125,000 gallons
Non-Asphaltic Road Oil..... 15,000 gallons
Other brands of road oils and bituminous road surfacing materials..... 19,000 gallons

Proposals are invited for all the above materials or the amount required of one or more brands. Bidders may also submit proposals for other road oils and bituminous road surfacing materials. All proposals must be on blank forms furnished by said Commissioner and must be accompanied by a certified check upon a national bank or trust company in the sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00) payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal which it accompanies is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to execute the contract.

All proposals must be accompanied by a sample of each grade or kind of material the bidder proposes to furnish, suitably marked for identification. The bidder shall submit with each sample signed specifications in triplicate, stating the chemical characteristics of the material and the requirements it will meet upon analysis.

A sufficient bond for the faithful performance of the contract, signed by a surety company authorized to do business in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, for the sum of $5,000, will be required.

Specifications and forms may be obtained at the office of said Commissioner. Said Commissioner reserves the right to reject either any or all proposals or to accept any proposal or any part of any proposal.

NONANTUM SQUARE

Mr. J. Wesley Barber makes some interesting suggestions

The following paper, read by Mr. J. Wesley Barber, at a meeting of the Monday Club, will be of interest as a possible solution of the Nonantum square problem.

My remarks this evening are on three related topics, the first being the congestion at Nonantum Square which has been before the public through the Planning Board for seven years or more. It also touches on plans for benefiting Newton in its transportation system, the purpose being to avoid two villages, now the cause of twenty minutes' conservative loss of time in getting to Boston by the electric.

Third, the development of the Metropolitan Park System.

I will refer first to the plans for benefiting Newton, which of course must include transportation by the Elevated System.

On August 5, 1919, I first presented a plan, of which this is one section elaborated. Before my interview with the Trustees of the Elevated railroad, I first presented the idea to two daily Boston newspapers.

They highly approved of the general plan. That interview happened to be the very week in which the Elevated Railroad put on the first car to go from Franklin Street to the North Station for a five-cent fare without transfers.

That idea has been extended until I was told last week that the enormous amount of 20 per cent of the Elevated Railroad business is carried at five cents, from outlying places towards Boston.

My plan was based upon service. I said the American public is always ready to pay the price for service, and they do not object to the full cost of that service. This is true of hotels and public service companies generally.

The plan which was given at the time of my interview with the Trustees (which necessarily would be changed somewhat after two and a half years) was as follows: I quote from the letter of August 5, 1919:

"Establish zones at junction points, preferably with loop return, such junction points to be inside the distance where it has been proved in the past that money can be made with a five-cent fare. Note: this differs from the zone system materially in that—

All entrance fees to Subways, Tunnels, and from the looms to underground would be uniform, five cents. The plan also suggested for the looms using the light cars, each of which shall be very prominently marked and preferably routed by number, as Baltimore and other cities are using today.

For purposes of illustration, I will mention two or three junction points which might be termed loop terminals: Loop 1 (car) labelled Route 1, to the North Station junction with Broadway; Loop 2 (car) labelled Route 2, to the North Station junction with Broadway; Loop 3 (car) labelled Route 3, to the North Station junction with Broadway.

Thus while it would be possible for a passenger to enter the car at North Station and go to Winter Hill for five cents, it is more probable that the South Boston crowd to any extent would be bound for Harvard Square.

All other cars not bearing this distinctive mark, showing as LOCAL routes, shall be continued on the same routes as at present—with of course no exceptions—but they shall be run in every sense as Express Routes.

There shall be no stopping for passengers between the Subway and the loop of that route. For this express service another nickel shall be added, making the fare the same as at present, but it will be understood that this nickel is for the express service and payable on entrance to the car. Persons wishing to board the car for Newton, as now, will be fully satisfied by the quick loop service to the junction point, and if there are those who desire to go no further than the loop, but are willing to pay an extra nickel for the privilege of making the trip, they may alight at either party station, disembarking at the loop will afford room for those who are waiting at the loop to get on to the express to trip terminus.

The foregoing applies to OUTWARD cars. For INWARD service a nickel would be paid on entering, and the second nickel collected at the loop, by which the public getting on at Newton could go to the junction point on a five-cent fare, as it is at present possible.

It will be noted that the distinction between the plan here outlined is in the cars and the service rendered, rather than the zones.

It is worthy of note in view of what has recently transpired regarding a loop system now to come before the Public Service hearing to call attention to the date in which the service here indicated was given to the Trustees and Mr. Dana: I. e. regarding Commonwealth and Brighton Avenue.

I still think that to leave out the City of Boston (proper), forbidding anyone in the city to board a Subway car for however short a distance at less than ten cents, was a mistake:—especially as it was and is a feasible thing to test the opposite plan, which could be done with the full knowledge by the public that it was to be only a test, to prove what no amount of theorizing could give as a result either for or against.

The Nonantum Square Plan

(1) For the Middlesex and Boston lines to enter a subway just west of Hall Street and either form a loop line to the Square, or go as it does now and terminate in practically the same position but under Nonantum Square.

(2) Then make the line from Watertown enter a subway north of Jefferson street and serve to the right through Nonantum Square before proceeding over the Railroad bridge and as now toward Brighton.

(3) At the same time there shall be another line that shall start from Watertown and bear to the left thus permitting a long subway landing stage, the entire length of Nonantum Square, with at least four entrances and probably five, and then instead of going across the bridge, those tracks shall turn to the left and go under Charlesbank road parallel to the Boston & Albany tracks, but north of the railroad, as marked with dotted lines on Planning Board's Map of 1919.

These tracks may come to the surface at the old Summer place, which is the first estate that was not walled straight up by the Boston & Albany railroad when they went through on the depressed tracks.

If the cost is not considered prohibitive, a better plan would be to make the route from Nonantum Square all subway until it reaches the point where the end of the present street drops down to the Metropolitan Park.

Or it might be an open ditch until it goes down the hill on to the Metropolitan Park, as is the Boston & Albany railroad.

From the entrance to the Parkway this route would go along parallel with the parkway and the Boston & Albany railroad, and if bordered with trees would make that huge railroad embankment less conspicuous. At Faneuil the plan provides for entering again a subway west of the first bridge under the railroad and creating an underground station on the three-corner heater piece of the Park property; thence under North Beacon street or on North Beacon street to the junction at Union Square, and by the present straight line in to Kenmore Street Subway entrance.

The special reason for this plan to my mind is the unusual location of Nonantum Square. An open ditch can be dug and provision made for ramps without interfering at all with traffic, because the detours to every connecting street are unimportant. It can be done without any difficulty whatever. The underground sidewalks from west to east and from north to south will serve a double purpose, providing for a crossing which will be safe for pedestrians, being slightly below ground, and will also serve as the starting point for the ramps, on the principle adopted at the Harvard Square entrance to the Cambridge subway, for reaching both Middlesex and Elevated cars.

Make this statement, in which I think you will bear me out, that in fifty years' use that subway station dug in this way and built of cement below ground would be cheaper than it would to build a depot above ground; and furthermore there is nothing in its operation which will not be perfectly feasible—and be done quickly, for perhaps the finest job in New England is the elevated tracks through Lynn, which were built by T. Stuart & Son Company, who are Newton residents and can estimate on the entire proposition.

The special advantage lies in the fact that instead of going, as we do now, away around by Brighton, you have a straight line from Newton to Faneuil and then another line which is only a very little curved to North Beacon street, and an absolutely straight line from there to the Subway, which will undoubtedly bring the running time between Nonantum square and Park street, according to the present condition of the Subway, down to about twenty-two minutes. This new line would be entirely for express service, while all local service would be served exactly as it is now.

The Elevated has done remarkable work for the Beacon-Beacon line in their trains of three cars that they run together. Those three-car trains should run on four or five-minute schedule from seven o'clock till eight-forty, and ten-minute time until four o'clock in the afternoon. The fare would always be ten cents from Newton for this express service.

This plan also provides an opportunity for a taxi stand above ground where now the Middlesex and Boston cars stop. Again, this will make a central meeting point for quite a percentage of Newton citizens who at present do not come to Nonantum Square but who would come there to take the car lines for an express from that point.

The Summer place referred to would also be the logical starting working point to drift in to the open ditch in preparation of the Nonantum Square Subway Station.

The reasons for this plan are briefly these: It would inaugurate an express route for Newton with only two stops, one at Faneuil and the other at that junction point on this loop that I referred to August 5, 1919; and from Brighton Avenue junction or Harvard Avenue by express, putting into definite operation while cars remain on the surface what formerly were termed limited stops, but which proved to be impracticable because they took the passengers, and there were so many to get on that they did not skip any stops at all.

Metropolitan Water Parkway

We have, I think, without any doubt, the makings of the finest waterpark in the world. The Alster basin of Hamburg is spoken of as the finest thing of the kind, but ours is as much ahead of the Alster basin as you can imagine, because instead of being flanked by some fine office buildings on the borders of the Alster basin, we start at East Cambridge bridge and our basin is flanked by the buildings of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and then the Indian-like minaret of the Perkins Institute and the bridge with which the basin starts at East Cambridge. The only thing comparable to the causeway is the harbor bridge at Rotterdam. We have possibilities that we in the dream of and today it is absolutely useless.

The great advantage lies in this development of the Metropolitan Park System. You have a junction point at Faneuil, where the water and rail systems meet. The Metropolitan Commission have not thought best to deepen the river from the foot of Jefferson street; why? Because there is nothing doing. But that can just as well be excavated and made the same depth as the other portions of the riverway, up to Watertown. Then passengers or pleasure-going parties would pass from the Watertown landing on to the electric line to go back to Boston when it became a popular resort; and making the journey with only three stops before Kenmore Street—first at Newton, then at Faneuil, then at Harvard Avenue. It would do more to develop that section and the Parkway than any other possible method.

The speed maintenance under all weather conditions is another very important factor. But of course for Newton itself—and that is my object in bringing it before you gentlemen, to get your impression whether this is a sane plan or not, to cut out Brighton and all its stops, which makes an average addition in running time on account of stops and distance of nearly twenty minutes, as I have tested it in the time between, we will say, quarter of four and half-past five in the afternoon and corresponding time in the morning.

As to the cost of this Newton subway, my point is this: Here is an opportunity of testing this system with less subway work than on perhaps any other line, and therefore the test could be applied in that section without interfering with the rest of the system. The length of the subway could be varied according to the estimates made, between simply the short grade to get into the subway at the Square, which would run down somewhere between Maple and Jefferson Streets, or it may go by the most logical point for the grade line to enter at the hill near Capitol Street. For instance, the road would be undoubtedly put in to see in regard to the quality of the soil, whether it was rock or trap before determining the route. The shortest distance for which the subway should be built would be from some point near Maple Street to the Summer estate on the line towards Faneuil, and on the other line for the Middlesex & Boston, from Bacon or Peabody Streets.

This plan would enable a test to be made of the express service in one line of the Elevated's multitudinous branches. The express service would undoubtedly draw three times the amount of passengers that the Elevated now gets from the west on the Middlesex System, as a feeder, it would deliver them further up town than the railroad station.

Gentlemen, let me ask you this one thing: Isn't it advisable from every standpoint that the present running time of 34 minutes to 48 minutes which now rules as the usual time of running from Newton to Boston shall be cut down? I would be very glad to have your opinion whether this does not offer a feasible system of accelerating how rapid transit can be secured for Newton with the least possible expense.

A LESSON FOR ADVERTISERS

Just the other day we saw an article in this paper something like this: "Once upon a time, a man had a furnace which was not heating his home with satisfaction. One day he became angry and going down to the basement stood before the furnace and exclaimed: 'Not another lump of coal will you get until you give me more heat.' The poor fellow froze to death."

Herein is a lesson for advertisers. Some men put a little ad in the paper and if it doesn't bring the results that he expected, he says: "I won't advertise again until the other ad brings results." So the poor fellow freezes to death.

If you want further proof of this, look up statistics and compare the figures of failures among advertisers with the figures of failures of non-advertisers—those who freeze to death.

DEATH OF MR. HADDEN

Mr. Dana C. Hadden died at his home, 6 Billings Park, suddenly, on Monday night, of pneumonia. He was in his 34th year.

Mr. Hadden was a graduate of the Newton Schools, a chief yeoman of the Naval Reserves, and a member of Eliot Church.

He is survived by his widow, Martha E. Hadden; one daughter, Louise Hadden; a brother, Frank L. Hadden of Boston, and a sister, James M. Haywood, of Wollaston, Mass.

Services were held at his late residence on Thursday, Rev. H. Grant Person officiating, and the burial was in Newton Cemetery.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—Next week's play at the St. James Theatre is to be the revival of "The Silent Witness" which is to be remembered by its enormous success at the Fulton and Longacre theatres in New York, where it was acclaimed to be "the greatest drama since 'Madame X'."

"The Silent Witness" is a melodrama with a true dramatic motive—that the public prosecutor should be the attorney of all the people and not merely a single class. Around this theme the author has woven his text so that instead of preaching a sermon, he has "leaped in one bound into popular favor" as one Boston newspaper puts it. The management promises that "The Silent Witness" will be one of the really big things by which the Boston Stock Company will be remembered.

HALO DUE TO MISCONCEPTION

Explanation of Luminous Circle About the Heads of Saints Is Somewhat Humorous.

For centuries it has been an almost universal practice among artists to paint halos about the heads of the saints in their pictures. Some characters have been so depicted, even though not officially canonized or previous to that ceremony, when the artist wished to indicate special spiritual qualities or holiness, as, for instance, in the case of Joan of Arc.

During the eleventh and twelfth centuries there was a great activity in the building of churches and cathedrals, and it was a common practice to erect around the outside of the buildings statues of the saints, which were placed just under the eaves. As the images became discolored by the rain which fell upon the roofs and then poured over them, the authorities, as a means of protection, placed over the heads of the figures wooden disks of a size sufficient to protect them. Gilt, the great artist, began to paint halo pictures when only a country boy, and in his ignorance assumed that the disks were essential parts of the images of the saints. Hence his earliest paintings represent each sacred figure wearing over the head something that looks like the bottom of a tub. Later on he idealized this into a mere circle, dark at first, but growing more luminous with each production, until finally he developed the circle of light that has come down unchanged through generations of painters as the badge of sanctity.—New York Post.

DREW LAUGHTER FROM GRANT

Witty Remarks of Mark Twain Broke Down Reserve Characteristic of the Famous Soldier.

Responding to the toast of "Babies" at the memorable Chicago banquet in honor of Gen. Grant in 1879, Mark Twain concluded with a sentence that set the gathering in an uproar. In his inimitable drawing voice he said:

"In his cradle, somewhere under the flag, the future illustrious commander-in-chief of the American armies is so little burdened with his approaching grandeur and responsibilities as to be giving his whole strategic mind, at this moment, to trying to find some way to get his own big toe into his mouth, an achievement which (meaning no disrespect) the illustrious guest of this evening also turned his attention to some fifty-six years ago. And if the child is but the father of the man, there are mighty few who will doubt that he succeeded."

At that conclusion the audience broke into cheers and roars of laughter in which even the reserved Grant joined.

Have Broad Matrimonial Views.

Present-day Maoris are, nominally Christians, but there are many old chiefs who are still fond of their ancient totem poles. Their religion is that of nature-worship combined with the veneration of ancestors. A pecular and interesting detail of their religion is the belief that the soul dwells in each human being's left eye.

The Maoris were enthusiastic cannibals in by-gone days, their favorite dish being roasted hearts. Eating the hearts of their enemies was supposed to give them strength, especially in the pursuit of war-time activities.

Joke 5,000 Years Old.

Planned by the ancient Egyptians over 5,000 years ago, a joke just came to fruition, writes Prof. Flinders Petrie, the noted archeologist. "While we were trying to find a way into a queen's pyramid," he says, "we discovered on a rock face a door which was so beautifully and exactly fitted that it was difficult to see the joints.
We immediately set to work on this, thinking that we had found at last an entrance to the inner chamber.
After a considerable amount of work we removed the door and found—solid rock! It was a carefully arranged blind to balk anyone who wanted to find the entrance into the royal tombs, and had been made about 3,000 B. C. by someone with a sense of humor."

Humidity in Surgery.

Investigations made in several Boston hospitals by Dr. Ellsworth Huntington seem to indicate that for surgical operations, the heat condition of the atmosphere is high humidity, 80 per cent or more, directly after operations, and moderate humidity, about 60 per cent, at a temperature of 64 degrees Fahrenheit, a few days later.
Doctor Huntington points out that, if these results are accepted, there is no reason why the optimum conditions of temperature and humidity should not be produced artificially in hospitals, causing a probable improvement in not less than 20 per cent in the results of operations.

A SOLDIER'S MEMORIAL

The following report has just been made public by the Memorial Committee of Newton Post 48, American Legion:

This committee was appointed by Capt. Cormerais to consider (1) the naming of new junior high schools, (2) suitable local or community memorials, and (3) general memorial for the City of Newton as a whole. A study of this project shows their close relation, and the need of a clearly defined city policy acceptable to a majority of the people.

Public-spirited citizens in certain parts of the city, apparently feel that it is time for Newton to have some permanent form of memorial for the men who gave their lives in the World War.

We feel that the body of men which the Legion represents are the most interesting in perpetuating the records of the War and having a memorial program carried out in Newton which will stand the test of time. It is of the utmost importance that the project be clearly understood in order that only suitable memorials may be erected, and that the co-operation of the whole city be secured in having a plan adopted, which will be comprehended and followed by all those interested.

With regard to the suggestion made that the new junior high school buildings be named for men who gave their lives, we feel that it would be very difficult, if not impossible, to select individuals whose services were of such special merit and distinction over and beyond that of their comrades, to warrant using their names.

In this connection we have considered the suggestion of naming the buildings for those who, in addition to giving their lives were decorated for special acts of bravery. Members of the Post, however, who have themselves been so decorated, feel that this would not constitute a fair method of selection, as many who were not decorated should have been, and others who were recommended for such decorations never received them.

We therefore recommend that the junior high schools be named for the part of the city which they are to serve, and in order to suitably remember and make permanent record of the boys who gave their lives from each section of the city, a bronze tablet of artistic merit be placed either in or upon each building.

If the junior high school policy of the School Committee is carried out, there will ultimately be junior high schools serving all sections of the city.

Some of the present grammar school buildings probably the Mason School at Newton Centre, and the Bigelow School at Newton, will finally become junior high schools and it would be entirely fitting to have tablets prepared for these buildings.

In this connection it is desired to point out that if any other form of memorial is used, it is likely to lack artistic merit or be inappropriate for this purpose. We feel that it would be very unfortunate to have anything erected which would not in itself command the respect due these men. As examples of what is meant, we call attention to the statue of the Minute-Man at Concord and the Robert Gould
Shaw Memorial at the State House.
Anything approaching these in the various parts of the city would be too expensive to be practicable, and if such a monument could be obtained for one section it would work to the disadvantage of the project as a whole.

With regard to the Newton War Memorial, we wish to call attention to the fact that the city through its Board of Aldermen has already studied and reported upon this project. The committee composed of members of the Board of Aldermen, other prominent citizens, and three members of the Newton Post of the American Legion reported in favor of a city memorial to be composed of two parts, (1) a community building, and (2) an artistic memorial of special merit. The city has already had plans drawn for the community building and made estimates as to the total cost. It was however recommended that because of the high prices which prevailed more than a year ago, the final action be postponed until the building could be erected at a lower figure.

We have reconsidered this project and believe that a community building, centrally located, with a suitable hall together with rooms for the city's community activities, would do much to bring the various parts of the city together and help to develop more men and women who would think in terms of the whole city rather than in one of its sub-divisions. The original plans called for a building which would cost $300,000. We are informed that such a building can now be built for about $100,000 less and we think the time is ripe to recommend to the Board of Aldermen that this portion of the city memorial be undertaken at an early date. If this building is erected now it will furnish a much needed public building with a large hall and should

We recommend that suitable bronze tablets be placed in this building making a record of the different battles in which Newton men served and giving the names of all men who went from Newton. Special tablets should be erected for those who gave their lives, and if the building is to be located as planned near the present high schools, records should also be made of the fact that these grounds served as encampment for Company C and that two detachments of drafted men were trained for special army service.

With regard to the artistic feature of the city memorial, we feel that it should be paid for by popular subscription and that whatever Newton undertakes, should be one of the very best in the country.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Eagles, of Clark street, Newton Centre, celebrated their golden wedding on Monday.
Mr. Eagles is a native of Nova Scotia;
Mrs. Eagles, before her marriage, was Miss Ellen Stearns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stearns, of Newton Centre. The wedding took place fifty years ago at the home of the bride's parents on Clark street.

Four children, Mrs. Grace Daniels, Miss Eva Eagles, a teacher in Everett; Miss Nettie Eagles, a teacher in Tewksbury, and Mr. Howard Eagles were present at the golden wedding, besides six grandchildren, four sisters and one brother.

Mrs. Eagles is a member of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands, and a charter member of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church.
About 250 guests came to offer their congratulations to Mr. and Mrs.
Eagles. Among these were Mrs.
Eunice Giles, ninety-three years old,
who was a guest at the first wedding.
Newton was represented by Attorney-General J. Weston Allen, and Mrs.
Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Seward W. Jones,
Mr. Augustus Jones, Mr. and Mrs.
Fred R. Hayward, Mr. and Miss Peck,
Mrs. W. M. Mick, Mr. E. W. Warren,
Mr. J. N. Macleod and Miss Macleod, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Russell.
There were also present relatives from New Hampshire, Cambridge, Medway and Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Eagles were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts, including $300 in gold.

DEATH OF MR. COSTIGAN

George J. Costigan, who was a member of Admiral Peary's successful expedition to the North Pole in 1909, died early Friday morning at Parker Hospital. His home was at 81 Boyd street, Newton, but he had been at the hospital for the last year and a half suffering from the effects of gas poisoning contracted while employed at the Watertown arsenal. A widow and two children survive him.

Mr. Costigan was born at St. John's N. F., March 19, 1870. He came to Cambridge as a boy and made his home there until three years ago, when he moved to Newton. He led an adventurous life, serving in the Spanish-American War, in the Boxer uprising in China, and during the Philippine insurrection. He later joined the Navy.

Leslie F. Hunting Camp 12, United Spanish War Veterans, of which Mr.
Costigan was a past commander, held a military funeral service at his late home on Sunday afternoon, and there were services at St. Patrick's Church, Watertown, on Monday morning. The burial was at Arlington.

AUTO ACCIDENT

An automobile owned and driven by Frank Bonner of 21 Chestnut street, West Newton, was in collision with the auto of Wesley Nelson and driven by Mr. Nelson, on the bridge over the
B. & A. at Washington street, West Newton, about 5.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Nelson car was going towards Newtonville on Washington street, when the car driven by Mr.
Bonner smashed into the rear of it.
Mark Cooper of Prospect street, West Newton, was thrown out of the Bonner car and was badly cut about the face and hands. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

TO GO ABROAD

Eight young women, students at Hasseltine House, a training school for missionaries in Newton, have been selected by the Women's American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society for service abroad, and will leave the coming summer for various parts of the world. The selection has been announced by Miss Mabelle Rae Mc-Veigh, candidate secretary of the missionary society. Ordinarily this society sends 28 missionaries to foreign fields every year, but the number was reduced this year to fit a reduced budget.

The eight new missionaries include Miss Helen Bailey of Reading, who will receive her M. A. degree this year from Boston University, and is already a graduate of Wellesley College. She will go to South India, where she will engage in educational work. The others are Miss Clara Barrows of Providence, who has been pastor's assistant at the Broadway Baptist Church in Cambridge; Miss Edith Lili-lian Dulin, of Wayne, Neb., who has been pastor's assistant at the Rugles Street Baptist Church; Miss
Florence Webster of Fargo, S. D.; Miss Naomi Knapp of Shingle House,
Pa.; Miss Helen Lund of Minneapolis; Miss Victoria Christensen of Chicago, and Miss Estella Schaffer of Newark.

CITY HALL

Owing to the rush of applicants for operators' licenses during the Spring and Summer months, Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin has doubled the time in the various cities and for the holding of examinations. In Newton, applicants may be examined at the City Hall, West Newton, from 9 to 10 o'clock in the morning and from 1.30 to 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Society of Christian Endeavor of the Immanuel Baptist Church in the Newton Y.M.C.A. Hall. The entire cast performed admirably, rendering fine character interpretations for an amateur production. The following took part:

Cecil Leacy, Tudor Bowen, Russell
McCassey, Dorothy McCaul, Doris Moore, Eleanor Leacy, Winslow Auryansen, Frederick Chase. The coach was Dr. L. H. Naylor, assisted by Mrs.
N. A. Merritt, Jr., Mrs. C. W. McCaul, Mrs. C. V. Moore, Mrs. L. R. Moore.
Much credit is due the coach for the successful presentation of the play.

The Immanuel Orchestra, with Mr.
William Hadden directing, played a number of pleasing selections preceding the performance and between the acts.

NEWTON CLUB

Forty of the ex-service men from the West Roxbury Hospital, and 10 from the Boston Red Cross were entertained at the Newton Club on Tuesday night. The privileges of the club were offered to them, and an interesting program was provided for them. Mr. Fred E. Mann and Mr.
Fred M. Blanchard led in the singing, which was much enjoyed by the boys.
Mr. Fred Woodcock sang a group of songs, and Mrs. Arthur I. Brown gave an interesting reading. Mr. Woodcock also gave a vaudeville sketch.
The boys also gave an entertainment of their own, including singing and dancing. A hearty supper was a feature of the evening. Dancing concluded the entertainment.

On Wednesday evening, the club bowling team lost three points to the Commercial Club of Brockton in the Newton League schedule.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Fellowship Club will meet on Monday evening, April 3rd, as usual.
The speaker will be Rev. Andrew H.
Munich of Faneuil. After a serious illness Mr. Munich spent several weeks at Muldoon's famous health resort, and will relate his experiences in regaining his health. The members of the club enjoyed very much the last two speakers, Representative
John C. Brimblecom, and Rev. Alden
H. Clark, who spoke about conditions in India.

Mayor E. O. Childs is to be the chief speaker at the opening of the campaign to raise current expenses at a banquet to be held at the Melrose
Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening, April 3rd.

Mr. Charles C. Noble, who is to direct Camp Frank A. Day this summer, met with the Camp committee on Friday afternoon, March 24th. Plans are being made for the best season the camp has ever had.

There will be a meeting of the board of directors of the Newton Y.
M. C. A. on Tuesday evening, April 4th, at 8 o'clock.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the West Newton Savings Bank Corporation will be held in its banking rooms on Tuesday, April 11, 1922, at 8.00 P. M.

THE CHANNING PLAYERS

The Channing Players, the latest dramatic organization in the city, made its initial bow on Wednesday evening to a capacity audience at Channing Church parlors in Newton.
The entertainment consisted of three one-act plays—"The Maker of Dreams, a Phantasy, Trifles, a tragedy, and the Crimson Cocoon, an absurdity, each of which fulfilled the description to the letter.

The Maker of Dreams was given by Dr. L. H. Naylor, Lilyan Delling and Rev. Mr. Drummond, all of whom spoke their lines in excellent taste.
The cast in Trifles was composed of Howard S. Hayward, Dr. Edward Mellus, Horace C. Harrington, Florence M. Morford and Mrs. A. C. Cummings. The play was a grewsome thing, and the ending was as much in doubt as Stevenson's The Lady or the Tiger. The play was well acted, however, and this, as well as the others, clearly showed that the participants had been carefully coached and the parts well rehearsed.

The Crimson Cocoon brought in Clarence G. Howes, Mrs. A. W. Blakemore, Prescott Warren, Edith R.
Fisher, George W. Mandell and Hallett Bland, all of whom carried off their parts with great satisfaction to the audience.

During the intermission coffee, cakes and punch were served by a bevy of young ladies, while Mrs.
Thomas F. Murray, Mrs. William F.
Garcelon and Mrs. Daniel S. Pratt, Jr., poured.

The stage setting was in the hands of Mr. H. C. Harrington, Mr. H. L.
Emery, Mr. A. W. B. Huff, Mr. Eugene Wyman and Dr. Mellus; the electrical arrangements were by Mr. M. H.
Barney, Jr., and Mr. Clarence Smith, and the costumes and properties were in charge of Mrs. J. W. Pearson and Mrs. T. F. Murray.

DEATH OF MR. SULLIVAN

Mr. James W. Sullivan, for 26 years employed by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company, where he held the position of superintendent for many years, died last Saturday at his home on Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, after a brief illness with pneumonia, following several months of failing health. Mr. Sullivan was born in Cambridge and was 52 years of age. He was a prominent member of Newton Lodge of Elks, and was also a member of the Garden City Mutual Aid Association. He is survived by a widow, who was formerly Miss Ena Holbrook of Cambridge;
two sons, James and Edward Sullivan, and two daughters, Mrs. Lionel Wyeth and Mrs. Charles Cramp, all of Auburndale.

The esteem in which Mr. Sullivan was held was strikingly manifested at the Elks' funeral services which were held on Monday evening at his late home on Commonwealth avenue. The house was crowded to the doors with associates and friends, and the impressive ritual was given under the direction of Exalted Ruler George P.
Flood.

A requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Bernard's Church on Tuesday morning by Rev. Fr. Francis Croin before a large gathering. The body was surrounded by a guard of honor from the M. & B. Street Railway Company, who marched to the Watertown line as the funeral cortege proceeded to Cambridge Cemetery, where the burial took place. The pall bearers were Messrs. James Goldrick, James Shea, Richard Lakeman, Martin Kenney, from Division 2; Michael P. Drew, from Division 1; A. Leslie Moriarty, from the Garden City Mutual Aid Association, and W. U. Fogwill and Richard M. Lyons, from Newton Lodge of Elks.

EDITORIAL

The Committee on Cities of the Legislature have taken most appropriate action in referring to the next Legislature the petition of the Newton city government for the abolition of the preferential system of voting in Newton. The preferential system of voting was adopted by the city in 1916, after a thorough discussion of the matter, and should not be changed without a similar discussion. As a matter of fact, we venture the assertion that not one person in a hundred realizes that Newton has a different voting plan than other cities, because in the years 1918, 1919 and 1921 the arrangement of the ballot was the same as at the State elections; in 1920, fourteen of the sixteen precincts of the city, the ballot was the same as at the State election, and in only one Ward—4—in 1920, was the preferential form used.

This was due to the fact that the law expressly providing that where there are but two candidates for one office, the preferential form shall not be used. Since 1917, therefore, the voters of Newton have practically used the same form of ballot at the municipal as at the State elections.

In a city like Newton, where candidates for city office are but few, there is but little need of any preliminary primary such as existed prior to 1916, and the city has, therefore, under the preferential system, saved approximately one thousand dollars each year for the past six years.

We believe the taxpayers appreciate this situation and do not favor any change which would add such an unnecessary burden as the cost of a needless primary election.

The Newton Club is doing a splendid work in entertaining the disabled service men from our nearby hospitals, and there is a wide field for similar work by other social organizations of Newton and vicinity. We owe these men a debt which cannot be paid, and a debt which we seem to be on the way to repudiating. "Lest we forget. Lest we forget."

We apologize for stating last week that Daylight Saving began with the last Sunday in March, when, as a matter of fact, it begins with the last Sunday in April. Two years ago daylight saving did begin in March, and we failed to recall that a change was made last year reducing the period from seven to five months.

Let us hope that the annual budget now being considered by committees of the Board of Aldermen, will, when passed, contain a substantial sum for street repairs. We have seldom seen our streets so full of holes as they are this spring.

TENTH ANNUAL DOG SHOW

Many of the dog loving readers of the Graphic will probably remember with pleasure the very enjoyable open air Sanction Dog Show given by the Middlesex County Kennel Club last fall on the playgrounds of the Newton Y. M. C. A., September 18th, which, we understand, was a great success in every way.

It is therefore with pleasure that we call their attention to our advertising columns, in which is the formal notice that on April 19th, 1922, at Malta Temple Building, Prospect street, Cambridge, this energetic club will hold its tenth annual A. K. C. Show for all breeds, from the tiniest Italian Greyhound or Chihuahua to the noble St. Bernard and massive Newfoundland, and entries close on April 15th.

We would note particularly that at least two of our well known enthusiasts have been selected to judge a number of important breeds: Mr. Donald T. Hood, officiating on the Alredales, and Mr. James W. Spring, adjudicating the Bull Terriers, Scotties, West Highland White Terriers, Cairns, Dandy Dinmont Terriers, Manchester Terriers and Sealyham Terriers.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The principal event of interest this week to Newton residents was the hearing on Tuesday morning, on the petition of the Newton city government for a change in the present method of conducting municipal elections. The bill proposed called for what is known as a "knock out" primary when more than two candidates filed papers for any municipal office, the two highest winning the right to appear on the ballot at the regular election which would follow. The measure was favored by City Solicitor Bartlett, and half-favored by Alderman Thomas W. White, who said he preferred a party primary, but had been outvoted in the Board of Aldermen. The bill was opposed by Chairman Rupert C. Thompson, William B. Baker and George S. Fuller, of the Republican City committee; by Mr. Charles W. Blood, Mr. Stephen E. Wright, Mr. C. Raymond Cabot, ex-Alderman Herbert M. Cole, and Leon B. Rogers; Attorney-General J. Weston Allen (who put the present law through the Legislature in 1916), and Alderman Philip Nichols and the writer Miss Marion Knowlton also spoke. The opposition was based on the fact that no one knew of the proposed change, and that there should be time to ascertain the wishes of Newton citizens on the matter. The committee within a few minutes after the close of the hearing referred the matter to the next General Court.

The House on Tuesday killed the bill to extend compulsory vaccination to pupils attending private schools—a measure in which a number of Newton residents were evidently interested, from the mail which the Newton representatives have received during the past few days. The vote was so overwhelming that a roll call was not requested.

On the same day the House killed a bill to require compulsory voting under the constitutional amendment adopted in 1918.

The outcome of the Fuller-Warner slander trial at Taunton this week gives added interest to the bill which the writer introduced making a false statement about a candidate at a nomination or election, a corrupt practise. This measure is intended to get quicker action on election day slanders and libels than is now possible under the civil law. The slander about which Mr. Warner complained took place in August and September, 1920, a year and a half ago. Making it a corrupt practise would make it possible to have an immediate trial, something like what the writer was able to accomplish in September, 1920. The bill passed the House without a single question being asked—a rather remarkable condition under all the circumstances.

The Senate amended the soft drink bill to such an extent as to make it practically worthless, but the House stood by its guns and refused all the amendments, and the matter will now go to conference. As an advance guard, so to speak, of the coming bill to harmonize the State law regarding intoxicating liquors with the Volstead act, the action of both bodies is of considerable interest.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The new members admitted to the Chamber at the recent meeting on March 21 numbered thirty-nine, the applications numbering nine each from Newton, Newtonville and West Newton, five from Newton Centre, three from Newton Highlands, two from Chestnut Hill, and one each from Newton Upper Falls and Lynn. Those whose applications were presented and accepted were as follows:

Newton: Harry Broudy, Donnelly Brothers, I. L. Garrison, 2nd, William F. Grace, Louis Lavine, Newton Savings Bank, F. C. Spooner, Robert P. Waller and Louis Zarrov.

Newtonville: George V. Burns, Harry D. Cabot, P. Colarullo, W. Harrington, W. J. Hannon, Dr. William O. Hunt, Orr Heating Company, P. Raimondi & Co., and J. C. Skelton.

West Newton: Lewis M. Bailey, James H. Cochrane, C. F. Eddy, C. A. F. Fiske, Fried & Liehman, John W. Perry, J. W. Lane, Fred L. Smith and Chauncey A. Stimets.

Newton Centre: Norman M. Appleby, Winthrop P. Smith, G. Wilbur Thompson, Michael Tornabene and Robert A. Vachon.

Newton Highlands: Thomas L. Goodwin, Metcalf W. Melcher and Purity Ice Company.

Chestnut Hill: M. H. Gulesian and Walter Whalin; Newton Upper Falls, Stowe & Woodward Co.; Waban, Gifford LeClear.

The new vice-presidents of the Chamber, in charge of the respective divisions of work, are already engaged in forming their division committees, which will, as far as possible, include one representative from each of the eleven villages of the city. These local representatives, with the chairman and secretary, will give each division a governing board of thirteen members. It is expected that the organization of the committees of the mercantile and building and development divisions will be completed within a few days.

The Chamber has been asked to find a location in Newton, if possible, for a manufacturer who desires from 10,000 to 15,000 feet of floor space, in a building of mill construction, for a light, clean industrial enterprise. Detailed requirements may be ascertained by telephoning Mr. George J. Martin, of the Martin Manufacturing Company, or the secretary of the Chamber. Mr. Martin is the new vice-president in charge of the industrial division of the Chamber, and persons seeking information regarding the industrial activities or facilities of the city are invited to get in touch with Mr. Martin, or with the secretary, by calling Newton North 1153-W.

The initial meeting of the new board of directors, elected at the March meeting, will be held at the Newton Club on Monday evening, April 3.

Two tables have been reserved for Newton at the banquet at the Copley-Plaza next Wednesday evening, April 5, following the annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Chamber of Commerce. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Governor Cox, Congressman Dempsey of New York, and Congressman Ramsdell of Louisiana will be the principal guests and speakers.

HARVARD GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The concert by the Harvard Glee Club, Dr. A. T. Davidson conducting, given under the auspices of the West Newton Music School on Friday evening, March 24th, was received most enthusiastically by an audience that completely filled Players' Hall and part of Little Players. The program was unusually fine, and each number was given with perfection.

Dr. Davidson was generous to allow a demanded repetition of "Salama-helkum," and Miss Forte and Miss Greeley, both graduates of the school, responded to encores.

The West Newton Music School is doing a real service to the community in inaugurating a policy to bring to the Newtons each year one or more entertainments of the highest order, such as the Harvard Glee Club, that will command the genuine and widespread interest of the public, and help to support the constructive and necessary work of the West Newton Music School.

Stearns School

Many interesting projects are being worked out by the children of the different grades in the school.

One of especial interest to many, may be seen in Mrs. Howes' first grade.

Connected up with the teaching of the home life the little ones in this first grade have worked hard in the making of a miniature real home kitchen. And such a good time as they have had too!

The furniture, rugs, mats, curtains, draperies at window, all the table accessories, knives, spoons, forks, and dishes, are all the work of the little ones. This same grade was presented with a fine doll house just a short time ago.

The doll house represents the work of Miss Walker's fourth grade children.

The teachers are all looking forward to the coming week's vacation, many are planning to be away.

Mr. Winslow goes to his old home on the cape to spend the week with his father.

Miss Hazel Stuart, Miss Florence Manning and Mrs. Goldard are to be in Washington for the week. Miss Grace McLaughlin will enjoy the week with friends at Atlantic City. Miss Margaret Eddington is planning on a trip to Nova Scotia.

The Mothers' Club held its annual election on Monday, March 27, at 8 P.M. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Seward; vice-president, Mrs. Longbottom; secretary, Mrs. Bergen; treasurer, Mrs. Wombold. The entertainment committee includes: Mrs. Cyr, chairman, Mrs. Muse, Mrs. Binks.

The refreshment committee includes Mrs. Porter, chairman, Mrs. Koch, Mrs. Bland, and Mrs. Champagne.

A set of pictures were shown by Miss Foster and Miss Hunt of the New England Dairy and Farm Council depicting the food values of milk and proteins, and literature regarding the usages was distributed to the members.

In one of the most interesting classroom debates of the year, the members of the eighth grade debated intelligently and seriously, the annoying educational value of motion pictures in the resolution: That motion pictures do more harm than good in a community. The debate was won by the negative side, comprising Florence Sampson, leader, Angelina Bellefatto, Charles LaCroix, Pasquale Mazzola, Enrico Cambelli. The affirmative side, Gerard Mazzola, Constantino Lanni, Evelyn Lawler, Helen Beltrami, George Karcher. The chairman was Emilio Conzo, and the judges were Mr. Winslow and Miss Eddington.

Pasquale Mazzola is leading the eighth grade to date in arithmetic examinations.

The baseball candidates hope to be able to get out for practice Thursday afternoon. Over thirty boys have signed up and real competition is sure. New infielders are needed and most of the candidates are for positions in that department.

Scout Leaders' Hike

A goodly number of Scoutmasters, Assistant Scoutmasters and Deputy Commissioners took the trip out to Nobscott Mountain last Saturday afternoon. A good time was spent.

SCOUT LEADERS ENJOY CONFERENCE

The regular monthly meeting of Scout Leaders of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America was held in the parish house of Phillips Congregational Church, Watertown, last Tuesday evening, March 28. Over fifty men who are vitally interested in the development of boyhood through the Scout Program were present, coming from Weston, Wellesley, Newton, and Watertown.

After a bountiful supper prepared by the Lincoln Class of Young Men attached to the Church School, who acted as hosts of the evening, the Scout Executive introduced the Rev. Edward C. Camp, pastor of the Church, who, in a few appropriate words greeted the men who were working for the development of the boy in our various communities. Mr. W. B. Snow, the Teacher of the Lincoln Class, was introduced and replied in a similar strain. To enable the men to become better acquainted each man was requested to introduce the man on his right, and when introduced to make a short snappy speech. For over an hour these introductions took place each man doing his best to outdo the other fellow with the latest joke of the season.

Coming to business the matter of the Annual Spring Rally program was discussed to some length. It was decided to have just as many scouts participate in the rally as it was humanly possible to have.

Other matters of interest to Scout leaders were discussed all of which showed with what interest the leaders of Scouting in this district are tackling the great job of training the boy in patriotic citizenship.

At the close of the evening a vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Camp and the Lincoln Class for their kind hospitality.

Revelations by the "Queen of the Underworld," Margaret Hill, famous "Vamp"—trapped many millionaires and blackmailed them for immense sums. Read these confessions of an aristocrat of the criminal world—in tomorrow's Boston Sunday Advertiser.

SAFE GUARDS

If your home burned and with it your Life Insurance Policy, Household Inventory or Family Jewelry, you would have difficulty in replacing them or adjusting your fire insurance. In case of Burglary money would probably not replace the valuables taken.

Put your Insurance Policies, your Household Inventory, Property Deeds, Stock Certificates and occasionally used Jewelry in one of our Fire and Burglar Proof Safe Deposit Boxes. Then whatever happens you will be protected and saved a lot of inconvenience. The cost is ridiculously low, only $5.00 a year for a good sized drawer in our Vault which is fully protected against Fire and Burglary.

We also have Fire and Burglar Proof Storage Vaults for Silver and Valuables requiring larger space than Deposit Boxes. Don't worry this summer but put your Valuables in our Storage Vaults. It only costs $1.00 per cubic foot for three months or $2.00 for a year valuation of $200.00.

game consists of passing a basket ball over the head from girl to girl, the last one running to the other end of the line making an attempt to put the ball into the cage usually used for basketball. Returning to the line and doing the whole thing over again until all the girls in each team have had a try at the goal. The juniors won from the seniors in the first heat, the sophomores from the freshmen in the second heat, and the juniors then won from the sophomores in the finals. The relay races were also exciting, with ten girls on each team, the juniors again winning from the seniors, the sophomores from the freshmen and the juniors winning the finals.

The closing numbers were a series of dances, the freshmen in "Hark, hark, the dogs do bark" and Russian circle dance, the sophomores in Dublin jig and a jockey dance and the juniors and seniors in the Ocean at Sunrise and Dixie. These dances were exceedingly well done and well merited the hearty applause each received.

The decisions of the judges, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Whitney, Miss Washburn and Mrs. Hatch, that the freshman class had won first place, was announced by Mr. Irving O. Palmer, master of the Technical High school, and it seemed as if the little freshmen would go crazy over this unprecedented result.

The affair reflects great credit on the teaching and training of the instructor, Mrs. Kuntz and her capable assistants, Miss Flanders, Miss Kees and Miss Mason.

Mirrors in the Hen Yard.
A man says he gets two eggs a day from a single hen. His plan might be worth trying on a larger scale, so we print it for the benefit of some of our suburban readers. He has arranged a mirror opposite Biddy's nest, so that when she hops off and cackles she sees in the glass what she supposes is another hen cackling. This arouses her jealousy and, not to be outdone by a supposed rival, she jumps back on the nest and lays another egg.—Boston Transcript.

Special Attention.
"I am a great believer in specialists," said Ethel. "When I have trouble with my nose I go to a nose specialist, and when I have trouble with my heart I go to an expert on hearts." "Them's my ideas," said old Lady Gunbusta. "And that's why when my nephew, Jimmie, had his tonsils cut out I took him to a regular tonsorial artist."

"Psychical Research and the After-Life" will be the subject of an address in Trinity Church next Sunday evening at 7.15, by Dr. Samuel McComb, one of the founders of the Emmanuel Movement. Dr. McComb was invited by a rising vote of the evening congregation in Trinity Church, three weeks ago, when he finished his address on "Spiritual Healing," to return and give this address on the life after death, and what we know about it. He accepted the invitation, and will deliver it next Sunday night. He is a master of the literature of the subject, and he is one of the wisest and soundest teachers of spiritual psychology in the country.

Crabs Walk Off With Clocks.
Christmas Island, in Oceania, is infested with landcrabs two feet across which swarm over the camps of travelers in such large numbers as to be dangerous. A party of astronomers, led by Admiral Wharton, were unable to protect their supplies, and the crabs even carried away two large chronometers.—Popular Science Monthly.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Plans for the trip to the Chautauqua Biennial are set forth in glowing terms in the April Federation Topics, this supplemented with the folder from the tourist company in charge of the party is enough to set the mildest Biennial "fan" at fever heat to be there. As prices go at the present time, they are as reasonable as can be expected. The transportation, covering sleeper, railroad fare, to and from Chautauqua, and meals enroute is $53. For the stay in Chautauqua of eleven days the rates vary from $21 to $35 a week. An extension tour on the return via the St. Lawrence and Montreal, or still farther to Quebec and the Saguenay, are also offered.

Reservations for room and board should be made with Mrs. Samuel Perkins, 1011 N. Pennsylvania Street, Indianapolis, Ind. For the trip with the Walter H. Woods Company, 80 Boylston street, Boston. Delegates should also notify Mrs. George Minot Baker, Elm street, Concord, Mass., that she may have a complete list of all who expect to be there.

While the Club Editor was busy with her own "make-up" last week, the Graphic's "make-up man" did his worst for her, and succeeded in mangling her copy in a manner seldom equaled in the many years of this department's existence. That she should be moved to make editorial remarks upon the subject of the city's trees and the administration thereof, apparently never occurred to him, so finding a page bearing the name of Mrs. Tucker with further remarks upon the subject, he thought they must needs belong together! If club readers have done so rash a thing as to have saved last week's Graphic, and if they will separate the part beginning, "Mrs. Tucker then gave a full statement, etc.," and attach it to the end of the account of the meeting of the Newton Federation, printed upon page 9, they will have solved the riddle.

State Federation

The Federation Topics for April gives the full announcement of the annual meeting at New Bedford. Opening on the evening of May 23, it will continue through the 24th and the forenoon of the 25th. The Nominating committee reports few changes in the personnel of the board for the coming year. As has already been announced in this column, Mrs. Grace M. Poole is the nominee for president, the three remaining vice-presidents are pushed up and Mrs. Arthur D. Potter of Greenfield, a retiring director, is made fourth vice-president. There is no change among the other officers. The five new directors represent New Hampshire's Daughters, the Daughters of Vermont, Great Barrington, Quincy and Wellesley Hills. Among proposed amendments to the by-laws there is one limiting the term of officers other than directors whose term is three years, to two years, but admitting a re-election after an interval of one year. The plan for the meeting is practically that of other years—reports and business—but the hostess club is arranging many pleasant attractions for the odd moments. The New Bedford Hotel will be the headquarters with additional rooms in nearby hotels and private homes. All applications for the rooms whether in the hotel or outside should be addressed to Charles W. Kokerda, Manager.

Tuesday, April 4, 10.30 A. M. Joint Art and Home Economics conference with the Webster Woman's Club. "Pictures of real Art Value for the average Home," "Home Efficiency," "The Home Dressmaker," are subjects to be presented by experts.

Local Announcements

On Friday evening, March 24th the M. I. T. Musical Club gave an entertainment in the Assembly Hall. The program was very elaborate and enjoyed by all, after which there was dancing in the Gym. The proceeds were given to the "Newtonian".

Members of the English departments of the High Schools have been visiting neighboring high schools of late. One teacher going each Thursday to a high school in the vicinity of Newton.

The Freshmen of the Technical High School held an assembly on Thursday. The program will consist of the work which has been taken up in class, oral themes, reports, etc.

Mr. E. J. Frost of Auburndale recently spoke to members of the Technical High School in connection with the employment end of modern business.

On Tuesday the Garden City Grange held a meeting in Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville. Eleven boys and girls of the high schools spoke their Prize Speaking selections before the members. Two prizes were offered, $3 and $2 each.

Rumor has it that after the spring vacation the session of the high school is to be shortened. Just how much, and in what way, is a question.

The Freshmen of the Classical High School are working hard for their Prize Speaking contest which will take place on the first Wednesday in June. There will be one representative chosen from each of the ten sections.

A call for candidates for the outdoor track team has been issued. There will be a limited number which will be trained by Coach Roberts, a graduate of Newton High. The Newton Y. M. C. A. track will be the one used.

Mr. Kidger of the History department spoke to the Vocational Assembly recently. His subject was "How Aims of Some European Countries Have Affected Their Boundaries."

It is said that the Boys' Debating Team has challenged the Girls' Debating team to a debate to be held on a Friday evening in the latter part of April.

The English teachers will make Friday "Feature Day" for the "Newtonian". They plan on most of the pupils writing something bright for the annual number.

There was a typewriting contest for the Senior girls recently in the Technical high school. The awards were as follows:

"Underwood"—30 words: A. Fessenden, S. Meilman, M. Cressey, B. Hoyt, B. Cressey, A. Moore, M. O'Connell.

"Royal"—40 words: M. Cressey, S. Delmonte, A. Ernest, A. Moore, E. Sherman.

"Remington." D. Barry.

On Friday, the Vocational Seniors, assisted by the Juniors, gave their play, "The Colonel's Maid." The play was given very well and showed that a great deal of time was spent in preparation. There was dancing in the library afterwards.

The Technical Seniors are holding rehearsals for their play which is to be given in the latter part of April.

UP TO YOU AND CONGRESS

At the present time it would be a misnomer to speak of the national government having a personnel system at all. The reform accomplished by the establishment of the civil service commission and the merit system has touched but one phase of the personnel problem, and that but partially—entrance into the government service. Practically nothing has been done in the way of erecting the government services into careers that will attract and retain efficient men. Bad as conditions were in this respect before the war, they have become many times worse during and since that event.

The correction of these evils presents a problem of great complexity. It cannot be achieved by a half-hearted or half-way tinkering with the present system. Nothing but a thorough overhauling of the whole personnel system and the establishment of a new system covering all phases of the question and embodying the most approved principles of personnel administration will meet the needs of the situation. Fortunately a beginning has been made in this direction.

At least furnishes a starting point for action looking to the giving to the government of the personnel system that it must have if government work is to be even measurably well done.

The situation now is that there is an insistent demand on the part of the public that the whole administration of the national government be put upon a more efficient basis, and that the present waste of public funds, resulting from present defective organization and methods, shall cease; that congress is alive to this demand and has made a start toward meeting it; that the fundamental defects in the existing system are well known; and that the direction efforts looking to reform should take are clearly established. The responsibility is thus squarely up to congress.

If the problem that confronts congress in securing this laudable end is analyzed it will be found that the fundamental reforms are: The reform by congress itself of its own organization and methods of procedure; the entire revision of the present system under which the financial needs of the government are determined and provided; the setting up of an agency and procedure through which the expenditure of public funds may be properly controlled and congress be given that information regarding such expenditures which it must have if it is to assure itself that its agents, the administrative services, are properly performing their duties, and to act intelligently in respect to the future grant of funds; the provision of an organ through which the President may in fact, as well as in name, discharge his duties as head of the administration; the reorganization of the administrative branch of the government so as to eliminate the present widespread overlapping of jurisdictions and functions and indefensible duplication of services, organization, plant and work; and the complete recasting of the present system under which the personnel required to man the governmental plant is secured, compensated, promoted, assigned to particular tasks and controlled, to the end that not only justice will be done to the several classes of governmental employees, but that a personnel system will be established that will insure a maximum of efficiency in the actual conduct of public affairs.

A study of action actually had or now under way shows that steps have been taken toward the accomplishment of each of these fundamental reforms. The introduction of a budget system is a long step forward.

I don't mean in the least to give the impression that all private business is perfectly run and that only government business is badly managed, or that all the efficient people are in private employ and only inefficient in the public service. Neither of those conditions exists.

In the common phrase, you have got to hand it to Alexander Hamilton for devising a scheme that has stood up since revolutionary days. It has not been fundamentally altered since his day. There has been no readjustment of salaries in the departmental service for sixty years. That implies a certain loyalty and faithfulness on the part of the workers.

My only desire is to disclose the present condition of government employment; that good men are leaving, and that the present tendency, if not checked, will inevitably drive out of the service all of the efficient and leave only the mediocre and incompetent. I have said little myself, but have chosen to let the men working for the government tell the story. Every assertion of fact in these articles comes from some responsible source or authority within the service. I am not making a criticism or attack from the outside, but merely serving as a mouthpiece for your hired men.

CONCERT AND DANCE

The Highland Glee Club, incorporated, will give a concert and dance on Easter Monday, April 17th, in Bray Hall, Newton Centre. The concert will be made up from popular numbers, with some solo work by members of the club. The time allotted to the concert is one hour, from 8.15 to 9.15, to be followed by dancing until 12 o'clock. In view of the fact that dancing is to follow the concert, the number of tickets is to be limited, hence an early call on some member of the club is advisable.

This concert winds up the work of the club for this season, with the exception of their appearance in Jordan Hall on April 27th, in a joint concert with three other male choruses of Greater Boston. At this concert Mr. Royal Dadman is to be the soloist. He is favorably remembered by many Newton folk as he appeared as soloist last year in one of the Highland Club's concerts.

DEATH OF MR. JOHNSON

Mr. Charles A. Johnson, who died at his home, 6 Merton street, Newton, on Sunday morning, after a short illness, was born in Weston, Mass., April 13, 1834.

Mr. Johnson was a member of an old Massachusetts family, his ancestors having come to America in 1636. In his early years he taught school in Wellesley and Needham, and was for nine years a master at the State Reform School at Westboro, Mass. In 1870 he was elected the first superintendent of the Plummer Farm School in Salem, where he served for 38 years.

Since retiring in 1908 he has made his home in Newton, where he was a member of Channing Church.

Surviving him are his widow, Eleanor R. Johnson, and one son, Arthur C. Johnson, of Hopedale, Mass. Services were held at his late residence on Merton street on Tuesday, the Rev. Chester A. Drummond of Channing Church officiating, and the burial was in the family lot in Weston.

JOHN D. HARRINGTON DEAD

John D. Harrington died at the Newton Hospital on Friday, March 17, following a two weeks' illness of pneumonia.

Mr. Harrington was engaged in the livery and auto business at 757 Washington street, Newtonville. He leaves a widow, Flora M. Harrington, and two daughters.

Funeral services were held at his late residence, 757 Washington street, Monday, March 20th, the services being conducted by the Rev. C. R. Ross, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mrs. Hall acted as soloist. Interment was at the Newton Cemetery.

ELECTRICIANS ORGANIZE

The electrical contractors of Newton and vicinity have recently formed an association to be known as "Newton Electrical Association."

Its purpose is to promote good will and advance the electrical interests among its members and community. Meetings held monthly, except July and August.

The following officers have been elected: President, J. R. MacNamee; vice-president, Otis L. Hawes; secretary-treasurer, C. L. Howe.

Where Your Taxes Go

How Uncle Sam Spends Your Money in Conducting Your Business

XXVI. EASY COME, EASY GO

Back in 1912, when Mr. Taft was President, and when the gross expenditures of the government were about one-quarter of what they are now, he became exercised and concerned about the higgledy-piggledy, unscientific, disorderly, grab-bag methods by which your money was expended for public purposes. He said then what is equally true now, that the activities of the national government "are almost as varied as those of the entire business world. The operations of the government affect the interest of every person living within the jurisdiction of the United States. Its organization embraces stations and centers of work located in every city and in many local subdivisions of the country."

"This vast organization has never been studied in detail as one piece of administrative mechanism. Never have the foundations been laid for a thorough consideration of the relations of all its parts. No comprehensive effort has been made to list its multifarious activities or to group them in such a way as to present a clear picture of what the government is doing. Never has a complete description been given of the agencies through which these activities are performed."

"At no time has the attempt been made to study all of these activities and agencies with a view to the assignment of each activity to the agency best fitted for its performance, to the avoidance of duplication of plant and work, to the integration of all administrative agencies of the government, so far as may be practicable, into a unified organization for the most effective and economical dispatch of public business."

This extraordinary and indefensible situation, which exists today as fully and completely as it did when Mr. Taft portrayed it seven years ago, came about quite naturally and simply through our tolerance and slackness.

For years and years the government lived and grew and extended its activities on Santa Claus money. Its income came as easily as money in a letter. For years and years the national income was greater than the expenses. Every year there was a surplus.

The government was precisely in the position of the Rockefellers and the Carnegies and the Rotchilds. Its problem was not how to get money enough to live on, but how to spend its income. It naturally got in the way of throwing some of it to the birds. It lived like a renegade man.

You may remember that back in the time of the first Cleveland administration one of the problems of public discussion was: "What shall be done with the surplus?" Then there was a change of administration and Corporal Tanner was made commissioner of pensions. The whole country was amused and had a hearty laugh when he announced his policy: "God help the surplus!" Then was the balcony days!

Mr. Gilbert, the present undersecretary of the treasury, in an address said:

"The estimates for the year 1920 show that over a billion dollars of expenditures were authorized by the last session of congress in addition to the amount shown in the usual compiled statements of appropriations. In fact, the practice has reached such proportions as to be almost a national scandal, and it was vigorously denounced in the President's last annual message."

"It has become the first principle of strategy on the part of people interested in appropriations for various special purposes to frame the matter so as to authorize the use of the public funds indirectly, or in indefinite terms, or by authorization for expenditure of unexpended balances, perhaps appropriated originally for other purposes, or by authorizations to divert government receipts before they ever reach the treasury. Efforts are made to find general words which do not speak in terms of appropriations and cannot be readily calculated."

"The last session of the present congress, for example, authorized additional expenditures out of balances of prior appropriations and from receipts to the amount of over $500,000,000, including over $400,000,000 for the shipping board. The present session of congress by similar procedure takes credit for refusing appropriations for the shipping board, but at the same time, purposes to authorize the expenditure of receipts in amounts that may reach as high as $200,000,000. By the indefinite appropriation for the railroad guaranty about $50,000,000 was in effect appropriated without appearing in any of the statements of appropriations."

You see how it goes.

A NEWTONIAN ABROAD

Monte Carlo, February 20, 1922.

This is the height of the season on the Riviera. Up to a few days ago the hotelkeepers were complaining that this was the worst season in many years. They had themselves to blame. Last year prices were extortionate, and service poor, but they have seen their error, and this year prices are much less, and the hotels are filling up. Indeed, taking the value of the franc in American money today, one may live almost anywhere at a price no higher than before the war; and in the Italian Riviera, with the lire worth a little less than five cent, two people in a fine room, with bath, in the very best hotels in Rapallo, Genoa or San Remo will be cordially welcomed and well cared for at one hundred lire each, including meals, and this covers all taxes and fees.

The hotels in Italy have pretty generally adopted the plan of a regular percentage charge for service, varying with the length of stay, from five to fifteen per cent, and so solving what was always a perplexing question to Americans—what to give in tips, and to whom—and the service is not impaired—rather improved—as from the head waiter down all know that they will get a fixed share of the total service charge, and they are anxious to give such service as will increase the business of the hotel.

To the casual observer Italy appears happy and prosperous. In Naples, Rome and Florence, one sees many war cripples begging, and some evidence of unemployment, but in the great maritime city of Genoa I was particularly struck with the fact that all seemed busy—no beggars—and very few war cripples.

I first visited Monte Carlo in 1900, and this is my seventh visit, the last being in the spring of 1914. Great changes have taken place in twenty-two years. The Casino has doubled in size, and with the addition of the large private rooms and the beautiful hall of music, now represents an expenditure of over six millions of dollars. The lawns and the flowers in the great garden stretching up the hill in front of the Casino may be no more beautiful than twenty years ago, but the trees have grown marvellously, many of the palms being now fully five feet in diameter, and the many beautiful trees which, when smaller, I had always supposed were rubber trees, have grown so enormous as to raise a doubt in my mind if I have correctly identified them. I notice they are tagged "Ficus Macrophylla."

Everyone who comes to the Mediterranean coast to Monte Carlo, the greatest and most beautiful of all gambling places of the world, and everyone who comes here has at least one thing at the tables. It may interest your readers to know what has happened to the Casino during and since the war. Almost immediately after the war broke out in 1914 the great gambling place, which for more than fifty years had never shut even for a day, was completely closed for a period of about six months. But soon after closing the management came to the conclusion that even a war-torn world would want a great playing place where one might come and forget, so they decided to open again, but there was a difficulty in the way. Gold and silver had disappeared from circulation, and since the fiasco of thirty or forty years ago, when Monsieur Blanc owned the Casino, only money—actual money—has been used at the tables. In the earlier days chips had been used, and players hurrying for trains for Menton or Nice would leave with chips in their pockets, which were always readily accepted by hotel-keepers as cash until they finally became recognizable at face value almost anywhere in the Riviera. Then something aroused the suspicion of the management, and all the tokens were called in, and Mons. Blanc, it is said, had to cash in some million francs in chips that he had never issued. So this time much study and thought was given to the question of chips. Designs were finally accepted and a contract placed in Japan for the manufacture of an immense quantity. All the chips are made of some celluloid composition—the five francs in white, and the twenty francs, or Louis, in yellow, both about the size of a silver dollar. The hundred franc pieces, for which they formerly used a unique and beautiful gold coin, known as "plaque," are now a green chip, somewhat larger than a silver dollar, and the five hundred franc chips, the largest denomination used, is a curious oblong about three inches by one and a half, and of a dark gray color.

They have the value of a silver dollar, and are surrounded by what appears to be a silver filigree, and on the reverse side a somewhat elaborate filigree design which would be difficult to counterfeit.

When the Casino reopened in the early part of 1915 new rules were made. First, as you enter you pay fifty centimes for checking your clothes, where formerly no charge was made. In the old days one must have had issued to him six daily tickets before he could apply for and receive a monthly ticket. Now you are only permitted a daily ticket twice, and then you must take a monthly ticket, for which ten francs is charged. Before the war one of the strictest rules was that no gratuity could be accepted by any croupier. Now the management invites you to tip them, but under certain rules. At each table is a wooden box with a slit in the top, and any player who has had a run of luck and feels grateful, or who thinks that a generous "pour boire" to the man at the wheel might help his chances, is permitted to put into "la boîte" one five-franc chip, or as many and as large as he pleases, only the croupier to whom it is handed must not himself put it in the box. It must be handed either to another croupier or one of the players, and by him deposited. The contributions so received must be very large, but the whole spirit of the gratuities is lumped together, and while the croupiers do get a substantial division in cash, the greater part is used for an insurance fund, from which all benefit, and also a proportionate distribution in cash to all employees of the Casino is paid, so that when you put your Louis chip into the box you may be sure that some day the man raking the garden will get a part of it.

In the great rooms to which the public are admitted there are nineteen double roulette tables, and six "trente et quarante" tables, and in the newer rooms, to visit which you pay fifty francs (or one hundred and fifty for the season), there are six more roulette tables, and two trente et quarante tables. As each roulette is "manned" by eight croupiers, and all the rooms are open from 10 A. M. to midnight, it takes quite an army—something over three hundred—of trained, efficient men to run the tables. I see many faces that I remember more than twenty years ago, so I suspect that "Once a croupier, always a croupier."

During the war years, some of the time there were not many visitors, and again for a while the rooms would be filled. I was told that up to the beginning of this season the company was twelve million francs behind, but I cannot vouch for the truth of this. I do know that even ten days ago there were three or four hours in the late afternoon and early evening when at least half the tables were not in play, but now the rooms are filled from 10 o'clock in the morning—the opening hour—until midnight, when all playing stops, and I have seen some heavy play. If you like you may play with bank notes, and this morning I noticed one man with a huge handful of one thousand franc notes, and in three spins of the wheel he won over eighty thousand francs. Then he left the table at which I was sitting, and how long he kept his gains I cannot say.

Mention I stopped at the beautifully located Hotel des Anglais, but the tramway runs directly in front, and one morning I was annoyed by being waked by the sound of pick and shovel at 6 A. M. A lot of workmen were relaying the track. I presumed that it was emergency work that occasioned this early start, but on inquiring I found that six was the regular hour at which work begins; then at eight the gang knocks off for an hour, resuming at nine, quitting again at twelve to take two hours for lunch and rest, and working from two until five. In this way getting an eight-hour labor day, and the pay for this kind of work is fifteen francs a day.

The Carnival at Nice is just beginning, but I do not think Nice is very full, for some friends of mine have just telephoned to the "d'Angleterre," a fine hotel, well and favorably known to many Americans, and they were offered a large double room, with bath, "full Sud," including meals, at each, "full Sud," for two francs for one hundred and forty francs for two.

Carfares in France are today even cheaper for an American than before the war. The mileage rate is just about twice that of early 1914, but at 11 1/2 francs to the dollar, the cost is enough cheaper to at least cover baggage transportation. From here to Paris on the "Rapide," a twenty-hour ride, the cost is about $22.00, including the more comfortable sleeping accommodations than we get on our Pullman cars.

Certainly no American should stay away from this part of Europe through fear of excessive cost or possible discomfort. G. P. B.

Handbags of Long Ago.

The ancient handbags which most nearly approached those affected by women of today were carried by the Byzantine ladies of Constantinople, under the eastern emperors. This was a period of great commerce with the Asiatic races, who found a ready market in this luxurious court for the rich brocades of Persia and India and the embroidered silks of China, which were utilized in schemes of dress more costly and extravagant than the world has seen before or since.

Possible to Train Crows.

The search for food is the crow's chief business, although his love for glittering things causes him to wander from his ordered road when attracted by the gleam of some object at a distance. If this object of his curiosity can be transported, he takes it. The crow is easily tamed, but the process demands patience. Many crows talk as distinctly as parrots. Pliny the Elder notes a case where a crow alighted in the Forum and saluted Emperor Tiberius and his two sons, "calling them by name."

Carle's Beautiful Imagery.

Dante believed that when Lucifer was cast out from heaven he made a deep pit as he fell in one side of the Earth (the pit of Hell, or the Inferno), and on the other side a corresponding projection, the Hill of Purgatory. The poet's description of his arrival at the foot of this hill, after his long sojourn in the dark regions of Hell, is one of the most beautiful things in literature.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

Once more there is a great deal of prosperity around the Hollis Street Theatre in Boston for the new comedy, "Duley," has "caught on" in a manner that leaves no doubt that the piece is going to be as popular there as it was in New York, where it has had a season's run. Great things were promised in "Duley" in the way of humor and cleverness and for once there was no disappointment. Every professional critic in Boston had something to say in praise of the play, of its extreme brightness, the deftness with which its characters were drawn, the interest held by the plot, the skilful portrait that Lynn Fontanne gave of Duley and of the work of the company in general. And reference was made to one other point—the cleanliness of the comedy. "Duley" does not deal in sex, it has no problems, and it does not contain the least suggestion that would bring a blush to the cheek of youth.

Immense Power of Lightning.

Near New York city a huge oak on a hillside was torn into splinters by a bolt of lightning and some electrical engineering experts have been studying the size of the tree, the resistance it gave and the volume of electrical force to be required for its destruction. They agree there was not less than 100,000-horse power in the bolt that hit it.

FRUIT EXPERT

C. B. Tillson, county agricultural agent of the Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture and Home Economics, will give a demonstration on pruning grapes, berries and fruit trees at the home of Miss R. N. White, 122 Islington road, Auburndale, Friday, March 31st, at 2 P. M. Mr. Tillson is an expert, whose suggestions will be of great value to those who have fruit trees in their back yards. All persons in Newton interested are invited to attend.

WAS ABLE TO DIGEST STONES

French Historian Has Left Description of Man With a Stomach That Was Remarkable.

Theophile Benoit, a French writer and historian, gives the following description of a true lithophagus or stone-eater, whom he encountered in the northern part of France. "This man," states Benoit, "who answered to the name of Brunda, not only swallowed flints an inch and a half long, a full inch broad and half an inch thick, but any stones like marble which he could reduce to powder. I examined this man with all the attention I possibly could, finding his gullet very large, his teeth exceedingly strong, his saliva very corrosive and his stomach lower than usual—a fact which I imputed to the vast number of flints which he had swallowed.

"Upon interrogating one of the stone-eater's friends I was told that Brunda had been found three years before in a northern uninhabited island, by the crew of a Dutch ship. 'I can make him eat raw flesh with the stones,' said the man who was acting as his keeper, 'but I could never induce him to swallow bread. He will drink water, wine and brandy, and appears to be very fond of the latter. He sleeps 12 hours a day, but always in a seated posture, with his chin resting on his knees. He smokes almost all the time that he is not asleep or eating.'"

RUGS USED IN ALL AGES

Ancient Chroniclers Have Left Accounts of Various Remarkable Products of the Loom.

In all ages rugs have been used for religious purposes. Up to the present time each member of the Persian and Mohammedan family carries a small rug for prayer. The Mohammedan, by means of a small compass, places the rug where the niche points toward Mecca, where the body of Mohammed lies. He then strips himself of all his jewels, combs his beard carefully, and then, with hands outstretched on either side, he prostrates himself and, with head on the earth, performs his devotions.

In Egypt Cleopatra had looms set up in her palaces for the weaving of beautifully designed tapestries. When Cleopatra wished audience with Caesar, she had a bale of rugs shipped via Mediterranean. When this was opened before the Roman emperor, a most superb rug was unrolled, and to the astonishment of the court, the renowned Egyptian queen rolled out with it.

Virgil makes mention of wonderful rugs woven by women, rugs to be spread under the thrones of kings and under the knees of courtiers, and laid upon the backs of horses and in the chariots of conquerors and generals.

The Roman Sesterterius.

Sesterterius is the Latin name for a Roman coin meaning half of the third, that is, two and half, from "semi" meaning half and "tertius" meaning third.

When silver coinage was introduced in Rome in 268 B. C., with the copper as a unit, the silver sesterterius was valued at 2½ asses. The standard as retained only one-fourth of its original weight. The sesterterius was equivalent to the original libral as; and, as accounts had formerly been made in terms of the libral as, they were now made in terms of the sesterterius. After the first Punic war, which ended 241 B. C., the sesterterius ceased to be coined. The weight of the as was many times reduced. In 217 B. C. the denarius was made equal to 16 asses and the sesterterius to 4 asses. With the reorganization of the coinage system under Augustus (63 B. C. to 14 A. D.) a copper sesterterius of 4 asses was coined under the control of the senate. This was about 4 cents in United States money.

A Rainy Day.

A rainy day in Switzerland puts a sudden stop to many diversions. The coachman may drive to the tavern, and then back to the stable; but no farther. The suburban guide may sit at the . . . door, and welcome; and the boatman whistle . . . at his own sweet will—but no foot sprints abroad for all that; no traveler moves, if he has time to stay. The rainy day gives him time for reflection. He has leisure now to take cognizance of his impressions, and make up his account with the mountains. He remembers, too, that he has friends at home; and writes up the Journal, neglected for a week or more, and letters neglected longer; or finishes the rough pencil-sketch begun yesterday in the open air. On the whole, he is not sorry it rains—though disappointed.—Henry W. Longfellow.

Varying Opinions.

Deacon Gildrow says that if a man loves a woman well enough to cheerfully write a check in payment for her new suit, though he knows it means that he will have to make his old overcoat do another winter, it is safe to marry her.

And Mrs. Deacon Gildrow says that if you love a man well enough to think you would like to see the floor of the closet littered up with his old shoes it will be perfectly safe to marry him.

Proving It.

"Smith is a live wire."
"I know it. He touched me this morning for twenty dollars and I was shocked."

Charles Crawford Gorst will speak on "The Musical Genius of Birds," at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club next Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Gorst's whistling reproductions of the bird notes is wonderfully true to nature and will be heard with delight. Mrs. Arthur D. Quinby will be the pianist. Each member is entitled to bring one child under high school age without charge.

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will observe Presidents' Day, April 4, at the Congregational Church at 2:30 P. M. Rev. J. Burford Parry will speak on "Wales, Her People, and Her Customs." Mr. Ralph Talbot will sing. Following the meeting there will be an informal reception and tea in the church parlors.

The Newton Social Science Club will hold its regular monthly business meeting on Wednesday morning.

Wednesday, April 5, the Community Service Club of West Newton will hold its annual meeting in the parish house of the Unitarian church. Miss Ethel Priscilla Potter will read two sketches and there will be music. The annual reports and election of officers will follow. Mr. Henry Whitmore will speak on the proposed Zoning Ordinance.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will meet in G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville, on Thursday, April 6.

Mrs. Grace M. Poole will complete her course of talks upon Current Events before the Newton Community Club next Thursday afternoon.

The second meeting of the class in Modern Verse of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held with Mrs. W. A. Corson on Thursday, April 6, at 3:30 P. M. Miss Margaret McGill will be the leader. The poets to be studied are, Rudyard Kipling, rugged realist and high idealist; Alfred Noyes, master of rhythm.

The Legislative Committee of the West Newton Women's Educational Club has arranged a trip to the State House for members and their friends on Thursday, April 6th, leaving Newtonville station at 9:37 A. M. The party will meet at the Hall of Flags, State House, promptly at 10:30. Luncheon will be served at the Women's City Club at 1 o'clock, and those wishing luncheon tickets will please notify Mrs. Cole. West Newton 151-R, not later than Tuesday, April 4th.

Local Happenings

"The Unification of Italy" was the subject of an interesting and scholarly address given by Mrs. William I. Lawrence at the last meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club. Italian music was furnished by pupils of the West Newton Music School. Refreshments were served in charge of Mrs. Louis Bacon, the tea room being prettily decorated in the Italian colors.

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club met on Monday, March 27th, with Mrs. Frank J. Chaplin, 377 Waltham street. A paper on "Herculaneum and Pompeii" by Mrs. Patterson gave many interesting facts regarding these buried cities, and Mrs. Emma Dimond's description of the Capitol and the Appian Way was much enjoyed by the class.

Mrs. D. Earl Brackett assisted the hostess in entertaining.

Dr. William Hung left with his hearers on Tuesday at the Auburn-dale Woman's Club meeting, the strong thought that to America has fallen the duty of solving the problem in the Far East. The grave menace of the Japanese, the insidious methods with which they introduced immorality and vice into the heart of the country was dwelt upon at length by Dr. Hung. He spoke of Russia as needing our sympathy and help; of Russia as caring nothing for her past but struggling for a future of progress; of the imperialism of Japan, likening her, in her endeavor to preserve her own power, to the German Empire. Thus they form a triangle—Japan, the Imperialist, Russia, the Bolshevik, and, lastly, China, the Republican, holding the key to the Eastern situation—that key to be turned by America through intervention, guidance, and friendship.

The Woman's Club Chorus rendered several very pleasing numbers which were most enjoyable. The club had as guests, the Presidents from the various clubs of the Newton Federation.

At the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on Wednesday morning the members and their guests listened to a delightful talk upon "Teaching Music," given by Mr. Thomas Whitmore. He said that the methods of teaching music in the public schools in America had been inherited from England, and in his opinion too much stress has been placed upon technical proficiency. He believes that children should be taught from their kindergarten days up to listen to music, that they should hear it and sing and learn to love it long before they are taught the notes. The American child is born musical, just as are the children of other nations, but that the ordinary methods have killed their love for it. Having been trained from childhood to listen to it, by the time they have reached the high school age they should be able to tell something intelligent about music.

Mr. Surette stated that he, in company with Prof. Davison of Harvard have visited the West Newton Music School and he could not speak too warmly of the work being done there, and said that it should be supported and encouraged by the community. This was a very welcome word to those who have been keenly interested in the school's success.

Water Consumption.

An average American town uses for all purposes from 50 to 150 gallons of water a day for each inhabitant.

EXPRESSED WILL OF PEOPLE

"First American Constitution" Grew Out of Feeling of Dissatisfaction With Conditions.

The term "First American Constitution" is frequently applied by writers to what is better known historically as the "Fundamental Orders of Connecticut." Many people in Massachusetts having become dissatisfied with a law that none but church members should vote or hold office, at length determined to form other settlements. Other town organizations migrated almost bodily from Massachusetts to what was then the wilderness. These were Newton, Watertown and Dorchester, which had their names changed, respectively, to Hartford, Wethersfield and Windsor. Along with them went their governing organizations and a general court for the three towns was afterward formed.

Jan. 14, 1639, this little community formed the first written American Constitution at Hartford. This Constitution springs directly from the will of the people, and neither English king nor parliament, nor Colonial council, nor governor had anything to do with it. The orders provided for two general representative assemblies each year, composed of delegates from each town, one for the election of governor and magistrates, the other for making the laws. These fundamental orders as they were called, were the beginnings of democratic government in America.

KEY TO ANCIENT HISTORY

Greek Papyri Have Revealed Practically All That Is Known of Greco-Roman World.

Greek papyri were documents for ancient history which supplied a personal view of things. They described classes not represented in history as usually written and helped in the study of popular psychology of the Greco-Roman Egypt, and by analogy, also, to some extent, the Greco-Roman world.

The papyri illustrated the history of administration, showing it in actual working, and not in theory. There was not much in the papyri on mystery cults, but there were interesting religious documents, such as the hymn to Isis. The papyri mostly illustrated the popular attitude to religion, popular piety and impiety. They were also useful for early Christianity, Egypt being the native country of monasticism.

The economic decay of the Roman empire, popular education, and the history of the Greek language, were also illustrated by papyri. The borrowings of Christianity could be traced from older paganism from the papyri, and the Christian and pagan attitudes could thus be contrasted.

Historic Lies.

Two of the most famous lies relate to the last hours of Nelson. Everyone knows that the real signal at Trafalgar which he ordered was "Nelson expects every man to do his duty." The other lie is about the coat he wore on his quarter deck. He is reported to have silenced the affectionate importunity of his officers, entreating him to conceal the stars on his breast, by saying, "In honor I gained them, and in honor I will die with them." This is the great style, but it is untrue. Dr. Arnold heard the facts from Sir Thomas Hardy. Nelson wore on the day of battle the same coat which he had worn for weeks, having the order of the bath embroidered upon it; and when his friend expressed some apprehension of the badge, he answered that he was aware of the danger, but that it was "too late then to shift his coat." The fabricated saying is magnificent; why destroy it?

Stirring Things Up.

Gertrude is 4 years of age. She faces the world fearlessly, looks it squarely in the eye, and if it doesn't track exactly to suit her she tells it things. Her mamma had gone away the other day and left Gertrude in the care of her grandma, and after a clash of wills, Gertrude had been put into a room to remain for a specified length of time. "If you stir out of that room before I tell you may," cautioned grandma severely. "I am going to spank you." Gertrude stood with arms akimbo for a moment and then retorted in a tone of finality: "Well! When you spank me you will find that business is certainly beginning to pick up in this neighborhood."—The Argonaut.

3,000-Year-Old Story.

Do you know which is the oldest work of fiction?

It is the "Tale of Two Brothers," written over three thousand years ago by the librarian to King Merenptah, the supposed Pharaoh of the Exodus. The story was written for the amusement of the king's son, who afterward reigned as Seti the Second. He has signed his name in two places on the manuscript, and these are probably the only surviving autographs of a king of Egypt.

The "Tale of Two Brothers" is written on nineteen sheets of papyrus in a bold hieratic hand. It was purchased in 1857 by the British museum from a Mme. d'Orbigny.

Their Business.

"I read about a meeting of deaf and dumb painters. How do you think they got along?"
"It ought to be easy for painters to get along with the sign language."
